Kit-Way Has High Averages In Adams Co.

BY GINGER SECRIST MYERS
Adams Co. Correspondent

HANOVER — Wayne and Susan Reeder, Kit-Way Holsteins, have the high herd averages for milk, fat, and protein in Adams County. Their 68 Registered Holsteins averaged 20,589 pounds of milk, 765 pounds of butterfat, and 665 pounds of protein on their June test. Yet, according to Wayne, being first on the list or being tenth isn't what motivates this ambitious couple to spend most of their working hours in their dairy barn. Rather, they rank pride in their work and the opportunity to work together daily as a team a their prime rewards.

Wayne and Susan moved to Adams County three years ago from Frederick County, Maryland. They purchased an established herd north of Gettysburg that Wayne recalls, "needed some good care very badly." They rented the dairying facilities and started with a herd that was rolling at just short of 14,000 pounds of milk in November 1984.

They also brought with them from Maryland 23 of Wayne's cows that he had bred while working for 17 years for Marlin Hoff as a herdsman. Wayne credits his experiences with Hoff's herd as an invaluable learning opportunity. It was his success in managing herds

Wayne and Susan Reeder are dairying on a minimum investment. They rent their dairy facilities and buy in all their feedstuffs. They credit their constant cow care with their success in surpassing the 21,000 mark on their rolling herd average, the highest in Adams County.

Nutritionists Declare Cottonseed The Ideal Feed

BY PAT PURCELL

LANCASTER — Whole cotton seed may replace conventional feeds for the high-producing dairy herds, according to nutrition experts speaking to dairy farmers and feed mill representatives at the PACMA Dairy Nutrition and Herd Health Conference, held Tuesday at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center.

"We are feeding higher producing cows which need a quality feed, high in fiber, protein and energy and also nutrient dense. Conventional feeds of the past do not accomplish that. The whole cottonseed has all those things," said Dr. James Ferguson of the University of Pennsylvania at New Bolton Center.

The cottonseed, used for more than twenty years in some western states, in its whole form is somewhat of a newcomer to the northeast. What did find its way to the east was in the form of meal. Today with advancements in storage capabilities, transportation and marketing, area farmers have access to a constant and dependable source of what some nutritionists claim to be the ideal feedstuff for the high producing herds.

According to Glenn Shirk, Lancaster

County Agents Receive National Honors

LANCASTER — Jay Irwin, county extension director and Arnold Lueck, retired county agent will be awarded the Distinguished Service Award by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents at ceremonies next week in Fargo, North Dakota.

This honor is presented only once to an agricultural agent and the last time the award was brought to Lancaster County was more than twenty years ago, when it was presented to Max Smith.

Irwin is being cited specifically for his work in coordinating the efforts of hundreds of national and county agents and others during the avian flu disaster which devastated the county in 1983-84. The NACAA recognizes the hours Irwin devoted to the specific needs of the families which were affected by the crisis which saw nearly 16 million birds put to sleep. Irwin counseled families and established stress management meetings through out the county.

"It was a national tragedy and an enormous project. We had 500 people working on the project. It was a disease which we had no cure for. I was just helping with what I could do in a small way," said Irwin.

This is not the first national award for Irwin. In 1985 he received the United States Department of Agriculture's Distinguished Service Award for his work during the avian flu crisis. He

Lancaster Holstein Field Day

BY PAT PURCELL

ShellMar Acres and the Lancaster County Holstein Club hosted nearly 250 people Thursday evening for the 1987 Field day in a carnival-like celebration which marked the Lancaster County Holstein Club Field Day of 1987.

What was once known as a simple gathering for breeders took on a carnival-like atmosphere and became a night of fun and fellowship for the breeders and their and families which was the goal of this year's chairman, Lowell Brubaker.

"In the past the event has been held to draw breeders together, but we wanted an event which the entire family could enjoy, so we have tried to have something which would interest everyone," said Brubaker.

While the judging was taking place there games and prizes for ACRES CORN UPDATE: Corn futures recovered today and settled slightly higher in thin trading with strength coming from continued short covering. Shortly before noon, the September option dropped to $1.54, breaking yesterday lows while December came within 1-1/4 cents of its low of.

Pressure today came from follow through selling after weakness yesterday, but corn rebounded as beans slipped below $5.00, then quickly recovered on a lack of sell-stops to carry the downward momentum.

ACRES SOYBEAN UPDATE: Soybeans settled slightly higher buoyed by late commercial buying and local short covering. Activity today was called consolidation and bargain hunting after lower closes Monday and Tuesday with the bearish tone still intact. November beans slid through the $5.00 mark shortly before noon but held up on a lack of stops, with fresh selling exhausted on ideas that the market was entering overold conditions. Attention is now focused on the upcoming crop report, the first for 87-88 beans, with ideas this report will show a larger crop.

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures settled mixed with the neXz7 pressured by light#2 CVKkand the unwinding of wheat/corn spreads. A weakening tone to Gulf basis levels also weighed on futures, but deferreds were lifted by light bear spreading of March/Dec. Further losses were pared by favorable export bonus tenders and ideas that Tuesday's crop report will show a decline in Durum and white production and an increase in hard red and soft red production.

ACRES CATTLE UPDATE: Feeder cattle made new highs in all contracts as prices were powered by aggressive buying on stronger cash fundamentals and expectations for tighter replacement supplies. This rally in feeders limited losses in the Aug. & Oct. live cattle and boosted prices in the deferreds.

ACRES HOG UPDATE: August bellies repeated yesterday's performance and closed limit up again. During the last 6 sessions, August bellies have improved by 1,109 points linked to record tight supplies and large open interest.

In hogs August was boosted by expected increased retail demand for the upcoming labor day weekend and higher cash hog prices tomorrow.

ACCURATE FORAGE TESTING GIVES YOU A MORE RELIABLE DAIRY FEEDING PROGRAM

Not all testing is the same. The accuracy of your results depends on the thoroughness and professionalism of the people performing the analysis, and the precision of the testing equipment used.

In our Technical Services Laboratory, located in Lancaster, we perform more than 5,000 forage analyses a year for farms like yours, in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware. This service enables you to learn the exact nutrient values of your homegrown forages so that we can work with you to develop your best feeding program.

1. The analysis begins with a collection of a forage sample from your farm.

Samples are chemically digested to measure protein levels.

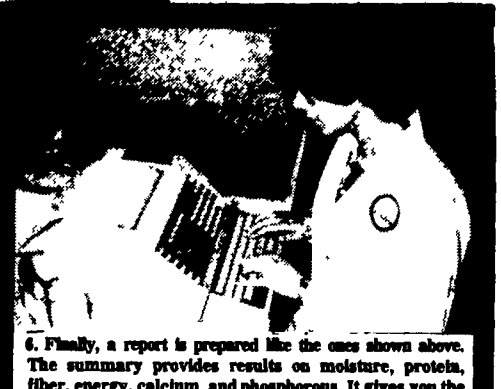

2. A sample is weighed seven times during the procedure to gather data.

3. Acid detergent fiber is another important indication of nutrient content.

3. NIR provides fast and accurate forage results.

6. Finally, a report is prepared like the ones shown above. The summary provides results on moisture, protein, fiber, energy, calcium, and phosphorous. It gives you the information you need to formulate your best dairy nutrition program.

Maximum feed efficiency and improved nutrition are two reasons for choosing Pennfield Dairy Program. Dairy men, you can count on Pennfield... for a better bottom line.

Corn That Stands Through The Fall

That corn crop you've labored over won't do you any good if the ears are lying on the ground at harvest time. But Funk's G-Hybrids will stand right through the harvest

And they'll not only stand, they'll produce record breaking yields. With varieties like G-4027, tops in its field in New York. Or G-4446, a record yielder in Pennsylvania. Or G-4626, a standout in southern PA and Delmarva areas

And each Funk's variety is backed by Hoffman research. We annually run more than 50 test plots to ensure that only the best yielding varieties reach your fields.

When you're looking for outstanding yields this planting season, call your local Hoffman seed representative. Or call Hoffman Seeds direct. We'll deliver a corn crop that stands through the fall

CUT HAY DRYING TIME

RAPID CURE

If you use a pull-type mower-conditioner, you can help the sun do a quicker job of drying your alfalfa by applying chemical drying agents while you cut. We can install a Harvest Tec push-and-spray bar directly in front of the reel of your mower-conditioner. It's designed to apply an even chemical coating with precise accuracy. So you apply the drying agents directly on alfalfa stems—not on delicate leaves that can become excessively dry and shatter. Optional pumping systems and tanks are available from Harvest Tec to complete the system.

HARVEST

Chemical Hay Conditioner

When sprayed on alfalfa hay during cutting, the RAPID CURE mixture penetrates the waxy cutin layer on the stems, increasing the rate of water evaporation from the hay.

RAPID CURE:

1. Reduces chance of rain damage
2. Improves the quality of hay
3. Gets hay off faster and allows more days for new hay crop to grow.

RAPID CURE Doesn't Cost...It Pays!!!

Both university and farm tests have proven RAPID CURE Chemical Hay Conditioner pays for itself. RAPID CURE will cost about $5.50 per acre. Applied as directed, RAPID CURE will increase hay yield by 120 to 130 lbs. per acre. This increased yield pays the cost of RAPID CURE.

ABC GROFF, INC. has a quality line of RAPID CURE applicators in stock to fit your needs.

misty morn may be a clear day

W.L.R., St. Paul, Minn.
Generally, it's a flight or volery of birds. To be specific, there's a murder of crows, a charm of finches, a cast of hawks, an exaltation of larks, a watch of nightingales, a covey of partridges, and a host of sparrows.
Home Hints: Wrap matches in aluminum foil to keep them dry during outdoor trips.

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: Beginning of week partly cloudy and seasonable, midweek clear and hot, end of week clear and very hot Greater New York-New Jersey: Week begins with light showers and seasonable temperatures, clear and hot mid through end of week Middle Atlantic Coastal: Beginning of week clear and hot, midweek warm with thunderstorms, end of week variable clouds and hot

IT'S TIME FOR....

It's time for profit in Agriculture. It's time the farmer profit from technology, rather than someone else.

Corn prices are a good example... you work hard to produce a quality crop... to see the local elevator take all the profit from you. Moisture dockage and storage fees leave little to pay you for your labor in today's world grain market.

AeroDry - Grain Management Specialists have designed a way for you to put the elevator's profit into your pocket. With the AeroDry System, you don't pay anyone for moisture or storage, but yourself.

AeroDry uses natural fan forced air, controlled by computer, to dry your crop - not high heat. By using mother nature's way, AeroDry means less shrink and higher test weights. You can save up to 75% on high energy bills, and have the flexibility to sell when the price is right.

Eliminate elevator costs, high energy bills, and excess labor. Make money with improved quality and marketing flexibility.

America Thinks Agriculture

We often wonder what the American public thinks about agriculture. Last year AgFocus, A Project Of America's Governor Incorporated, tried to help answer that question with a detailed study by the Gallup Organization.

They wanted to pinpoint America's understanding of various key issues and attitudes toward these issues as they relate to the business of farming.

The basic survey showed that: Six careers were more popular with respondents than farming, and only three were less popular. Similarly, there were seven careers they would prefer for their children above farming and only one they would like less.

While respondents in limited numbers cited some advantages to farming, such as being self-employed, several counterbalancing disadvantages were cited, such as poor income and weather uncertainty. In assessing the nature of the farmer's life, respondents overwhelmingly saw it as hard physical work, risky, and at the mercy of price changes. A majority also felt that family-owned farms will give way to big-business farms.

Regardless of where they live, a majority of respondents had close contacts in the past or present with relatives or friends who are farmers, a substantial proportion had once worked on or lived on a farm, a small minority were currently in farming, and the few who had owned a farm in the past were concentrated in upper age brackets.

While over half the respondents were willing to estimate farm incomes, the resulting median estimate for average yearly gross income was lower than that indicated by available statistics. Conversely, the median estimate for average yearly net income was higher than statistics would indicate. Few respondents were close in estimating either the percentage of the nation's total population engaged in farming or the percentage involved in agribusiness as a whole (agriculture and other food-related jobs). Similarly, few respondents, correctly estimated agriculture's contribution to the Gross National Product.

A majority of the respondents saw positive effects on the food supply from modern farming practices, citing increased production most frequently, while a small minority saw negative effects. A substantial majority pointed to effects on the environment; but of these few could name a specific practice, and those who could mentioned the use of pesticides and insecticides most often. A majority of those who saw effects on the environment described them as negative. A majority said modern methods affect food quality, but they split about equally as to whether the effects were positive or negative. A strong majority said that they serve to raise prices, while a minority felt that by helping to increase production, the methods help to lower prices. Not many of the respondents saw effects other than those on supply, environment, quality, and price; and a near majority thought that

FARM FORUM OUR READERS WRITE

Editor:

After reading the article entitled, "Lightning--Don't Take Chances With It," August 1 issue, I found it surprising that the author is still alive. The common sense safety tips lacked common sense and safety.

1. If you are riding a horse when a thunderstorm hits, dismount and get away from the horse. If you crouch next to the horse and lightning strikes the horse, the lightning may very well jump from the horse to you or electrify the ground enough to kill you.

2. When driving a car, stay inside the car in the middle of the car. The tires do not provide insulation. If lightning hits the car, the electricity will follow the metal and ground through the tires. As long as you are not touching the sides of the car, you are relatively safe. After a lightning bolt travels 1,000 feet through air, why anyone would think six inches of rubber would insulate the car is beyond me. The same holds true for a tractor. If you are in a field sitting on top of six tons of steel and a thunderstorm comes up, get off the tractor and head for low ground or shelter. The tires won't protect you. After all, wood is an excellent insulator of electricity, but lightning frequently hits trees.

One other item that wasn't mentioned is that lightning sometimes gives a few seconds warning before it strikes. A sudden buildup of heat, or your hair standing on end, or a blue glow around an object is the buildup of static electricity before lightning strikes. This happens only seconds before it strikes. So jump for low ground.

To Review the New Pesticide Control Act

Recently enacted amendments to the Pennsylvania Pesticide Control Act, have brought about some important changes. There are new requirements for certification and recertification for private applicators. To be certified, the private applicator shall pass a written examination administered at an approved test site by the secretary or his agent.

For your convenience, exam sites have been established statewide. Contact your nearest Penna. Department of Agriculture Regional Office for details. In our area the Southeast-Central Penna. Office at Summerdale's number is 717-787-3400.

A private applicator shall be recertified as competent with respect to the use and handling of restricted use pesticides upon the successful completion of an update training program as determined by the secretary. The program shall include, at a minimum, a review of certification topics, but shall NOT include a written exam.

All update training programs must be pre-approved by the P.D.A. with a meeting number assigned. Private applicators will need to acquire six (6) Core and six (6) Category credits during the three years preceeding the expiration date of their permits. Training requirements are as follows: Core Areas include Labeling, Safety and Health, Environmental Protection, Equipment, Application, Laws and Regulation... Category areas include Pest Identification, Pesticides and Integrated Pest Management.

It's important to note that if your license expires September 30, 1987, you'll need 4 credits (2 Core and 2 Category); if it expires September 30, 1988, you'll need 8 credits (4 Core and 4 Category) and March 31, 1990, you'll need the 12 credits (6 Core and 6 Category).

To Plan For Fall Wheat Seeding

The time is fast approaching for our wheat growers to be making plans for their fall seeding. Some of the local wheat may not be satisfactory due to the weed seeds found in some fields this year. If you use local wheat, be sure you know the source and have it cleaned and treated for disease. Also, if you had a scab problem this year, do not plant wheat in the same field this fall; the fungus can remain in the soil.

Certified seed would be the best route to take if you experienced any problem with scab or powdery mildew this year. The extra cost for certified seed is well worth it to help insure a good crop next summer.

To Renovate Old Pastures

Late August and early September are good times to establish a new pasture, or renovate an old one. In fact, this is a good time of the year to make any pasture or lawn seeding. The old sod should be destroyed by cultivation or by a herbicide. After the soil has been treated with lime and fertilizer, according to a complete soil test, it can be seeded and should produce good grazing for next summer.

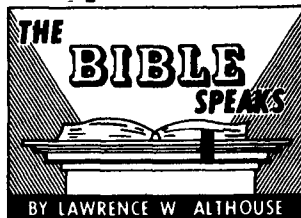

The advantages of a fall seeding is to permit time for the new plants to become established before the 1988 hot weather arrives. The cool, moist fall months should give the plants a good start. The Agronomy Guide lists some good seeding recommendations.

To Stay In Touch With Creditors

Maintaining a close relationship with your creditors and telling them about your financial status won't likely ease your debts, but will ease your creditors' mind. Creditors get concerned when someone owes a sizable bill and they never see him. By staying close to your creditors, you may be able to write another payment plan. Some bankers will renegotiate the payment schedule and add a year or two, thus cutting down the monthly or annual payments.

You may also need to visit about refinancing. In most cases you will be paying a higher rate of interest and it may not be beneficial, but it still deserves a look. It's worth the time and effort to visit with your creditors.

The Cooperative Extension Service is an affirmative action, equal opportunity educational institution.

CHOSEN BUT UNCHOOSING

August 9, 1987

Background Scripture: Romans 9 through 11
Devotional Reading: 10 1-4

Romans 9 through 11 is one of those passages of the Bible that Christians have traditionally used to make a case against the Jews. Paul is very specific in these three chapters: the Jews, God's chosen people, have failed to respond to God's Son, and thus have violated their special status with the Lord. Even Paul's assurances that it is not too late for them to be saved, if they will simply respond to Christian preaching and accept Christ, are nevertheless powerful ammunition for those who want to castigate the people of Jewish faith. God's "chosen people" have not chosen to follow the one for whom they were chosen.

WHO IS "CHOSEN"?
The irony is that today this passage from Romans in a condemnation, not just of the Jews, but even more of Christians. Paul's point in Romans 9-11 is that, because of their special status with God, the Jews should have recognized and accepted the Christ. Of all people, Paul is saying, they should have known who and what he was. It was not lack of knowledge, but of a willful misunderstanding that led them to default on their relationship with God. Paul asks: "Have they not heard?" and then quickly answers: "Indeed they have (10:18). The Jews heard, "But they have not all heeded the gospel" (10:16).

Actually, then, according to Paul, it is not that God has rejected the Jews, but that they have thus far failed to heed his revelation in Christ. Paul furthermore makes it clear that he is not condemning the Jews: "Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for them is that they will be saved. I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but it is not enlightened" (10:1).

THE SUBSTITUTE

Could not these words of Paul be just as appropriate for us today? As I look around the world at all kinds of Christian groups, the problem is generally not a lack of zeal, but of enlightenment. Lots of Christians, it seems, have actually let zeal become a substitute for enlightenment. So, what we need to do when we

781 and 881 Forage Harvesters

High-capacity, dependability, and everything else you need to help you produce high quality feed easier and more efficiently — that's what you get with Case International 781 and 881 forage harvesters.

The 12-knife cutterhead assures uniform cutting and big capacity. Electric remote controls (standard equipment) permit fingertip command from the tractor — just touch a switch to change spout direction, control angle of discharge, or start, reverse or "inch" feed elements for non-plug handling of heavy crops. Aggressive feed rolls adjust automatically to crop volume. Hydra-Sharp™ hydraulic sharpening and rebeveling system provides uniform cutting with minimum horsepower. Equal-angle hitch assures long driveline knuckle life and smooth operation, even on sharp turns.

600 Forage Blower

Fills 100-plus feet (30.5 m) silos at capacities up to 180 tons of corn silage (162.9 mt) per hour with no crop drop-off. Combines a unique hopper design and a 12-inch (305 mm) auger with 30-degree entry to the 60-inch (1.5 m) rotor. Cupped paddles provide a center discharge for high-capacity blowing.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT ABOUT.....?

Have you ever thought about how you could make an extra 50 cents per bushel on your corn crop? If you have, you've probably thought about how much it costs you to haul and store your crop at the elevator.

CHARGES...CHARGES...CHARGES... first you have to wait in long lines, while you need to be in the field. There's the moisture dockage, which never seems to be fair. Last but not least, the storage fees, which can take the profit right out of your crop.

It's time you started to profit from your own grain management & storage system. Aerodry - Grain Management Specialists can show you how.

AeroDry uses natural fan forced air, controlled by computer, to dry your corn. There's no high heat, only mother nature's natural way to remove moisture. The computer monitors and controls air flow, so you don't have to baby-sit day or night.

AeroDry eliminates high heat temperatures to dry your grain. Using natural air, your grain will have less shrink and higher test weights. You won't "cook" the quality out of your crop.

Farm Proven from the midwest to the east coast - AeroDry Grain Management Systems... FARM TECHNOLOGY FOR FARM PROFIT.

Keystone Chapter Conservation Farmers

Paul and Joseph Musser were honored at the Keystone Chapter, Soil Conservation Society of America (SCSA) at the outstanding Conservation Farmers for 1987. This meeting was held on July 10, 1987 at Williamsport stated John Akers, District Conservationist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and a member of the Society from Franklin County.

The Mussers were recognized for the conservation work that they have applied on the 352 acres of land that they own. Some of the conservation work included an agricultural waste storage and management system. 214 acres of contour strip farming, 3800 feet of diversions and terraces and 1200 feet of grassed waterways and 54 acres of bay and pasture management.

Paul is the father and within the past year has retired and turned the everyday operation of the farm over to his son Joseph. Joseph is getting his two sons involved in the farm.

The Mussers were the Franklin County 1986 outstanding Conservative Farmers of the year and spoke at the District's Annual Meeting last September on their conservation practices.

Penn State
Business Seminar of the Week

BY JESSE G. COOPER
Farm Management
Extension Specialist

Recently Erie County Extension Agent George Wilcox wrote an excellent article in his local newsletter Dairy & Udder News that I'm about to share with Lancaster Farming readers.

In fact I would class it as "must" reading for dairy farmers or anyone else searching for answers to our national surplus milk problem.

Don't overextend yourself — getting too big can be hard on you and your industry.

Here's an easy question. True or false: High producing cows help reduce the milk surplus? A quick glance at the following chart may change your mind:

I'm not naive enough to think that we could solve our surplus problem (currently running about 5 percent, and high enough to cause support price cuts of 75 cents per cwt by January 1988) by increasing Pennsylvania's average production from the current 13,000 pounds to 16,000 or 17,000 pounds per cow. Fifty stall barns will continue to house 50 cows regardless of how much they produce. But, I do know some herds which have gradually expanded to 60 cows to pay the bills and are producing 13 or 14,000 pounds of milk. These might be better off as 40 cow 18,000 pound herds and they would be putting 90,000 pounds less milk on the market besides.

Think of the pressures eliminating 20 cows would relieve. Milking time would be reduced by about 40 minutes. For many, this would mean getting out of the barn

Herd Average	Cows Needed For $25,000 Net Income	Lbs. Milk Put On the Market
10,000	151	1,500,000
12,000	72	864,000
14,000	51	714,000
16,000	40	640,000
18,000	30	540,000
20,000	20	400,000

in time to watch the 8 p.m. TV programs. Ten acres of corn would not have to be planted. Fifteen acres of hay would not have to be dried. This may mean that even Erie County would have enough sun so that you could get the hay made between late May and mid-June. Maybe you could quit renting that extra land which is five miles from home. And, with 10 less replacements, your heifer barn might once again be big enough.

I realize that nobody is likely to reduce their herd size. But, milk prices have already started to drop. Blend prices are now close to the $12 mark and with anticipated support price reductions, could be close to $11 by next spring. With grain prices expected to remain low, it might be a good idea to see if you can pay the bills by increasing production rather than by adding more cows.

What Does It Take To Have A 20,000 Pound Herd?

First, you have to make increasing production your primary goal. Everything you do needs to be evaluated based on whether it is affordable, and able to make milk. You have to pay attention to details. You have to plan ahead so that things get done on time. It means getting the machinery ready in the winter so that you can have the corn planted and sprayed in time to make quality hay. It means breeding AI even though a bull would be easier. It means keeping enough records so that you know what is working and what is not. And, it means averaging 65 pounds of milk per cow per day!

WHAT DO YOU DO FIRST? Forage Quality

Milk cannot be made on grain alone. Nor, can grain make up for poor quality forage. Things would be easier if we lived in a good alfalfa area. But, even grass (which we can grow) can make good hay if cut at an early stage of maturity. The best quality hay is made in late May and early June.

Clover and trefoil make almost as high quality feed as alfalfa. The main problem is their lower yielding capabilities. But, the high feed quality makes it worth the extra effort it takes to grow and manage them. With good management, you should be able to get three, and maybe even four cuttings from these legume-grass mixtures if the first crop is taken off on time. Thus, the yield you lose by starting early will likely be more than made up later on.

Dairy Replacements

Poorly grown heifers seldom make good cows. One cannot reduce heifer raising costs by not feeding quality forage and adequate grain. Heifers raised on "dairy herd leftovers" frequently freshen at 2.5 to 3 years of age and in the end are more costly replacements than a well-grown 2 year old.

Erie County has more small poorly grown heifers than we should. This is one area which is costing our dairymen a lot of money.

Performance Records

Good production records are needed for two reasons. First they are needed to determine which animals are producing enough to pay the bills. Secondly (this is the more important reason) good production records are needed to monitor production performance so that you can tell what is working and/or when things are going wrong while the problem is still small and easily solved.

DHIA is one of the best means of obtaining these needed performance records. Nationally, DHIA herds average almost 5,000 pounds more milk per cow per year than non-DHIA herds. This one management tool alone has the potential of turning a 13,000 pound herd into an 18,000 pound herd. Yet, more than 60 percent of the Erie County dairymen are not taking advantage of this.

Nutrition

Correcting a nutrition problem will produce one of the quickest returns on investment available to the dairyman. Frequent forage testing and feed programming is a very low cost investment capable of making you big money.

Genetic Improvement

Genetic improvement has to be part of a long-range plan. Currently, we are gaining almost 100 pounds of milk per year in genetics alone. At that rate, one will soon fall behind if he doesn't have a breeding program which will enable him to keep pace with the industry. This means using AI on every animal, including the heifers.

A dairyman also needs to be able to evaluate the genetic producing potential of each animal in his milking herd. Currently, cow indexes (DHIA is needed here, too) are the best way to do this. But, the animals' sire must be known to determine indexes. Of the 67 Pennsylvania counties, Erie County currently has the second highest percentage of animals sired by unknown bull (UNK0000). This situation needs to be corrected quickly.

Tight economics are forcing us to become better dairymen and better businessmen. Many regard this to be the curse of the times. It will cause you less psychological stress if you view it as a challenge. But, the necessary adjustments will still be tough.

Northern Berks 4-H Dairy News

BY AMY PHILLIPS
Club Reporter

Our 4-H meeting was held at Willow Creek Animal Hospital. There were 16 members present at the meeting. Jeff Davis, Vice President called the meeting to order. Amy Phillips read the Treasury report. We have future plans for a milk machine at the Kutztown Fair August 11, to the 16th. And a milk carton boat for the boat race to be held in August at the Grange Mill Park in Reading.

Dr. Nirschl demonstrated how to trim feet on David Nirschl's 4-H animal. Dr. Nirschl also gave the 4-H members a tour of the Willow Creek Animal Hospital.

The next meeting will be held October 22, 1987 at Phil and Donna Werley's farm, just outside of Yoder Heights. This meeting will feature a Halloween party, the meeting will also feature Chris States, 4-H Extension Agent. She will be speaking about what to include in your project book. Bring your books. There will be no meeting in August and September since the members will be at the Kutztown and Reading fairs. A get together is planned for the evening of dairy judging for all 4-H members at the Kutztown Fair.

Western Holstein Champion Show

BY NANCY KUNICK
Crawford Co. Correspondent

"The most I can say about the grand champion today is that she was sired by the son of the grand champion cow at the first championship show right here 15 years ago," said Ed Doeberliener of Jamestown.

Doeberliener claimed premier exhibitor for his Queens-Manor holsteins at the 15th Western Pennsylvania Holstein Championship Show held July 31, 1987. He is also part owner of the grand champion.

It was August 7, 1973, when the first championship show was held in Pennsylvania. And this year it returned to its origin Mercer County 4-H Park.

It was in '73 that C. Roseland-vale Echo Pat entered by David Floch of Jamestown was named champion. '87 C. Feederlane Patriot Dolly sired by Floch Farms Patriot (twin) became champion. "Dolly" owned by Queens-Manor, James Siedel and Donald Green, experienced a near miracle. Six weeks after calving she was down for six days. She has been up just three weeks and was scored 87 points on July 21st. "We're fortunate we didn't lose her," claimed

Doeberliener. "It appears the royal treatment she was given paid off."

The first place four year old was given the honor by Judge Dave Bachman, national director of the Holstein Association in Sheboygan, Wisconsin. He is also the owner of Pinehurst and Lakehurst Holsteins. Les Firth, Mercer County agent, said that Bachman praised the extreme high quality seen at this size of show.

Morrell Farms of Cochranton claimed reserve grand champion, aged cow, best three females and best bred and owned classes to garner premier breeder honors. Bob Morrell explained that the first place aged cow named reserve grand champion Ebe-Tide Triple Threat Flora (twin) EX91 was a member of the All Pennsylvania Produce in 1986. All 10 animals Morrells exhibited were home bred. Morrells are well known for their fine breeding and for the first time one premier breeder at the state show this spring.

SEEDING ALFALFA IN AUGUST

Seeding alfalfa this month? August is considered by many as the ideal time to seed alfalfa, either on a prepared seedbed or by no-tilling into a small grain stubble. And while over the years, because of changes in rotations, more farmers have switched to seeding in the spring, August continues to be a good time to establish this valuable crop.

There are several advantages for seeding at this time of year - generally fewer insect problems and often times weeds are less of a factor. Moisture is usually satisfactory in August and September for successful establishment. This year, depending on where you farm, moisture may or may not be a problem.

NO-TILL SEEDINGS IN STUBBLE

Many growers have found that no-tilling alfalfa into a small grain stubble in August is one of the most fool proof seeding techniques for this time of year. Moisture, either too much or too little, is less of a limiting factor in this type of seeding.

But there are several rules you should follow to assure a successful no-till establishment. These include:

1. Competition from other plants must be eliminated or minimized.
2. Heavy thatch and plant growth tall enough to shade the soil surface must be removed.
3. You must protect the seedlings from insects, especially if you seed in sod.
4. The soil fertility must be medium to high with pH above 6.5.

5. Seeding date is not as critical with a no-till compared with a conventional seeding. Never-the-less, except for seedings made in the southernmost part of our area, seedings should be made before September 1.

CONVENTIONAL SEEDINGS

If you're seeding alfalfa this month on a prepared seedbed a firm seedbed is a must. If the seedbed is not firm, moisture may be critical and tender alfalfa roots will grow into air pockets between soil particles and die. That firm, fine and mellow seedbed is also essential to permit uniform shallow coverage of seed.

HOW ABOUT INOCULATION?

I'd also like to review with you briefly the importance of proper inoculation.

Under favorable conditions and a continuous legume cropping history, the right kind of and adequate amount of bacteria may already be present. Thus, theoretically, under these conditions additional inoculation may not be necessary.

However, in case of low pH or low fertility, drought, high soil temperatures, or persistent rains, the number of bacteria may be reduced sharply. One or more these situations may have occurred in your area this summer.

Under such conditions, and especially when planting alfalfa for the first time on new land, or if 4 or 5 years have passed since the previous alfalfa crop, seed definitely should be inoculated with fresh inoculant just prior to sowing. A good rule of thumb is still "when in doubt, inoculate."

Inoculation adds a fresh culture of effective rhizobia strains to seed and soil. Thus, rhizobia can begin working as the seed germinates and the plants start growing. And since protein content in legumes is directly related to nitrogen content effective inoculation is a major key to improving yield and quality.

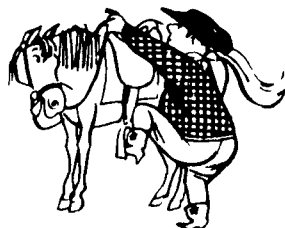

PRE-INOCULATION

Just a word about pre-inoculation. Much of the alfalfa seed currently marketed is already pre-inoculated with the proper rhizobia strain. Newer pre-inoculation techniques, such as the clay-based Dormal process, have proven highly effective and have extended the shelf life over conventional humus-based pre-inoculants.

Never-the-less, pre-inoculated seed carried over from spring for August seedings should, in my opinion, be reinoculated just prior to seeding, especially this year with the drought and excessively high temperatures experienced in most areas.

Remember, when in doubt inoculate.

Caster County Extension Dairy Agent, half of the county's farmers may be using whole cottonseed as a feed source in the near future, not only because of its qualities, but due to the increased availability and to the efforts of suppliers and groups like PACMA.

"They (cottonseed sellers) have found a new market and they are catering to it. Groups like PACMA who can contract for big orders can demand high quality. The sellers would not want a bargeload returned," said Shirk.

J. Michael Breedlove, President of Cottonseed, Inc. of Corinth, Mississippi, said that his company is looking forward to contracting with PACMA because the association covers a wide base of customers and Cottonseed, Inc. could assure a constant supply of the product of high quality and at a competitive price.

Determining Feed Requirements

Feed requirements change over the lactation period making it necessary for the dairy farmer, who mixes his own feed or the miller who is computing the best mix for his customer, to understand all of the aspects of feed ingredients.

Productivity, flexibility of distribution of the feed and the feed ingredients, proper balance, affects on health of the dairy herd and nutrient density are of prime consideration according to Dr. David Galligan, University of Pennsylvania at the New Bolton Center.

Nutrition and food requirements vary with lactation cycle. During the early lactation cycle the cow needs feed which is high in energy.

It is crucial at this point to have the proper diet because the animal's body needs more food than the animal is willing to eat. When the animal is using more food than it wants to take in, the animal needs a high energy density food.

Need may cause the farmer to put a more high energy source like grain into the feed. However, Galligan warns that a mix which is 60 percent grain can cause serious problems. He stressed the importance of not overfeeding grains, although the farmer may be tempted to do this. The key is to find a high fiber feed and high energy feed in the early lactation period and not drown out fiber. Whole cottonseed is a nutrient dense feed source with a high fiber content, important to the high producing cow, especially during the early lactation period.

Feed Affects Reproduction

Success or failure in breeding can be affected by the what the cow is being fed, according to Dr. James Ferguson, V.M.D. of the University of Pennsylvania at the New Bolton Center. For the high producing dairy cow, protein is a prime source of feed in order to continue high production. However, over feeding can also lead to adverse affects and cause the conception rate to drop which eventually translates into dollars and cents in the form of repeated breeder calls.

When deciding on proper feed mix it is important to consider the utilization of protein in the body. Not all protein is digested and absorbed. Bypass protein is not degradable in the rumen while degradable protein is digested and absorbed in the rumen. To fill the need to decrease protein without decreasing energy, the dairy farmer need feeds higher in bypass protein.

According to Ferguson if the degradable protein is increased by as little as 1/4 lb. that is enough to cause the conception rate to drop. Age is also an important factor in how cows respond to degradable protein. The older cows' conception rate in studies markedly diminished with more degradable protein.

An optimal diet of balanced degradable and undegradable protein suggested a mix 18 percent crude protein which supplied 40 percent of bypass protein and 60 percent of degradable protein.

The impact on a 50-cow herd, according to Ferguson's studies, would be that 10 cows would require four breeder services or more. Which means that there is the probability that a cow with the improper balanced diet was 2 1/2 times more likely to be a problem breeder. This means increased costs which could be up to $60 per cow, with no increase in milk production.

On three herds, two herds were fed a diet with a 30/70 breakdown of bypass protein and degradable protein. The third herd was fed the recommended balance of 40/60. The results showed that while the herd fed the 40/60 diet had a failure rate of only 4.4 percent, the other two herds fed the 30/70 diet had a failure rate of 33 to 34.5 percent.

Ferguson added that fats have a higher energy content and have great benefits to increase conception rates.

The Better Cottonseed?

"Whole cottonseed is a unique feedstuff because it is moderately high in protein, the fiber is highly digestible, fat levels are relatively high, and as such is a high energy source. When all these factors are considered, whole cottonseed may be considered an ideal feedstuff since all three nutrients are combined into one product." —from Lactational responses and comparative digestibility of Fuzzy and Delinted Whole Cottonseed by Dr. William Chalupa, Dr. Alexander J. Kutches, and Dr. John Trei.

Dr. William Chalupa, University of Pennsylvania, at New Bolton Center conducted tests on dairy herds in California, where whole cottonseed has been being fed to that state's dairy cows since the early 1960's. The purpose of Chalupa's studies was to determine the benefits of delinted cottonseed over the fuzzy cottonseed.

According to Chalupa this study suggested that the delinted whole cottonseed was not only a satisfactory substitute for the fuzzy cottonseed, it was superior to the fuzzy in most cases. Both raised the fat test level on an already good fat test level. However, the delinted seed did increase milk production significantly over the fuzzy seed.

The first period of testing showed the delinted fat test at 3.57 and the fat lbs. at 1.93, while the fuzzy produced a 3.54 test and 1.86 fat lbs. Milk production for the delinted seed was a 54.2 and for the fuzzy seed was 52.7. As computed by Chalupa there was a $.23 per cow economic advantage from feeding the delinted seed over the fuzzy seed.

Period 2 results also showed a more than two pound increase in milk production. The delinted seed produced 53.5 lbs., while the fuzzy produced 51.3 lbs. However, the fuzzy seed had a fat test results at 3.78, while the delinted seed had a test result of 3.68. This computed to a $.20 per cow economic advantage from feeding the delinted seed over the fuzzy seed.

While the fuzzy whole cottonseed and the delinted whole cottonseed produced similar results for the fat test, the delinted seed did show an increase by 2 lbs. in milk production.

Chalupa recommends to the farmer considering using the whole cottonseed as a feedstuff a daily ration of five to seven pounds per cow.

According to Dwight Allshouse, marketing coordinator for the Pennsylvania Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association, known as PACMA, farmers and mill operators can order cottonseed through PACMA's program of forward pricing.

"We've got up to 15 months in advance of delivery to establish a price for buying or selling. We can establish guaranteed prices to the feed mill so they can guarantee prices to their customers. The delivery time and the payment are guaranteed by PACMA.

Of utmost importance in utilizing the forward pricing which PACMA offers is that the farmer and/or the feed mill operator must know his cost of doing business so the price which is guaranteed to him by PACMA will also guarantee him a certain amount of profit.

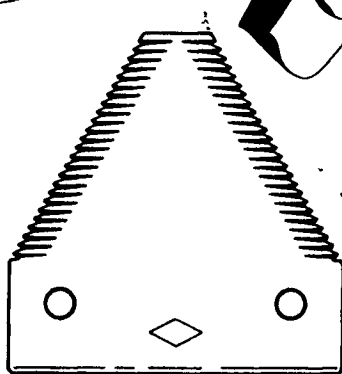

Cottonseed prices will be able to be locked in through PACMA in harvest season to protect interests for the coming market year. According to Allshouse it is bene-

Arlinda Chief Daughter Tops Blair Sale

BETSY A. YODER
Franklin Co. Correspondent
MARTINSBURG — Many dairymen left the hot, dry hayfields a little earlier than usual to gather in the cool evening hours for the Annual Blair Holstein Sale held July 31.

Their efforts were rewarded with a fine line-up a quality holsteins. Twenty-eight animals, ranging in age from young calves to mature, milking cows with sound pedigrees, sold for an average of $1,281.

Topping the sale was a stylish Pawnee Farm Arlinda Chief daughter, just recently fresh. Her dam, a Valiant daughter, is scored 83 and has a four-year-old record of 24,240 of milk and 866 of fat. Her Elevation granddam is Excellent 93, top record of 129,049 milk, 4.3 percent test and 1256 of fat and a lifetime production of 220,000 pounds of milk. This sharp heifer was consigned by John Burket of Burket Falls Farm and bought by Carl Gates of Warriors Mark, Pa., for $1,775.

Commanding the second high bid was Blackcrest Persuader Meg consigned by Blackcrest Farms of Altoona. She is a four-year-old daughter of Plushanski Persuader, which produced 19,940 of milk, 4.3 percent test and 863 of fat as a three year old. Fresh just a month, ago she produced 89 pounds of 5.3 milk for the tester. Her dam is a Marvex daughter with a top record of 24,030 of milk and 990 of fat. Seventeen hundred dollars bought her for Barry and Carol Coffman of Normalville, Pa. The Coffmans also bought three other animals to keep her company on the ride home.

A Chairman daughter consigned by the Oswald Brothers of Tyrone, Pa., was the third high animal selling for a top bid of $1,675. Not yet fresh, this tall, growthy heifer bred to Harmony-Corners Simon-Twin for September shows the promise to be a top quality cow. Her dam, a Valiant daughter, produced 19,313 of 4.6 milk and 882 of fat as a four year old. Gordon England of Williamsburg, was the top bidder.

A Thonyma Electra daughter, consigned by Lewis Berkley of Berlin, Pa., was the fourth high-selling animal. Selling just fresh this fancy cow had produced 24,996 of milk and 846 of fat as a three year old. Her dam, quite a milk cow, produced a top record of 25,110 of milk and 902 of fat as a three year old. George Mornings-tar of Entriken, Pa., bought this high potential animal for $1,650.

Gordon England also bought the fifty high-selling animal for $1,575. Just fresh a month, this Joyland Forcaster Starlite daughter exhibits promise for both high production and a good classification score. Her dam has a top record of 23,850 of milk and 815 of fat. Con-signing this heifer was North View Farm of Berlin.

Many of the fine animals in the sale lineup were kept together for their trip to a new barn as people bought more than just one animal. Harold Summers of Martinsburg was one of these people. He bought four high-quality, spring-ing heifers to upgrade his herd and helped to make the Blair Holstein Sale a success.

recently celebrated his 20th anniversary with the agricultural extension service. In 1981 he succeeded Max Smith as county extension director.

Lueck, who retired in December as the county horticulture and agronomy agent, is being honored for his work in promoting and maintaining the profitability of farming speciality and cash crops in order to provide a diversified supplemental farm income.

Lueck grew up on a Wisconsin dairy farm and joined the Lancaster County Cooperative Extension Service in 1961. Before becoming a county agent he worked as a high school agricultural teacher and a research aide at Penn State University.

A third Pennsylvania extension agent is being honored. Jacob Guffey of Bradford County has been read these words today is to put "Christian" wherever the word "Jews" appears in Paul's letter, for the apostle makes it clear that it is the followers, of Christ who have become God's true "chosen people." Therefore, if we are God's elect, using one of Paul's terms, we stand under the same judgement that hovers over the Jew. Even more than they, we have heard the gospel preached and we have understood quite well what God in Christ is asking of us. We too need Paul's warning: "Lest you be wise in your own conceits..." (11: 23). So are not these words even more a judgement upon us: "But they have not all heeded the gospel"? Thus, we too have been "chosen," but the real question is whether we have chosen to follow the Christ.

How can we tell "if the shoe fits..."?

The answer: the test is today what it has always been: Who have you chosen to be Lord of your life?

NOTE: Rev. Althouse will lead a 9-day tour of the Holy Land, March 11-20, 1988. If interested, contact him at: 1st United Methodist Church, Ross & Harwood Sts., Dallas, TX 75201.

VERTA + $137

Provides excellent resistance to the four major alfalfa diseases - Bacterial wilt, Fusarium wilt, Anthracnose and Phytophthora root rot and good resistance to Verticillium wilt. Add winter-hardiness and fast recovery after cutting, and you can see why we're excited about this variety. VERTA+ has excellent yield potential backed by University Tests.

HI-PHY $131

Where Phytophthora root rot is a problem, Hi-Phy is the variety to plant. It has high marks for both Phytophthora and bacterial wilt resistance. It also has some resistance to alfalfa weevils. Plants are dark green with leafy top growth for high quality feed.

CLASSIC $117

Classic looks great in state trials, including fast recovery and early spring growth. Late winter dormancy and fast regrowth often make an additional cutting possible. Classic has good winterhardiness and resistance to bacterial wilt. Take a good look at this variety for the acres you plan to seed this year.

Braunds Take Holstein Premier Breeder/Exhibitor

Troy County Open Dairy Shows

BY BARBARA MILLER
Bradford Co. Correspondent
TROY — Although udder perfection was on the minds of many exhibitors to the Troy Fair Open Dairy Shows on July 30 and 31, utter perfection in viewing and exhibiting was more nearly attained through the construction of a new light and airy 70x110 foot show arena with its skylighted roof and connecting walkways to the barn.

Top honors in the Holstein competition went to Braund Valley Farms, Troy, Pa., who was awarded the grand champion trophy. The Braund family, Elwood and Leatrice; son, Gary and wife Jo; and daughter Trudy and husband Paul Sheely, also took home the premier breeder and premier exhibitor banners.

The grand champion Holstein, Braund-Valley Chairman Emma, a two-year-old, was sired by Cal-Clark Board Chairman and the daughter of Braund-Valley Pete Echo-ET. She is the granddaughter of a cow that was a previous grand champion at the Troy Fair. Emma, according to grandson, Jay Braund, placed second at the state 4-H show last year in the summer yearling class. The Braunds, who have previously taken home the premier breeder and exhibitor awards, milk 99 cows and farm 550 acres.

The reserve grand champion Holstein prize went to Mt. Glen Farms owned by Ben and Dean Jackson, Columbia Cross Roads, Pa. Their Mt. Glenn Can-Am Mitten, a three year old, whose dam was Mt. Glen Falco Mimi, and sire, Woodbine Can-Am Twin, had the best udder in the show. Ben said her DHIA rating currently stands at 20,050M, 3.8 test, with 776 pounds of fat and she is classified at VG 87.

According to Ben, he and son, Dean, and hired man Kevin Poust milk approximately 76 cows and farm 482 acres on their family farm. Uniquely, 18 of Jackson's 76 cows are registered Guernseys with which the Jacksons also won top honors at the open show.

Jersey Honors

William Eick, Columbia Cross Roads, placed first in the Jersey Breed with his homebred four year old, Windy Acres Rocky Dale. The grand champion Jersey's dam has a record of 15,987M, 734F, and Eick says Dale is projected at 14,436M. Eick, who says he has been showing cattle since he was 10 years old, won the 1987 premier breeder for Jerseys which he won in previous years along with premier exhibitor for several years. The premier exhibitor banner in the Jersey breed this year was awarded to Daniel Barto, Wysox, Pa.

The Reserve grand champion Jersey trophy went to Robert O'Brien, Wyalusing, Pa. for his four year old entry, Fascinator Rita of Sunny Slope.

Guernsey Honors

Jacksons Tex Pansy, the grand champion, is a two year old and full sister to this year's junior champion, Jacksons Tex Precious, which won All American as a junior calf in 1986. The reserve junior champion Guernsey, a senior yearling heifer, Jackson's Herald Ossie, was also shown at the All American Show.

The Jacksons are no strangers to the winner's circle, having shown the grand champion Guernsey at the Troy Fair for the past three years. In addition, the Jacksons took home both the premier breeder and exhibitor banners for the Guernsey breed in 1987.

Reserve Grand Champion trophy in the Guernsey division went to Wright Brothers of Canton with their entry in the six year old and over class who was also judged the best udder.

Adams And Dauphin Holstein Breeders Meet On Tour

Herd management, new technology, and public relations were among the important lessons studied by members of the Adams County Holstein Club during the annual tour on Wednesday, July 29, 1987. Hosted by Holstein breeders in northern Dauphin County and Extension Agent Bruce Kreider, the tour stopped at four farms.

Paul Clugston, R.D. 4, Halifax, PA, is President of the Dauphin County Conservation District and the Dauphin County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. He is cooperating with the School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, in studying the effects of protein source on reproductive efficiency and milk production.

In support of the effort to clean up the Chesapeake Bay, Clugston is working with the Agronomy Department at Penn State on nutrient management. We showed the group a scales used to weigh all field crops produced and all manure applied to farmland. By computer he tracks all nutrients arriving on the farm in feed or fertilizer, all nutrients leaving in meat or milk. Work to date indicates about 25 percent of nutrients leaving the farm.

With some 75 non-farm neighbors located in close proximity to the farm, Clugston told of making a personal call on each of these homeowners once per year to renew acquaintance. He delivers a pound of butter as a goodwill gesture. A neighboring pork farmer hosts these neighbors to an annual pig roast.

Robert Beach, R.D. 4, Halifax, in fourteen years of farming has had to overcome the disruption caused by a barn life. He currently shares the serious farm labor shortage common to many farms.

Following lunch at the Wiconisco Creek County Park, the tour moved to the Paul Crissinger farm near Gratz where sons Kenneth and Leon in partnership are assuming responsibility for the herd. Starting with 4 cows in 1945, this family undertook building projects to create an 80-cow stall barn and efficient feed and manure handling systems.

Bull calves are finished as steers...two feed mixers allows for heavier feeding to top producers...manure is injected into the soil in spring and fall.

Intensive management of a 40 cow herd by the David Smucker family near Lykens, PA, has resulted in very impressive production. A small greenhouse, an acre of strawberries and a wood-working shop provide supplemental income.

"A mountain range running east to west through Dauphin County just north of Harrisburg, sets up two distinctly different north/south farming areas" explained County Agent Bruce Kreider. He explained that turkeys, broilers, hogs and fresh vegetables compliment dairy farmers in the Lykens Valley area. Shale soils make the area "rain-dependent" for good crop yields.

The Adams County tour group was led by County Agent Thomas E. Piper and Holstein Club directors Adam Lobaugh, Michael Todt, Robert Clowney and Vincent Lobaugh. Dairy Princess Josie Hess, Gettysburg Vo Ag Teacher Ron Bower, Atlantic Breeders technician Eric Hershey, and Animal Medic representative Roger Wherley were among those making the trip.

DAIRYMEN EVERYWHERE ARE FALLING IN LOVE.

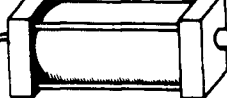

The new Grain Brain® feeding system has caught on in a hurry! That's because it allows you to take advantage of the benefits of multiple feeding (increased milk production, lower feed costs, higher butterfat, improved herd health) with only a modest investment and no increase in labor.

Here's how it works: When you do your regular feeding you also fill your Grain Brain dispensers. At the time you have pre-set into Grain Brain, the dispensers drop feed for each cow's next feeding. That means you can go from two- or three-time to four- or six-time-per-day feeding with no extra labor!

For complete details see us soon. We have a brochure and work sheet that will help us show you exactly what a Grain Brain system can do for you. You'll love it!

Angus Champions Selected At 1987 Pa. Breeders Show

CENTRE HALL — Judge Doug Slattery, Burkett, Texas, selected his champions from the 68-head of Angus breeding cattle exhibited at the 1987 Pennsylvania Angus Breeders Show. The event was held at the county fairgrounds in Centre Hall.

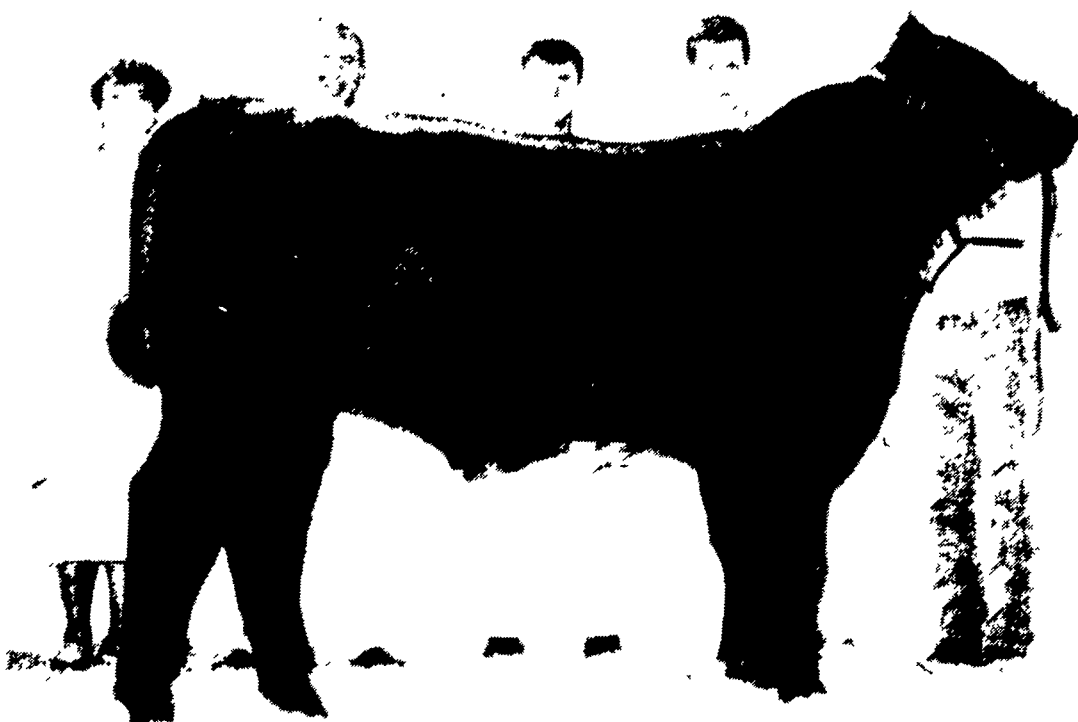

Taking home the grand champion bull banner for Huntingdon Farm, Alexandria, was H F Jolt 623. He is a July 1986 son of Waldeck Shocker and earlier stood as the intermediate champion.

Genetics Unlimited Inc., West Grove, exhibited the reserve grand champion bull. Genetics Goliath is an April 1986 son of Genetics Yukon Jack. He was also named the junior winner.

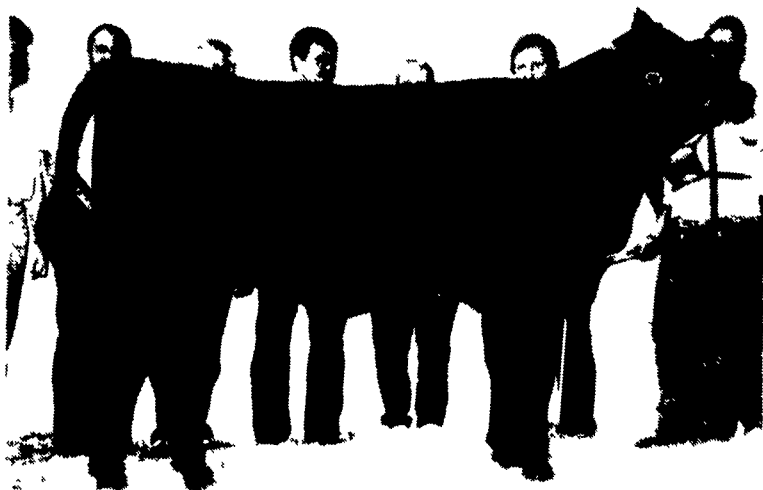

A June 1986 daughter of Genetics Yukon Jack captured grand champion laurels in the female show. Kruegers Scaara Lass earlier won the intermediate champion ribbon for Richard Gregg, New Providence; Greg Krueger and Family, Coatesville; and Genetics Unlimited Inc.

Judge Slattery went to his junior winner and named her the reserve grand champion female. Mountain Valley Jewel Sapphire is owned by William Warren, Furlong; Mountain Valley Angus, Lititz; and Genetics Unlimited Inc. She is a March 1986 daughter of Genetics Proton.

I WANT TO MAKE & SAVE MORE MONEY.

I WANT LESS SHRINK AND HIGHER TEST WEIGHTS.

I AM TIRED OF PAYING THE ELEVATOR TO STORE AND DRY MY CORN CROP.

I WANT THE FLEXIBILITY TO SELL MY CROP, WHEN I WANT...WITHOUT MOISTURE DOCKAGE.

(If you've checked one or more of these statements - read the following to find out how.)

The one product that will satisfy all of these desires, is the AeroDry Grain Management System.

AeroDry uses natural fan forced air, controlled by computer, to dry your corn. There's no high heat, only mother nature's way of lowering moisture levels.

AeroDry can save you up to 75% of energy drying costs. The natural moisture removal process provides less shrink and higher test weights. You don't "cook" the quality out of your crop.

AeroDry's computer controls moisture levels day and night without baby-sitting. You make the profit the elevator makes, by selling your crop when you want - without moisture dockage.

If you're serious about making more money on your corn crop... you'll call AeroDry before the fall rush..Farm proven from the midwest to the east coast - AeroDry is FARM TECHNOLOGY FOR FARM PROFIT.

Farm Philosophy

By
Newton Bair

By Newton Bair PROFITABLE INVESTMENTS

"Anything you do today will effect you tomorrow." I'm not sure who said that, but somebody surely must have said it, or else I've just coined a phrase. It seems like a sound axiom anyway, so let's explore it's implications.

Don't worry about the routine trivia like getting up in the morning, or washing the dishes. Look at the more important things, like deciding whether to plant corn or go fishing. If the action requires a decision on your part, it's important. If someone else has already decided for you, it becomes a job to be done, that's all.

Now about investments. I'm not necessarily talking about stocks and bonds, or real estate. The best investment can be something intangible, like training, skill or knowledge. It could be something like flying lessons, or a course in computers, or bookkeeping or accounting. Training, skill and knowledge must also be put to work after they're acquired. Time, thought, preparation and research, are the tools that make a more tangible investment profitable.

Any investment in time must be considered two ways. First, time is not of the essence, meaning "don't waste it." Properly invested time should be filled with accomplished goals. Weed the garden, practice your golf drives, paint the tool shed, update your financial records. You'll need the right tools, as well as the skill. Some might consider it a waste of time to cut the lawn with a razor blade, or water the cows with a teacup, or even keep records without a computer.

On the other hand, time can be thought of as patience, or breathing room -- space in which success can happen. Some investments just can't be hurried. Corn must grow, fruit must ripen, and heifers must mature. Time can be wasted, but it can't be compressed, and it is very hard to stretch.

An investment in thought can be painful as well as profitable. If the thought process only gives you a headache, maybe you had better let the thinking to the experts. But before investing heavily in a project that requires spending money, whether yours or somebody else's, there had better be a lot of thought expended first.

As investment tools, preparation and research top the list. The old "pig in a poke" never has been known to mature into edible pork. I remember an old neighbor telling about a cow he bought from a dealer. The dealer had the cow tied in a dark corner of his barn, where the buyer had to inspect the cow with the help of a kerosene lantern.

The shadows cast by the lantern failed to expose the poor critters' more devious faults. His profound neighborly advice to me was, which I never forgot: "--Never buy a cow by lantern, 'cause you can't see in the corners--". I think the lesson was that you not only need to do your homework first, you'd better do it when the light's good.

So, whether you are investing in a farm, a cow, or oil stock, do it in broad daylight, with all the bad points as well as the good ones showing clearly. And don't forget to use the tools of thought and research. And keep then sharp by time, training and skill.

Corn-Husking Contest Set

Champion corn huskers from 14 states will compete for the national corn-husking title Oct. 18 at Marshall, Mo.

Entrants in the old-fashioned contest harvest the most corn possible in a specified amount of time. Contestants toss ears of corn into horse-drawn wagons as they move across the field.

Richard Pemberton, secretary for the Missouri Corn Husking Association which is hosting the event, said the Missouri state contest will be held Oct. 17. Winner of that contest will then compete with other state winners in the national contest Oct. 18.

Activities held in conjunction with the corn-husking contest will be held Oct. 16-18. These include an antique car and tractor show, parade, 5K race, square dance, craft sale and a pony-pulling, mule-jumping and corn-throwing contest.

Cargill Hybrid Seeds is the sole seed sponsor for the three day event. The company provided seed for the contest fields and financial support. Monsanto Company has provided chemicals for the National Contest.

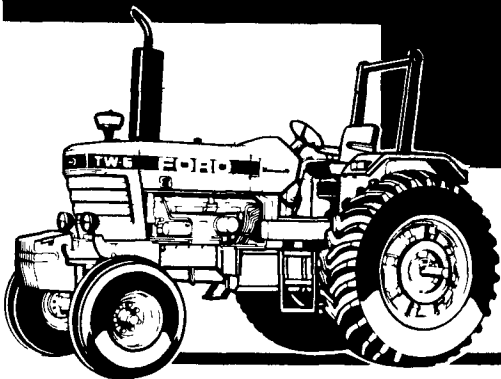

The event will be held at the Saline County fairgrounds on the U.S. Hwy. 65 bypass 10 miles north of Interstate 70.

For further information, contact the Chamber of Commerce, 214 North Lafayette, Marshall, Mo., 65340, or call 816/886-3324. (The enclosed poster provides additional details.)

farmers spray once or twice a month.

Respondents underestimated the amount of the dollar that goes to farmers, were close in estimating the processors' portion, and overestimated the amount received by retailers. Almost half thought food prices were higher than those of other essential goods, even though food costs have risen less than the general inflation rate during nine of the last ten years. Only a small percentage regarded farmers as being most responsible for food price increases.

A majority correctly said that the United States produces more food than it needs, but a strong majority said that production should not be cut back. An even stronger majority said that more food should be given to the U.S. poor, while a smaller majority said it should go to the poor of other countries. A majority said that food should be sold to any country that wants it, but a somewhat smaller majority said that food should be sold only to friendly countries.

A strong majority said that the U.S. economy does depend on exports, and an even stronger majority said that agricultural exports were important to the economy, although the reasons given for thinking so varied widely. A majority said that agricultural exports do not increase domestic food prices.

A majority said that farmers do not have too much political influence; a majority tended to feel that government policies help only big farms, not family-size farms; a majority also tended to believe that farmers receive less than it costs to produce their crops; a majority saw some likelihood that farms would be more efficient without government price supports; a majority felt that the contribution of family farms to total production is not small; and a majority said that food prices are not higher because of payments to farmers.

A near majority said that the government has not provided enough help, a lesser number said the amount of help is about right, and an even smaller number said there is too much help.

Few Americans appear to have brought their knowledge about agriculture to bear on their opinions of it. This suggests, to us, that most issues dealt with in the poll have not yet been presented in a way that enables, or encourages people to think through even the most basic questions about farming. Television, news stories, broadcasts from the "Heartland", popular movies about a struggling farm family and coverage of the Federal Farm Bill Debate seem to have little apparent influence on peoples' opinions about the agricultural issues covered in the poll.

So, we continue to need a united effort from all segments of agriculture to present our needs to the general public.

Adding ammonia to corn silage has a long list of desirable benefits not only as a protein source but also improving the silage fermentation.

However, with anhydrous ammonia there are several aspects that are less desirable.

- A hazardous product dangerous to handle.
- It is highly volatile with much atmospheric loss
- It must be handled with special pressurized equipment.
- The rate of retention depends on moisture content of corn silage.
- There is uncertainty in calibration.

There is an alternative ammonia product which seeks to maintain the desirable and improve on the undesirable.

Franklin Holstein Field Day Hears Remsburg

BY BONNIE BRECHBILL

MERCERSBURG

"You must have the package of production, pedigree and type put together in your cow, then the photograph wraps it up," Jack Remsburg told farmers attending the Franklin County Holstein Day at the James and Nina Burdette farm July 30. "Your cow should look as good as she does when she goes into the show ring," he continued. "If a wife sent her husband to get his picture taken, she would be sure he shaved, took a shower, and got a haircut. You only get what the camera sees."

Remsburg, from Middletown, MD, is a nationally known professional cow photographer. He stated that there are two reasons for a farmer to have pictures taken of his cows — to improve the farmer's business and for glamour.

From a business point of view, photographs must work in the farmer's favor economically, whether they are for a paid ad in a magazine or to be handed out personally at sales and shows. Photographs are a must in advertising, Remsburg said. "You stop first to look at the ads that have pictures."

Taking photographs of cows requires time and expense. The farmer must spend time getting the animal ready, then bring people in to help set her up for the picture. He must pay the photographer for his time and work. For these reasons, Remsburg does not push his services — "the farmer has to want to do this," he said. "But," he emphasized, "with that picture, you can do more advertising per dollar spent than with just words. And of course you can re-use that picture many times."

He believes that if the cows the farmer has photographed do not make him money, he either did not use the picture correctly in the ad, or he should not have taken the picture in the first place.

Pictures taken for glamour will not necessarily make money for the farmer, but will be cherished by him and his family in years to come. 4-H record books, pictorial contests, and photos for the family album come under this category.

Drawing from his 31 years of professional experience, Remsburg gave the audience some tips on how they can do their own cow photography. "The three important elements are correct focus, proper exposure, and good composition," he said. "You don't have to have a lot of expensive equipment."

While the cow does not have to be broke to lead, she must be tied with her head up for a few hours a day for several days before the photo session. "She must raise her head when you snap the halter gently," he said.

"Avoid having any buildings in the background. Try to have no horizontal lines at all. Anything horizontal is straighter than the cow's top line, and she will not look straight," he continued. "You have to learn all this through your eyes — you can't get it from reading a book."

After relating the difficulties he had when taking pictures of bulls he said, "I never criticize a picture of an animal unless I helped to take it, because some animals are so hard to work with."

He used one of Burdette's cows to demonstrate how to set up a cow for a picture. The points he especially watches are:

- have the shoulders higher than rump
- show rear and fore udder
- be aware of where the sun is
- have cow's tail pulled down so it looks natural
- back hip not showing
- ears forward
- helpers out of picture
- camera level with middle of cow

— cow's feet set correctly

Hosts James and Nina Burdette have lived at Windy-Knoll View Farm for 13 years. They farm 240 acres and milk 60 cows, eight of which are classified excellent. Their BAA is 106.4, the highest in Franklin County. The Burdettes have two sons, Justin, 8 and Kyle, 4.

Activities for Holstein Day included the judging of three cow classes — two-year olds, three-

Winners in the Senior Division of the judging contest were Brad Beidel, Dennis Bricker, Wayne Beidel, Wayne Hall, Rodney Crider, Roger Crider, Mark Naugle, Dale Rice, Dwaine Brechbill, Harold Crider, Greg Paylor, Bob Mel-lott, and Darlene Meyers. Junior winners (16 and under) were Jenny Gloss, April Gelsinger, Chris Reichard, Billy Hall, Carey Martin, Corey Meyers, and Matthew Martin.

Milk and cheese for the event were donated by Don Upperman Surge dealership. Ice cream was provided by Franklin Feed and Supply Company.

After receiving her degree in June of 1986, Pat became a correspondent and feature writer for the Daily Local News, West Chester, Pa. This daily has a circulation of approximately 38,000.

For Pat, pursuing a career in agricultural journalism seems to be the best way to blend a love of writing and farming.

An announcement was made this week that Lou Ann Good, Manheim, has been appointed staff writer for Lancaster Farming newspaper. A well-known, local writer of more than a hundred inspirational and feature articles, Lou Ann has just published her first book entitled, "Bible Readings For Office Workers." The book, published by Augsburg Publishing House, uses a daily inspirational theme and turns every day situations into food for thought. Lou Ann brings a vast experience of home and family interviewing experience to Lancaster Farming and has won writing awards in children's literature, personal experience and feature article writing.

She is a board member of St. Davids Christian Writers Association at Eastern College at St. Davids. Lou Ann was the executive secretary for the Church of the Brethren Youth Service and has served as a daily newspaper correspondent.

She developed and directed a program to teach inner-city mothers sewing, craft and cooking skills and worked as an occupational therapy assistant at Brooklane where she scheduled patients for classes and therapeutic interaction skills.

Lou Ann graduated from Garden Spot High School and has completed numerous writing and business courses. She is the editorial assistant for The Connection, a church newspaper, and serves as publicist for several nonprofit organizations.

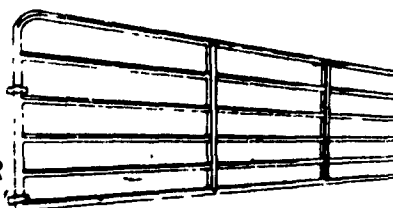

She enjoys bike riding, camping and boating with husband Parke and four children, Perry, 19, Kent, 18, Todd, 15 and Tina, 12.

Pennsylvania Youth Place In Junior National Hereford Show

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — The 14th Junior National Polled Hereford Show and Forum drew more than 500 heifer, steer and cow-calf entries to Murfreesboro, Tenn., July 19-23.

Junior exhibitors and youth leaders from 36 states packed the livestock facilities at Middle Tennessee State University for the five-day event. It featured youth leadership training and family fun activities, capped by the annual junior heifer show which sported 462 1986-born heifers shown by young beef cattle breeders from Maine to Washington. They also led out 39 Polled Hereford steers for evaluation and exhibited seven cow-calf pairs.

Officiating at the two-day show were lead judge Dr. John Edwards of Texas A&M University, College Station, and associate judge Kevin Jensen, Courtland, Kan.

Two Pennsylvania youth, Kyle Rooker and Curt Stockdale were winners in the livestock judging contest held. Curt placed fifth in the peewees division for kids 9 years old and younger, and Kyle place seventh in the same division. Curt is the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stockdale of Dayton, Pa., and will be in the fourth grade at Dayton Elementary this fall. Kyle is the 8-year-old son of Keith and Linda Rooker of Uniontown, Pa. He will be in the third grade this fall at R.W. Clark Elementary.

Four youths from Pennsylvania captured the second-place honors in the Beef Bowl at the 14th Junior National Polled Hereford Show and Forum. Contestants on the 22 state teams in the competition answered questions on beef production, nutrition and the Polled Hereford and livestock industry. The Pennsylvania team members were Anne Granbery, Zelienople, Pa.; Sonja Shearer, Abbottstown, Pa.; Karen Rabenold, Kutztown, Pa.; and Lowell Midla, Marianna, Pa.

Curt Stockdale of Dayton, Pa.,

earned the reserve champion peewee showman title at the 14th Junior National Polled Hereford Show and Forum. Curt was among more than 200 individuals who competed in the showmanship competition in three age divisions.

He is the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stockdale and will be a fourth grader this fall at Dayton Elementary.

The Team Marketing Show and Forum, and the team of juniors from Pennsylvania were quite successful. Team members Lowell Midla, Marianna, Pa.; Howard McMurry, Sunbury, Pa.; and Anne Granbery, Zelienople, Pa., finished in third place in the competition. The objective of each team was to convince the three-member judges panel that they should purchase the team's heifer. To accomplish this the youth discussed the heifer's pedigree, performance record, her structural and physical qualities and related information.

Late-Filed ASCS Reports Accepted

Donald E. Lutz, Chairman of the Berks County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said late-filled acreage reports will be accepted as long as the farmer pays the cost of verifying the acreage, and there is physical evidence of production.

He said July 15th was the last day for farmers to report their 1987 planted acres, and some producers in the county have not filed a crop report this year. Late reports are subject to mandatory spot check.

Crop reports are used by ASCS to determine program compliance and to document crop acreage bases. Before farm program participants receive price support loans, deficiency payments and benefits, they are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve.

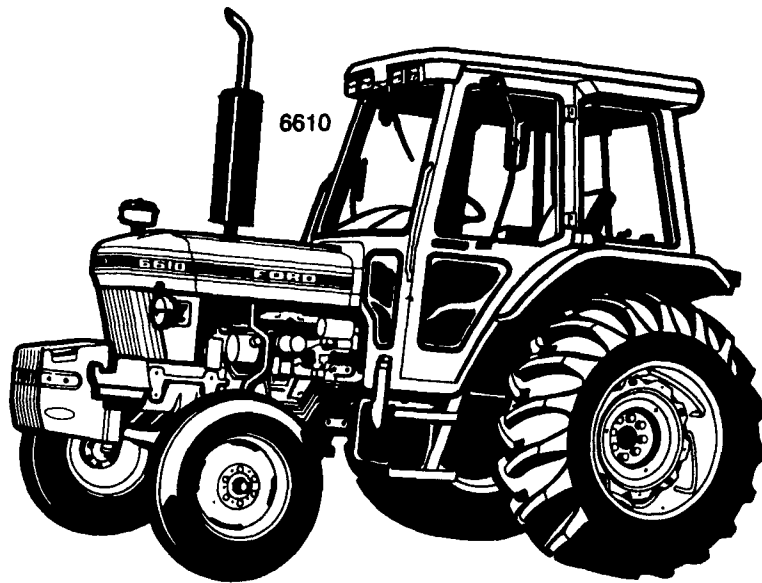

Lutz said crop reporting is very important to farm program participants because without the report, they are not eligible for benefits on 1987 program crops. The acreage report determines the level at which farmers are eligible for program payments and other benefits. Farmers who do not submit a crop report will be credited with zero plantings for their future crop acreage base.

the youth, while two clowns handed out balloons to the children. Speaking at the event were JoAnn Hershey, former President of the Farm Women's Association, Dennis Wolff of Penn-Cole Farms in Millville, David Burkett of Burkett Falls Farm in East Freedom, Pa., and Lancaster County Dairy Princess Nanette Bushong.

The evening's host, Harold Shellenberger, said he felt that farming is no longer the family effort that it has been in the past. He said with farm wives pursuing careers of their own outside of the farm, that although they are still interested in the business they may not be inclined to attend what has traditionally become a breeders event.

"I feel it is very important to have the entire family involved in the farming and by making this a social event, too, we are bringing families closer together and the entire Holstein community together. And I think anytime you can do that it is beneficial to everyone," said Shellenberger.

Twelve of the ShellMar herd were judged by three groups divided into youth, women and men. Those judging the animals were competing to get the score closest to the judge's, who was David Burkett, of Burkett Falls Farm. The three winners for the evening, one from each group matched the exact score derived by Burkett. Albert E. Fry won in the men's division; Rhelda Royer won in the women's division and George Bard won in the youth's division, according to Brubaker. The tie breaker for the evening was determined on the challenge to guess the weight of an aged cow. Fry of Manheim guessed the exact weight to be overall winner.

The drawing card for breeders was obviously the farm hosting the event, ShellMar Acres whose herd averages 19,500 lbs. of milk, with 720 lbs. of fat and a BAA of 103.8, according to Harold Shellenberger. Income from merchandising service sires rivals the income from the farm's milk production, according to Shellenberger.

"I think in order to continue to make a profit today's farmer must explore every possible avenue of income available," said Shellenberger.

Shellenberger operates the 200-acre farm with 90 head of dairy cows along with Ted Haberland an agronomist who joined the Shellenberger farm family in the beginning of 1987. The farm is owned by the Rev. and Mrs. Shelly Shellenberger, Harold's father and mother.

There were many other winners at the event. More than 30 door prizes were distributed which were donated by these area businesses: Claude Everett Sire Power; Lancaster Dairy Farm Automation; Marlin Kover Select Sires; Jim Charles of ABS; Atlantic Breeders; Agri-Service; John Kreider of Show Ease Stall; White Oak Mill; Gehman's Feed; Messick's Farm Service; Agri-Inc.; Hamilton Bank; Ray Kline of Young's Minerals; IBA; and Cliff Gible.

Catering of the bountiful meal was by Dan and Margie Stoltzfus of Mt. Joy. Dinner music was supplied by Nelson Keperling on the electronic accordion.

Kit-Way

for other dairymen that motivated Wayne and Susan to strike out on their own.

Contrary to Wayne, Susan brought no long-time dairying experience to the partnership. At the time of their marriage, she was involved in a long and successful career in dentistry. However, she found dairying and working with Wayne to be less stressful than the rigors of a dental practice and soon abandoned the dental office for a milking barn and calf tending chores.

Early in their enterprise, the Reeders decided that everything in their operation had to be cost effective. That meant no fancy equipment, no expensive cows, no large cropping expenses, and no farm payments. Consequently, their operation now runs on another rented property located just west of Hanover. They rent the dairy barn, a bank barn for heifers, a silo, and a mobile home. This all encompasses about five acres. Their landlord has the remaining 90 acres of the farm rented out to a crops farmer.

Wayne and Susan purchase all their feedstuffs so that they can devote all their time to their cows and heifers. Explained Wayne, "Nowadays you have to specialize. Either you're a farmer or you're a dairyman. If you're going to dairy, you can't spend your time in the fields. The cows will get neglected. Those guys who are big enough can hire someone else to do one or the other. It's really too expensive for us to try to do both."

The Reeders are adamant that purchasing their feedstuffs is their most cost effective route. Wayne lists the savings on not having to purchase cropping equipment and not having to settle for poor quality feeds just because they are there as his major reasons for purchasing in feed instead of growing his own. He elaborated, "I only pay for my feed once. I don't have to pay for seeds to plant and then if they don't grow, have to go buy feed anyway. I don't buy large quantities of feed at a time either. This ties up your cash too long."

The Reeders follow a relatively simple feeding routine. Their cows are housed in tie stalls 24 hours a day. In their stalls, each cow receives 12-15 pounds of hay, spaced over four feeds. They each receive 35-40 pounds of corn silage in one feeding. An 18% commercial TMR grain ration is fed twice at a ratio of 3:1.

Wayne feels that it is important that the same person do the feeding every day. He states, "I do all the feeding of the cows here. It's the most important part of our operation. It is important to keep cows right on the edge and not overload them. I am sure you get less milk out of cows that are overfed than you do from cows that are always looking for one more bite of feed."

Kit-Way Hossteins have responded well to Wayne's feed program and to the couple's TLC. Their first herd average in December 1984 was just under 14,000 pounds of milk. In December 1985 it had jumped to 18,500 pounds of milk. By December 1986 it hit 20,011 pounds of milk and it peaked this past March at 21,062 pounds of milk and 773 pounds of butterfat.

This high production, coupled with a BAA of 104.9 has caught the attention of the international dairying community. The Reeders have hosted visitors from Holland, Saudi Arabia, and France in the past few months.

Some of the herd's most popular cows include a 3 yr. old Glendell daughter scored VG 88% with credits of 30,000 pounds of milk and 1400 pounds of fat in her last lactation. Another eye-catcher is an EX Roybrook Starlight daughter who made 30,000 pounds of milk and 1017 pounds of fat as an 8 yr. old. She was Reserve Grand Champion at the 1987 Delaware State Show. Two other stablemates, a Marvex daughter and an Ira daughter, both have records to over 30,000 pounds of milk and 1100 pounds of butterfat.

Susan remarked that many visitors to the farm are impressed with the growthy appearance of their young stock. Susan cares for all the calves from birth through freshening. Calves are started in hutches and by 6 months of age are in small group pens. During this time they receive grain and water after weaning, but no hay. Wayne explains,

Wayne and Susan Reeder have captured the high herd averages in Adams County in milk, fat, and protein in just three years after establishing their herd there. They take a moment from their barn chores to pose with one of their favorites in the herd, an EX Roybrook Starlight daughter who made over 30,000 pounds of milk last year and over 1000 pounds of butterfat. She was Reserve Grand Champion at the 1987 Delaware Spring Show and is shown here springling to a service by Big Al.

"It's more important to develop a heifer's bone and muscle, than it is her rumen. Formulated heifer feed will do this better than any kind of hay." Heifers over 6 months of age receive a small ration of corn silage along with their grain and timothy hay.

The Reeders are excited about their future in dairying. Noted Wayne, "We didn't let a low herd average in the beginning discourage us. We had confidence in ourselves and that helped us conquer any negatives."

Numerous sales solicited their consignments and they've started marketing some of their most promising individuals privately. Still, they aren't following any new trends that don't cashflow for them, such as embryo transfer work, using bovine somatotrophin, or even owning property. They are adamant in following their one goal: to breed and develop a superior herd of Registered Holsteins.

2042 Harvestore® System with Sweep Arm Auger

"I've fed high moisture shelled corn out of my Harvestore structure for 8 years. I like it as much today as I did when I first bought my structure. I don't have to grind feed. It's always a fresh feed. The corn is easy to put away and I cut my harvest time."

"My cows eat Harvestore high moisture corn a lot better than dry ear corn. They have to be pretty sick if they don't eat it!"

"My top cow gets 30 lbs. of high moisture corn and 2 lbs. of supplement on my haylage and high moisture corn program."

"I don't feed any calf feed. My calves get Harvestore high moisture corn and a little bit of protein."

Larry with son Todd

"On dry ear corn my cows always tested between 3.4 and 3.5% butterfat. Since feeding Harvestore high moisture corn, my test has jumped to an average of 3.8%. The increase in butterfat has raised the price of my milk by 56¢ per 100 lbs."

"Since purchasing my Harvestore structure in 1979, I haven't had to spend any money on maintenance for the structure, unloader or roller mill. It's cheap to operate!"

Dottie Bard Offers Her Home & Dinner to Guests

QUARRYVILLE — It was cows, not cooking, that attracted Dottie Bard's interest in 4-H as a youngster growing up in southern Lancaster County. Now, however, it is Dottie's cooking ability that is going to benefit current 4-H'ers.

One of the items to be sold during the 4-H benefit auction at the Solanco Fairgrounds on August 19 is a prime rib dinner for four at Dottie's home south of Quarryville.

Dottie and her husband Ronald have been opening their home for family style dinners for the past two years, and Dottie thought offering the auctioned dinners were a good way to benefit the 4-H program, a program she enjoyed being part of during her growing up years.

The lucky bidder will be treated to the family style dinner served in the dining room of her home, appealingly decorated in "country." In addition to the entree, guests can choose an appetizer, homemade soups, vegetables and any one of her many desserts. Her chocolate cake is the first pick of most guests, with carrot cake running a close second. The chocolate cake recipe is from her mother, and Dottie says with a smile, "My husband married me for my chocolate cake."

Dottie acknowledges that she "talked about offering dinners in her home for a long time before she actually began doing it." She recalls, "I needed encouragement from Mother."

She took the plunge at the same time her husband Ronald resigned from his job with Farm Credit to work independently as a financial consultant. She ran an ad for two weeks in the local weekly paper, and then removed it because she had such a good response. Since then the word has spread strictly by word of mouth, so Dottie says it is always like having friends because visitors know someone who has been there.

Dottie works fulltime at the Murry Insurance Agency in Quarryville. She notes, "I have a list of things to do before I go to work and another one when I get home from work." It is not unusual for her to bake a cake before going to work while her husband turns ice cream.

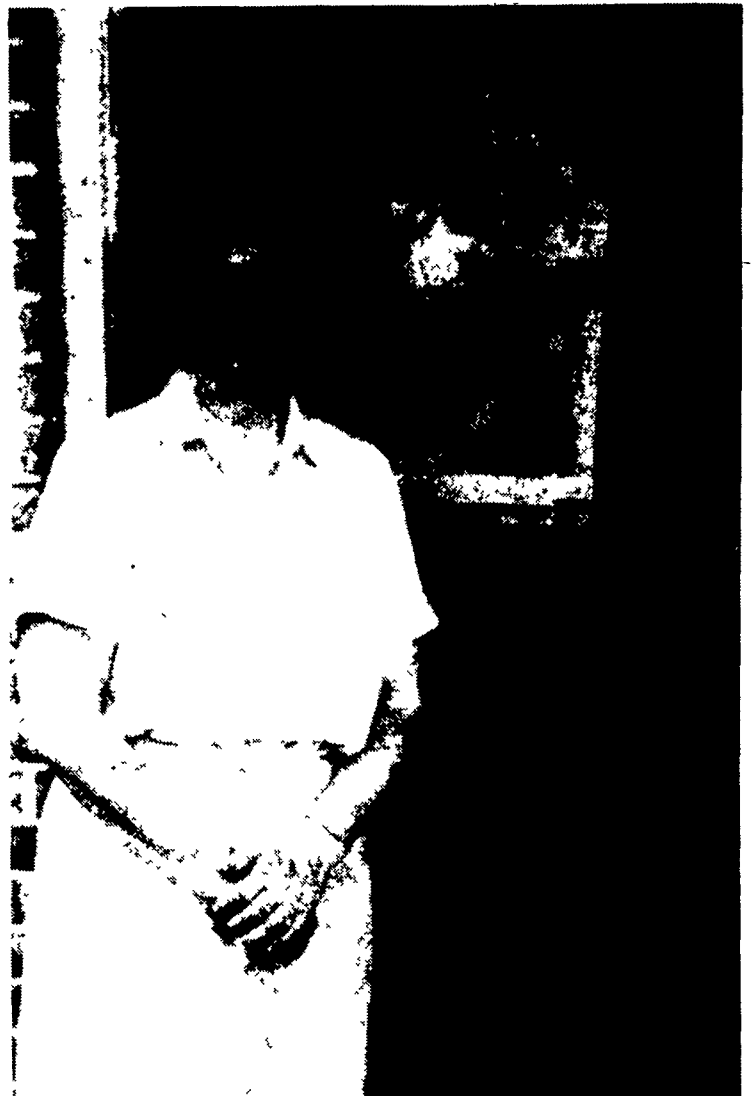

The Bards only open their home to guests on Wednesday and Friday evenings and Saturday.

When they are having guests on Friday evening, Dottie frequently goes to the Lancaster Central Market to get fresh foods. She says, "I am there at 5:00 a.m., and it only takes me about 20 minutes. I know which standholders I want to visit, and they know what I want. My husband and I leave with our bags full very quickly."

Dottie comments, "I like to serve as many fresh fruits and vegetables as possible. I freeze all my own corn and only serve that. I make my own applesauce in the fall."

She notes, "I stick to Pennsylvania Dutch cooking. I don't do gourmet cooking, but I do prime rib and chicken cordon bleu which is not strictly Pennsylvania Dutch."

Dottie adds, "I do all the cooking. My husband serves, and with large groups my son helps as well as my brother and sister-in-law.

Visitors are often welcomed into the Bard home through this door. A mat inside the back door states this philosophy: "Back Door Friends are Best." Dottie enjoys the opportunity to meet new friends through her food service.

My parents enjoy washing dishes. It really is an 'all family' project."

She prides herself in having all fresh ingredients and cooking everything fresh on the day it is to be served. The secret to success is simply: "I make a list and do all preparing of food that day. I enjoy cooking."

They serve only one sitting, and only one group, so there is no feeling of being rushed. Often a group uses their basement room to hold a meeting after eating the meal.

Dottie enjoys having people tell her that they like the "homey atmosphere," or the feeling that "they don't have to hurry." She rejects the idea of opening more evenings a week, saying, "Now it is fun and a hobby. It would become a job if I opened more often."

Dottie also enjoys visiting with

Dottie convinced her parents to allow her to take marimba lessons instead of an accordion, and now she plays the marimba and the organ for her own enjoyment and in her church.

Solanco Auction Benefits Local 4-H'ers

LANCASTER — Benefit auctions are very much a part of Lancaster County organizations, and the 4-H clubs of the county are in the second year of establishing their own auction tradition.

As a means of providing more opportunities to the County's nearly 4,000 4-H'ers, 4-H Agent Zoann Parker organized the first auction last summer which raised $3300. This year she is hoping for a bigger, better auction with more funds being provided to assist the 4-H program.

The benefit auction will take place as part of the expanded three-day 4-H Fair being held this year at the Solanco Fair Grounds in Quarryville on August 18, 19 and 20.

According to Parker, the auction will highlight the second evening of the Fair, Wednesday, August 19, and will begin at 6:00 p.m. Prior to the auction there will be a chicken barbecue sponsored by the Quarryville Lions Club and the Penn Manor 4-H club.

In this Penn State Nittany Lion Country, perhaps one of the most exciting items is a football autographed by Joe Paterno. Paterno, a strong supporter of young people, is one of the featured speaker at this year's Pennsylvania 4-H Week held at the University this week.

Seven quilts are being featured this year, each one donated by an anonymous "Friend of 4-H." The quilts, fine examples of Lancaster County workmanship, are in a variety of colors, patterns and colors. There is a star log cabin quilt, a log cabin, a dated quilt with a "tree of life," a bear claw pattern and a red bird pattern. There are also several wall hangings, and a comforter, wall hanging and two matching pillows.

Benefit auctions have the reputation of having something for everyone, and this one is no exception.

(Turn to Page B5)

This is a sampling of some of the many items which will be sold to benefit Lancaster County 4-H'ers at the benefit auction to be held on August 19 at Solanco Fairgrounds in Quarryville. In addition to the tractors, and crossstitched pillows, there are a wide variety of wooden crafts being offered.

This quilt done in the Bear Claw pattern is one of seven that will be sold as part of the second 4-H Benefit Auction on August 19 at Solanco Fairgrounds. The quilt measures 90"x113" and was donated by an anonymous "friend of 4-H."

Dottie Bard

her guests, but she makes it clear that she stays in the kitchen until after all the food has been served. Since it is family style, she said serving dishes are removed and washed before the second helpings are returned to the table.

Because there are 33 people in her immediate family, Dottie admits that cooking for large groups does not overwhelm her. She said the two things she and her husband decided from the beginning of the venture was that they would always try to make children feel welcome so that families could enjoy eating out together, and they would allow people to stay and visit as long as they desired.

Groups of 12 and smaller are served in the first floor dining room with family china and cloth tablecloths and napkins. Larger groups are served in their comfortable furnished basement. Dottie will not accept groups of more than 40.

The basement kitchen was added last year. When the Bards built their home 12 years ago they had no intention of finishing the basement. Dottie recalls that they slowly worked on it, until it is now as nicely decorated as the upstairs family room.

The Bards' home is located on a corner of the farm where Dottie grew up. All the fireplace stones in the family room were taken from her father's farm and washed by the Bards. Actually the whole interior, with the exception of the plaster walls, was built by Ronald and Dottie and their only son, Robert. Ron had worked as a cabinet maker while attending college, so he made the solid cherry cabinets in the kitchen himself.

Although Dottie says she was busy helping on her father Elam's Guernsey farm as a child, she feels she inherited some of her mother's cooking ability. Her mother, who is now 79, is well-known in the community as a good cook, and Dottie remembers, "We always had company on Sunday. My mother taught me that a good cook is someone who can make something out of nothing."

Dottie is licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and she is inspected at least once a year.

She said she doesn't cook for her husband very much anymore, and "there are just so many leftovers you can eat," so they enjoy eating out. This gives her an opportunity to "look for new ideas. Both of us like to look for the way people garnish their food," she says.

Dottie likes to try new recipes, often ones found in current supermarket magazines. "I like to be innovative." One of her favorite vegetable ideas is to serve broccoli, cauliflower and carrots on the same platter, with cheese sauce over the broccoli and cauliflower. She said it is surprising how many people enjoy those vegetables when served in that fashion.

Part of her success is keeping good records about the clients she serves, what she serves and how much. Now, she says, it is easier to make the right portions, although she continues to be concerned about running out of food—something that has never happened. "That would be the worst thing that could happen. Usually my first feeling is right about how much to prepare," she notes.

So far her worst problem was having the electricity go off during an ice storm. Fortunately, they were able to postpone the dinner for two hours, and things progressed smoothly.

Dottie is looking forward to preparing dinner for the lucky bidders at the benefit auction. She says with obvious conviction, "I enjoy it so much."

Fall '87 Speechcraft Program

The Chester County 4-H program invites any person 19 years and older to register for the Fall 1987 Speechcraft Program, sponsored by Toastmasters International. This program is designed to help individuals increase their communication skill, feel more relaxed addressing audiences, and increase their general confidence. Individuals are given the opportunity to experience group work, planned and impromptu speeches, practice Parliamentary Procedure and meet new people. All of the learnings acquired through this nine week program, can be applied to personal and professional situations where communication skill is a must!

The Fall '87 Speechcraft Program will be held at the Chester County Extension Service, Paul Dague Building, 235 West Market Street, West Chester Pa on the following dates: 9/10, 9/17, 9/24, 10/1, 10/8, 10/15, 10/22, 10/29, and 11/5. There is a minimal cost of $4.00 for program materials, payable on the evening of 9/10. Interested individuals should contact Laurie Sandow, 4-H Coordinator at 696-3500 to register. All registrations must be made by August 26th, 1987. There is a maximum registration of 25 persons. SIGN UP TODAY!

Solanco Auction

tion. Whether it is history, food, toys or crafts, there will be over two hundred items from which buyers may choose.

On the practical side, there are three truckloads of crushed stone, one donated by Rohrer's Quarry and two by J. Eshleman and Sons, and a truckload of mulch donated by Frey Brothers. On a smaller scale, there are dozens of craft items provided by Lancaster County craftsmen.

Many gift certificates for dinners at area restaurants will provide food for every taste. A special gift certificate entitles the bearer to four prime rib dinners at the home of Dorothy Bard, Quarryville (see related story).

If you prefer doing your eating at home, there will be a variety of cookbooks at the auction, including Betty Groff's newest, which will be on the market soon.

For those with a sweet tooth, there is a five-pound bar of chocolate donated by Lancaster's own Wilbur Chocolate in Lititz. And there is lots of animal feed being offered as well.

Many to tractors have been donated, representing a wide variety of manufacturers. There are also some stuffed toys, including a bear donated by John Moore of Moore Bears.

For history enthusiasts, there are tickets to the Historic Lancaster Walking Tour and a pen and ink sketch of Old Zion Church, Brickerville. The sketch was created by Jane Sohns, a 4-H leader. For music fans there are two tickets to the Lancaster Symphony concert of the purchaser's choice.

Serving as auctioneer for the event is Ken Brubaker, a former active 4-H'er in Lancaster County.

The cost of activities for 4-H'ers continues to increase each year, and Parker has used the money to keep down individual 4-H'ers cost of attending county, regional and state events. It is these additional activities that provide much of the growth in leadership and citizenship for both 4-H'ers and 4-H leaders.

Parker's dearest wish is that enough money could be raised to purchase a van in which to transport 4-H'ers to the many activities offered.

She is delighted with the response to this year's auction not only from 4-H'ers but also from former 4-H'ers and the business community. "We have had tremendous support from the community," Parker asserts. Of course, she is still accepting donations for the auction, and will be publishing complete lists of items to be auctioned on August 19.

This is the first year for a three-day event, and Parker is hoping that it will increase 4-H's visibility within the community. "We think this will be an opportunity for more people to see what 4-H does," she notes.

Judging of projects will take place on Monday evening and Tuesday morning, and events of the fair get underway at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday with a volleyball tournament. There will be a craft show from 12:00 to 8:00 p.m., with an archery shoot, a sheep decorating contest, and a bicycle rodeo. Tuesday evening's activities will conclude with a square dance.

On Wednesday there will be a therapeutic riding demonstration beginning at 8:30 a.m., with a tractor driving contest, steer show, and air rifle demonstrations. The volleyball tournament continues on Wednesday, and other demonstrations are held throughout the day.

Thursday's activities include junior and senior olympics, volleyball finals, a dog obedience show, a rocketry shoot and more demonstrations. The achievement program, the culmination of the summer's 4-H activities, will be held at the Solanco High School from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. At that time gold ribbon winners will be announced, along with those selected to the junior and senior 4-H Honor Roll. Lancaster County's Outstanding 4-H'ers will be announced during the Achievement program.

The public is invited to participate, and all projects will be on display throughout the three day event.

We Made It To The Top

4-H members, leaders and hosts gather at the top of Pikes Peak during the recent Pennsylvania/Colorado 4-H Exchange. The trip afforded eighteen Montgomery County 4-H'ers the chance to visit Colorado and learn about the state and its 4-H program.

Pickles That Add Color & Taste To Every Meal

Modern grocery store shelves are lined with every pickle variety imaginable. But the labels that flaunt those perfect-looking pickles don't fool those of us who have grown up on homemade specialties.

Take one bite of those mass-produced pickles and we're back in our kitchens washing, slicing, and plopping fresh cucumbers into aromatic pickling spices.

I asked one grandmother, sun-browned from spending hours in her prickly pickle patch, the secret of successful pickle canning.

She insists that much of the flavor and appearance depends upon harvesting cucumbers when they reach the required size for the type of pickle desired. Then process them within 24 hours. "If you don't," she warns, "you'll have hollow pickles."

Be sure to use pure, coarse-medium salt. Table salt which contains chemicals to prevent lumping results in lower quality.

You will get best results if you use high quality vinegar. Some recipes call for white vinegar and others for apple cider vinegar.

Discard those pickle recipes that have given you less than perfect results and try the following ones. Don't limit your pickling to cucumbers, but experiment with fruits and vegetables. Once you taste these crisp, flavorful yields, you're destined to ignore those artificial-tasting pickles that fill grocery shelves.

MUSTARD PICKLES

- 2 dozen pickles, sliced
- 1 quart sour vinegar
- 2 quarts water
- 1/2 cup dry mustard
- 1/2 cup salt
- 2 cups sugar or less
- 1 tablespoon mustard seeds
- 1 tablespoon celery seeds
- 1 teaspoon turmeric
- 1 teaspoon alum
- 1 teaspoon saccharine

Pack pickles in jars, pour water over them and let stand overnight. Drain. Cover with boiling water. Let stand until pickles are heated throughout. Pour off water.

Combine all recipe ingredients and boil 12-15 minutes. Fill jars with the boiling hot syrup and seal.

Lock Haven

MUSTARD PICKLES

- 2 dozen pickles, sliced
- 1 quart green tomatoes
- 1 quart onions
- 6 red peppers
- 2 quarts vinegar (more if desired)
- 5 cups sugar
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon turmeric
- 6 tablespoon prepared (dry) mustard
- 1 quart celery

Chop tomatoes, onions, peppers and celery in small pieces. Do not use a food chopper. Mix all ingredients together and thicken the juice with flour. Boil all ingredients for at least 1/2 hour. Put into hot jars and seal.

Lock Haven

BREAD & BUTTER PICKLES

- 4 quarts cucumbers, sliced
- 6 medium onions, sliced
- 1/2 cup salt

Cover with ice cubes and let stand for 3 hours. Drain and rinse well.

Make syrup:

- 5 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 1/2 teaspoon turmeric
- 3 cups vinegar

Add to cucumbers. Bring to boiling point and put in hot jars and seal. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath. Yields about 6 pints.

PICKLED CRABAPPLES

Choose firm, uniform crabapples. Do not pare them. Make a spiced syrup by heating the following ingredients:

- 1 quart vinegar
- 1 cup water
- 1 quart sugar

Tie the following spices loosely in cheesecloth bag and boil in the liquid:

- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon mace
- 1 teaspoon allspice.

Add enough crabapples to make 5 pints. Let set in liquid overnight. Next morning, remove spice bag and pack apples without reheating into clean jars to within 1/2 inch from jar top. Screw lids tightly. Process in simmering water bath for 20 minutes.

A picnic without pickles is never complete. Pickles complement full-course dinners, relish trays and buffets or—try them alone for a crisp, tasty snack.

MUSTARD PICKLES

- 2 quarts green tomatoes
- 2 quarts small white onions
- 2 heads cauliflower
- 3 quarts white wine vinegar
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 ounce celery seed
- 2 quarts small sweet pickles
- 6 green peppers
- 1 cup salt
- 1 cup flour
- 1/4 pound mustard
- 1/4 ounce turmeric for coloring

Separate cauliflower into flowerets. Peel onions; slice peppers very fine; slice tomatoes and combine all four ingredients. Cover with the salt and let stand overnight. Drain. Cover with boiling water and cook until vegetables are soft. Drain. Heat the vinegar and pour over the flour, sugar, mustard, celery seed and turmeric which have been mixed together. Mix thoroughly. Add the pickles to the cooked vegetables and pour over the liquid. Cook about 10 minutes or until mixture thickens. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

RIPE CUCUMBER PICKLES

7 pounds prepared cucumbers (about 16 large-sized). First day - Peel and remove seeds and center of ripe cucumbers. Cut into chunks.

Dissolve one bottle of calcium hydroxide* in one gallon water. Add cucumber chunks and soak overnight.

Second day - Drain and rinse well. Soak in vinegar solution, using ratio of 1 cup white vinegar to 1 cup water for 15-20 minutes. Drain.

Make syrup:

- 10 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 cups white vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon oil of cinnamon*
- 1/4 teaspoon oil of cloves*

Bring to boil and pour over pickles, let stand overnight.

Third day - Drain, heat and pour over pickles again. Let stand overnight.

Fourth day - Heat pickles and syrup. Put in hot jars and seal. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes.

*May be purchased at drug stores.

PICKLES CARROTS (SWEET)

- 1 quart vinegar
- 1 tablespoon whole cloves
- 1 tablespoon whole allspice
- 1 tablespoon mace
- 1 quart sugar
- cinnamon stick

Boil young carrots until skins slip. Remove skins; slice or leave whole. Tie spices in a bag in boil in liquids with sugar. Pour over carrots. Let stand overnight. The next day, boil for 5 minutes. Remove spices and pack carrots into clean jars. Fill to within 1/2 inch of jar top with hot-spiced syrup. Screw lid tightly. Process 10 minutes in water bath.

BANANA PICKLES

- 4 quarts pickles
- 5 cups sugar
- 2 cups vinegar
- 1 teaspoon mustard seeds
- 1 teaspoon celery seeds
- 1 teaspoon turmeric
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup water

Peel and cut pickles in strips. Pack tightly in jars. Make a boiling syrup with the remaining ingredients and pour over the pickles. Process in a hot water bath just long enough to seal.

PARTY PICKLES

Wash cucumbers. Place whole cucumbers in pan. Cover with boiling water. Repeat 2 days. Drain. Slice into thick slices or chunks.

Combine: 8 cups sugar
5 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spice
4 cups vinegar

Bring to boil and pour over cucumbers. Let stand 2 days. On third day, bring to boil. Seal in jars. Note: 10 cucumbers makes about 5 pints.

Marie Sarver
Millerstown

SWEET DILL PICKLES

Combine: 3 and 3/4 cups vinegar
1 qt. water
6 cups sugar
3 tblsp. salt
4 1/2 tsp. tumeric
3/4 tsp. mustard seed

Combine and bring to a boil. Pour over pickles. Makes enough for six quarts. Put 1/2 tsp. dill seed in each can. Cut pickles lengthwise and pack in jars. Add dill seed and pour syrup over pickles, cold pack for five minutes.

Featured Recipe

This week's featured recipe is a favorite of Dottie Bard and her husband Ronald, who serve dinners in their home near Quarryville. This recipe for homemade ice cream makes a perfect accompaniment for her delicious chocolate cake with caramel frosting. It is Ronald who mixes up the ice cream, early on the day guests are to arrive. Dottie says they never keep it for another meal, because to be perfect it must be consumed the same day it is made.

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- vanilla instant pudding mix
- milk

Beat eggs, sugar and vanilla. Mix up 1/2 box of vanilla instant pudding, according to directions, then add to the egg and sugar mixture. Put in ice cream freezer container and add whole milk to make two quarts. The mixture is ready to be frozen.

Cook's Question Corner

If you are looking for a recipe but can't seem to find it anywhere, send your recipe request to Cook's Question Corner, care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 366, Lititz, PA 17543. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION-Mrs. Donna Steele, Vintondale, would like a recipe for a dessert called Havanna Banana. It has a tapioca base.

QUESTION-B. Haugh of Red Lion would like recipes for mulberry jelly and mulberry pie.

QUESTION-Carol Fantom, Delta, would like recipes for cake brownies; soft and fluffy biscuits like those served at fast food restaurants; banana cake that uses banana in the cake batter and between the layers with a good frosting; and coconut cake with yellow cake mix and a good frosting.

QUESTION-Karen Moyer, Portage, would like a recipe for dessert cups used for strawberry shortcakes like Holsum makes or any other recipe for strawberry shortcake.

QUESTION-Julia Shaull of Broque would like to know how to freeze cauliflower. She writes: "When I try to freeze cauliflower, it is watery and kind of gummy when defrosted and made. I try to blanch it properly."

QUESTION-Jeanne Kenna, Ottsville, would like a recipe for Dutch apple jam.

QUESTION-Mrs. Ray Keeny, New Freedom, would like to know what can be substituted when a recipe calls for evaporated milk.

QUESTION-Margaret Jones of Timontum, Md, would appreciate some recipes that use sugar substitutes for diabetics.

QUESTION-D. Becker, Elizabethtown, is looking for recipes to make pudding and gelatin popsicles.

QUESTION-Mrs. Gene Jennings, Fallston, MD, would like a recipe titled "Nothing" which appeared in this column several years ago. She recalls it was a cake dough which had a teaspoon of cherry pie filling dropped on top of each square.

ANSWER-Carol Fantom Delta requested a barbecue recipe using roast beef instead of hamburger. Thanks Mrs. Harold Dennis for sending the following recipe.

BAR B-Q

Grind in food chopper:
2 pounds precooked pork or use beef
1 pound precooked beef
1 medium onion
2 stalks celery
Add:
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoon worchester sauce
1 teaspoon vinegar
½ bottle ketchup (can add more if dry)

Correction

The July 25 column carried Edward Parent's advice on using phyllo sheets. He also included a recipe which should have been printed with his answer. Here is his recipe using phyllo with chicken broccoli:

Chicken with Broccoli Souffle and Mushrooms in Phyllo

3 whole chicken breasts or 6 split breasts
2 tablespoons butter
½ onion, chopped
½ pound mushrooms, finely chopped
1 small clove garlic, chopped
½ cup strong chicken broth
Dash freshly grated nutmeg
Salt, fresh ground black pepper
1 pound broccoli, cooked, well drained and finely chopped
2 tablespoons scallions, chopped
½ cup yogurt or sour cream
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram
4 egg whites, at room temperature

THE MICRO WAY — LANI BLOOMER

How Fast Is Your Microwave?

One of the most discouraging things I've learned in years is how completely unstandardized microwave ovens really are. Not only does the number of watts vary between ovens, but the way different manufacturers measure wattage varies. This means, that not all "600 watt" ovens have the same amount of power to start with. And this is just the beginning of the bad news!

The design of the oven (the size and shape of the inside and how the microwaves are distributed) also determines how fast and evenly it cooks. There are several other factors that affect the speed with which an oven cooks. But these are quite complicated, so I won't go into them.

After testing many different microwave ovens, Robert Schiffmann, a prominent microwave researcher, concluded that the design of the oven is more important in determining speed than the number of watts. In one comparison test, for example, a 450 watt oven boiled water faster than 650 watt oven!

Why am I telling you all this confusing stuff? For two reasons: First, perhaps it will make you feel better! If you've had trouble with microwave recipes being over or undercooked, don't despair. It's probably not you, but that your oven is very different from the ovens in which the recipe was tested.

Second, I'm going to change the way I give you the microwave recipes in this column, starting today. The general consensus at a recent seminar I attended was:

MICROWAVE COOKING TIMES ARE ALMOST USELESS!

In future recipes, I will give you the "doneness tests" first, and then give a microwave time estimate to work from. A "doneness test" is what should happen to the food, how it should look, etc. by the end of the cooking time.

Don't panic! Many conventional cookbooks you've used for years are written this way: "Bring to a boil and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth..."

A microwave time range will still be there as an estimate. If you have a "fast" oven, you'll use the shorter time in a recipe. If you have a "slow" oven, you'll need to use the longer times or even add a little time.

If you've tried some of the recipes in this column, you probably know already if you have a fast or slow oven. If not, start with the shortest times and add on until it's done. If you have to add a lot, you've got a slow oven!

Tabouli is a cold summer salad that vegetarians have been enjoying for years. It is easy to make, keeps well, and will add fiber to your diet as well as variety. You can add chopped cooked meat, tuna, or cubes of hard cheese if you want, to make it a main dish salad.

Tabouli is made with bulgur, wheat that has been boiled, dried, and then cracked. Bulgur has been used in the Mid East for thousands of years, and is now becoming available in our supermarkets. If you can't find it in your market, look for it in health food stores.

TABOULI

1 cup bulgur (cracked wheat)
2 cups hot water

16 sheets of phyllo
¾ cup butter, melted
2 cups chicken gravy

Bone chicken breasts. Split breast will separate naturally into 2 pieces . . . solid breast meat and a long, thin fillet. Cut the large piece into 3 strips. Combine any 3 pieces (strips, fillets) for 1 phyllo package; prepare 8 portions from 6 split breasts. Set chicken meat aside.

Saute onion in butter in large skillet until soft. Add mushrooms and saute 3 to 4 minutes. Add garlic and chicken broth and saute until moisture evaporates. Season with nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, and let cool.

Combine cooked broccoli with scallions, yogurt or sour cream, thyme, marjoram and ¼ teaspoon salt. Set aside.

Beat egg whites — they should not be stiff and dry but slightly under-beaten with enough moisture left so they will rise well in phyllo. Gently fold ¼ of the egg whites into the mushroom mixture, and the remaining ¾ into the broccoli mixture.

Use 2 sheets of phyllo per package. Stack them on top of each other and brush with melted butter. Place 1 generous tablespoon mushroom filling on end of phyllo closest to you. Place 3 cut pieces of chicken across on top of the mushroom filling. Place 3 tablespoons broccoli filling on top of chicken. Fold both sides phyllo over to center — package will be 6 inches across. Roll up the package, beginning with the end closest to you. The broccoli souffle side of the package should end up on top. Continue to complete 8 packages, brush with melted butter and bake in preheated 350°F. oven for 30 minutes. Spoon gravy on serving plates and place a phyllo package on top of gravy. Serves 8. Note: Next time, try it with sole fillets!

1 cup chopped cucumber
½ cup chopped green onion
½ cup sliced ripe olives
½ cup chopped fresh parsley (2 tablespoons dried)
2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint leaves OR ½ teaspoon dried oregano
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup vegetable oil
½ cup lemon juice

1. Combine bulgur and hot water in a 2 quart casserole. Cover and microwave until boiling: HIGH POWER FOR 5-10 MINUTES.

2. Stir, then simmer until all water is absorbed: MEDIUM POWER (50,5) FOR 10-15 MINUTES. Remove cover, set aside to cool, stirring occasionally to speed cooling, while you chop vegetables. Add chopped vegetables, mint and pepper to bulgur when cooled.

3. In a small shaker or bowl, combine oil and lemon juice. Shake or stir until blended, pour over salad and mix well. Chill several hours before serving cold on lettuce leaves. Or use to stuff tomato or pepper halves. Serves 8 as side dish.

NOTE: If you have a "fast" microwave, start with the shorter times given in the recipes. If your microwave is "slow", use the longer times or add times if needed.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

What goes up, must come down. That includes blood pressures (get it down or ultimately die), smoke (which brings you acid rain), and the apple which supposedly fell on Sir Isaac Newton's noggin and set in process a string of thoughts resulting in the Law of Gravity.

Possible exception to the "what goes up" rule is the six-foot height of the "baby" of the family. The down side there is his continuing influence on the level of household food provisions.

Anyway, the law about up and down is keeping farmers swamped with work these last many weeks. It's called putting up hay.

After last season's drought, I solemnly vowed to never complain about putting up hay - just so there was some there to put. So, it is inspiration, dedication and perspiration (and thankfulness!) with which we welcome each new wagonload lumbering in from the fields.

In one of Mother Nature's ceaseless jokes played on her humans, hay gets best fit for baling in the hottest, stickiest, summer weather. So what goes up in hay-ing season is what TV weathermen are found of calling the three "H" words: heat, humidity, haze.

Anyone stuck for long up in a hot hay mow, under a metal barn roof, on a 95-degree day in early August, might add a fourth word to that list.

Finding us shorthanded during the busiest haymaking days, I offer to help with the process of hay-making ups and downs. Sit-down jobs, like baling and shuttling wagons, are left to those more experienced: the kids. Mom's levels of capability and availability put her on the wagon. They do - bless their hearts - give ole' Mom and break by letting her down on the wagon, and not sending her up under that metal roof.

By the unloading stage, hay has already seen its up and downs. It grows up, is mown down, baled up, tossed up and lands down in a wagon, randomly, with dozens of similar, scratchy, rectangular packs of dried stuff.

Ideally, the dried stuff is reasonably soft alfalfa, timothy, orchard grass or similar species of suitable forages. Hay makers get kinda' down when what's been baled up are thistles, Johnsongrass, random canes of multiflora rose, or wild cherry limbs. Hay unloaders get real down when limp - or worse, crawling - field snakes and cut, crimped and rolled groundhog remains turn up.

Object of the haywagon unloading process is to get 125 pick-up-stick-stacked bales out of a high-sided wagon, down onto the elevator and up to the candidate for sainthood stacking in the mow.

So, you can crawl up on top of the wagon stack and start throwing down. Or, you can stand down and reach up, with the result that half the load will tumble down - generally in the direction of one's head.

Two can play the up-down game, one up on the stack, throwing down, the other picking up and putting down on the elevator.

An elevator is a longish, moving-ladder-like piece of equipment, designed to carry bales up just beyond one's reach, before spitting them down on the floor, the dog, or the electrical hookup. Elevators come in two speeds: snailpace and Mach 5. We have one of each. Traveling at Mach 5, the metal slats which are supposed to carry the bales up also bite through strings when bales are plunked down onto them.

Inevitably there will be at least one wagon which adds yet another dimension to up and down. This third dimension is "through."

Through is what happens to your leg when a hay-laden sneaker connects with the hole on the wagon floor. And, while once you were up, going through will put you down - or at least part of you. When your pain and temper levels, which were up, come down, you can haul your aching body up through the wagon and get back down to the ups and downs of hay-ing season.

Don't worry. The swelling that has risen up on your leg, will eventually go down, leaving only a few fist-sized, tell-tale, black-n-blue bruises.

Hallelujah for hay to put up! But could someone please close up the hole in the wagon, before the next cutting comes down?

Maryland Holds 4-H State-Wide Judging Practice

Maryland held one of it's first state wide 4-H dairy judging practices at Pintail Point Farm owned by Louis Schaefer. More than 55 4-H'ers met from all over the state including some from the farthest county in the state, Washington County. Dr. Lee Majeski, from the University of Maryland, and John Hall, extension agent for Kent and Queen Ann Counties put the minds of these young 4-H'ers through 4 classes of Holsteins. Later they traveled to the nearby farm of Bonafield to judge 4 classes of Jerseys. Oral and Written reasons were given by these 4-H'ers to help sharpen the eyes for the upcoming state contest held at the state fair in Timonium in September.

Appetite For Vanilla Grows

HUNT VALLEY, Md. — "Things are humming these days in vanilla corner," says Gregg Hart of McCormick & Co. Inc., a major producer of spices and flavorings.

He points out a bank of seven large, green, stainless-steel tanks along one wall of the company's extract plant. A murky, dark-brown liquid splashes behind the small, porthole-like windows on the front of each tank.

"The tanks function much like home coffee makers," Hart explains. "But what we have percolating is a mixture of crushed vanilla beans, alcohol, and water that will eventually be transformed into vanilla extract. Our tanks operate most of the year."

Feeding Huge Appetite

Importers and manufacturers have been working overtime to satisfy America's growing appetite for real vanilla. The chemical structure of the vanilla bean is so complex that not all the components that contribute to its distinct flavor and aroma have yet been identified.

The irresistible flavoring comes from a small, yellowish-green orchid, the only one of thousands of orchid species that produces edible fruit. More than 90 percent of the world's vanilla comes from Madagascar and the Comoro Islands, in the Indian Ocean, and from Indonesia.

U.S. vanilla-bean imports last year totaled 1,000 tons valued at more than $58.5 million, compared with 817 tons valued at $47.5 million in 1985.

Chat Nielsen Jr., president of Nielsen-Massey Vanillas, a manufacturer in Lake Forest, Ill., attributes the surge in imports in recent years to the explosive growth of the gourmet ice cream industry, which uses only real vanilla. "Sales of artificially flavored vanilla products have been flat," he says.

Vanilla accounted for almost a third of the record 924 million gallons of ice cream produced in the United States last year. "We give them all these flavors, and they still prefer vanilla," says Becky Davenport of the International Ice Cream Association. "There are still a lot of purists out there."

But vanilla does a lot more than sell ice cream. It flavors baked goods and colas, adds aroma to perfumes, and gives a special taste to some liquors. "One of our more offbeat customers is a big tobacco company," says Nielsen. "I think they scent some of their piper mixtures with vanilla."

Vanilla, Meet Chocolate

Vanilla even finds its way into many products flavored by its major taste competitor, chocolate. The happy marriage of vanilla and chocolate was consummated by the Aztecs of Mexico, who concocted a drink that blended vanilla pods and cocoa beans long before the first Europeans arrived in the New World.

Sixteenth-century Spanish conquistadores returned samples of vanilla to the Old World, where the flavoring eventually became a hit on its own.

England's Queen Elizabeth I doted on vanilla. Other 17th-century Europeans valued it for more than its taste, using the bean to treat indigestion, headaches, and "anemic and exhausted young women."

Thomas Jefferson is credited with beginning America's love affair with vanilla. He was so taken with its fragrance and flavor that he brought a supply of vanilla beans from France in 1789, when he returned to Philadelphia, one of the new nation's temporary capitals. The town was soon abuzz with stories of his exotic desserts.

Europeans hoping to capitalize on the vanilla craze smuggled cuttings out of Mexico in the 18th century, but with little success. Despite the best efforts of horticulturists, the orchids stubbornly refused to bear fruit. Dark rumors of a curse by Montezuma haunted the plant.

A Belgian botanist, studying the plants in the wild, punctured the myth by observing that the flowers had to be individually pollinated to bear fruit. This was usually accomplished by a small bee found only in Mexico. That country, once an important vanilla exporter, today ships out relatively small quantities of the beans.

The real breakthrough occurred in 1841, when a former slave from the French island of Reunion, in the Indian Ocean, perfected a method of hand-pollinating the vanilla-producing orchids. Plantations soon sprang up on Madagascar and other nearby islands.

Hand pollination of thousands of blooms, which open over a two-month period, starts a process that makes vanilla one of the world's most labor-intensive agricultural products. Curing alone takes three to six months, beginning with a scalding bath, followed by a daily ritual of sunning and "sweating," and then considerable time in a curing shed.

More than half the world's vanilla comes from the island of Madagascar. When ripe, the fragrant seed pods are spread out to cure under the hot sun of Antalaha (left). To guard against theft of the valuable plant, some growers prick their initials in the pods (right). Besides Madagascar, the two other chief vanilla-growers are Indonesia and the Comoros Islands. The value of U.S. vanilla imports last year totaled more than $58.5 million.

The 4-to-12-inch pods are so valuable in some regions of Madagascar that growers prick their initials in them to thwart their theft by "vanilla rustlers."

Avoid Summer Food Poisoning

When your stomach does flip-flops and you think you have a virus, it's just possible that the virus is food poisoning.

Many people think of food poisoning as a mishap that sweeps through a gathering sometimes hospitalizing the victims. However, food poisoning is not confined to public places; it can happen in your kitchen.

Each year more than 2 million cases of bacterial food poisoning occur in the United States despite our advanced food processing technology.

Food poisoning should not be taken lightly. Most cases of food poisoning are caused by bacteria that are everywhere — in the air we breathe and on everything we touch.

The organisms that most often cause bacterial food poisoning are Salmonella, Staphylococcus and Clostridium perfringens.

Because bacteria are everywhere, food contamination is universal. Prevention becomes a matter of stopping the growth of these bacteria or killing them at the proper time to prevent their growth and possible poisoning of food.

This means you must process, cook or prepare food using methods that will prevent food poisoning. There are 3 basic rules that help prevent food poisoning: Keep hot food hot; Keep cold food cold; and Keep food clean.

Simple as they may sound, these rules will control, stop or destroy the bacteria responsible for food borne illness.

Keeping food hot means cooking food thoroughly, holding it at a hot temperature (above 140 degrees F.) during serving and fully reheating stored foods. Keeping food cold means refrigerating perishables or leftovers promptly. Keeping food clean means avoiding unsanitary practices that contaminate food.

You should keep your refrigerator between 35 and 40 degrees Fahrenheit and your freezer temperature should be zero or below. Germs on food do not multiply very fast at these temperatures.

When you prepare any salad containing mayonnaise or salad dressing, chill all the ingredients, thoroughly before you make the salad. Refrigerate the salad after it is prepared.

You can keep unopened vacuum-sealed packages of lunch meats in the refrigerator for two weeks. Once you open them, wrap them well and use them within three to five days. Store frankfurters in their original packages and use them no later than one week after the "sell by" date on the package.

Do not buy or use food from leaking, bulging or dented cans or containers. Do not taste or use food that has a foul odor or any food that spurts liquid when the container is opened.

It is nearly impossible to list all the potentially dangerous situations. However, with common sense you can easily practice proper food safety.

Don't Dress To Attract Bees

What could be more perfect -- a soft breeze, blossoms all around and the languid sound of buzzing bees. Perfect, that is, until you're stung!

"Why me?"

The answer may lie in the clothes you're wearing. Even if you haven't disturbed the bee by your actions you may have confused it by the fabric and texture of your clothes.

Bees have a highly developed sense of sight and smell. They can distinguish several colors such as yellow, orange, blue, green, and ultra violet. They are also notoriously good at distinguishing among smells, preferring one type of clover over another. But flowers are not the only object of their interest.

Bees seem to be attracted to certain types of clothing fabrics -- especially those of animal origin such as wool, felt, and leathers. They become entangled by fabrics with fuzzy textures. If you combine these with a tantalizing body chemistry or the fragrances of personal grooming products, you may be a natural target.

Bees, like other creatures, get defensive and even angry if confused. When you turn out to be just you and not a flower, the bee may leave his stinger in reply! So, if you're spending the afternoon in the garden, wear cottons and other smooth fabric blends and leave grooming aids at home. Use an insect repellent instead of your favorite perfume. Both you and the bees will be happier.

First Annual Ice Cream Extravaganza in Adams Co.

BY JOSIE HESS

Adams County Dairy Princess
On Sunday afternoon, July 12, 1987, approximately 1100 people enjoyed National Ice Cream Day in Adams County. The Adams County Dairy Promotion Committee sponsored an Ice Cream Extravaganza at the Gettysburg Recreational Park from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Adams County dairy farmers, wives, and children helped to serve this refreshing dessert during the six hour event. Ninety gallons of ice cream were served.

The ice cream was served in 3-scoop sundae dishes, ice cream cones, and rootbeer floats; everyone was allowed to put as many toppings as they desired on their sundaes. The toppings available were pineapple, blueberry, black raspberry, butterscotch, chocolate, cherry, strawberry, nuts, whipped cream, and marshino cherries. The ice cream was donated by Green's Dairy and the flavors were chocolate, vanilla, crazy vanilla, and raspberry.

As weather permitted, entertainment was performed. Mr. John Wolfe, a Gettysburg attorney, performed a magic show for a half hour. The Apple Tones Barbra Shop Quartet sang for a half hour and The Fair Squares square-danced until rain ended their performance.

Although the weather was not always cooperative, the crowd never dwindled. The cost of the sundaes were chosen by each person. Pieces of paper with prices ranging from 5 cents to 75 cents were in a milk pail and each person drew the cost of his or her sundae from the milk pail. Children as well as adults were anxious to see the price they needed to pay for their original creations.

Also on hand during the day was Molly Moo (the pink cow). She, along with the Adams County Dairy Princess, distributed I Love Ice Cream stickers, and cow erasers. Children could be photographed with Molly Moo and the Dairy Princess for a fee of $1.00. T-shirts were sold and dairy pamphlets were distributed. While people waited in line, the Dairy Princess asked questions about the dairy industry and if the person answered correctly, they received a coupon for a free sundae. Door prizes were drawn at the close of the event.

The Ice Cream Extravaganza was a huge success. Everyone — young and old — enjoyed themselves. This event will undoubtedly become an annual celebration in Adams County.

Winners At Regional Revue 4-H Fashion

Lycoming Co. Correspondent
 Fashion conscious 4-H'ers from nine counties congregated on July 21 at the Genetti Lycoming Hotel, Williamsport, to compete in the third annual 4-H Regional Fashion Revue. There were 59 participants in the day-long event that included sessions on judging, modeling, what a career in fashion entails, finalist judging and a style show.

In the senior division six gold medal winners were chosen to represent the Northeast-West Region at the State 4-H Fashion Revue, August 4, on the Penn State University Campus. Six junior gold medal participants were also recognized for outstanding work.

Senior gold medal winners from Columbia County were Kim Beishline, James Aten; Snyder County— Linda Meiser, Joe Kantz; Bradford County— Stacey Hollenback; and Northumberland County— Christine Hoffman.

At the State Revue senior division, gold medal winners will compete with top winners from other regions. The state winner will get an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago during December.

Receiving the junior gold medal awards were Malena Moore, Abbey Remley, and Andrea Weaver of Snyder County; Heath Croll, Angela Eberhart— Union County; and Tiffany Zyry of Northumberland County.

Semi-finalists in the senior division were Joan Gilliland, Terri Packard, Bradford County; Amy Remley, Doug Haladay, Columbia County; Beth Heverly, Lycoming County; and Amy Cotner, Union County.

Junior division semi-finalists were Kelly Beishline, Angie LeVan, and Kelly Hamilton, Columbia County; Catie DeLong & Jean Styer of Northumberland County; Cheryl Viaud & Wendy Mistsifer, Lycoming County; Amy Packard, Bradford County, and Darla Landis, Montour County.

Hazel Vandeventer, Adjunct Professor in Faculty Apparel at Philadelphia College of Textiles and Sciences, told 4-H members what they could expect if they chose modeling for a career while Doris Holliday, Director of Holliday Studio of Modeling and Charm and graduate student, Jennifer Hawn helped with modeling sessions.

Judges for the third annual regional revue were Shirley Crossley, Jan St. Clair, Ann Finck, Judy Bowersox, Eva Hurliman, and Lois Wagner.

Chairperson of the revue was Eleanor Yarrison, Lycoming County; co-chairperson was Levetta Comstock, Bradford County.

Adams 4-H Dairy Show Held

BY GINGER SECRIST MYERS
Adams County Correspondent
Arendtsville — Several members of the Adams County 4-H Dairy Calf Club netted multiple victories at the Club's annual round-up held last Saturday in conjunction with the Adams County 4-H Fair. Denton Guise, York Springs, Christine Todt, Hanover, Kathy Reeve, East Berlin, and Joy Hess, Gettysburg, each captured two champion rosettes in their respective breeds. The show, held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, was judged by Patricia K. Beachy, Keymar, MD.

Denton Guise picked up his two champion titles by exhibiting both the Senior and Reserve Senior Champion Holsteins. Selected as Senior Champion was PA-Buttonwood Columbus Sybil, the first place Sr. Two Yr. Old. Beachy granted the flashy, black cow an advantage of correctness of rear legs over Guise's Reserve Champion, PA-Buttonwood Joe Eloise, the winning Jr. Two Yr. Old. Beachy summerized her placings by stating that these were the two cows that she felt could take the most competition in future shows.

It was a blue ribbon day for Christine Todt as her two project animals were selected as Junior and Reserve Junior Champions. Chris was also selected as the Champion Showman of the day.

Selected Junior Champion was Todt's Intermediate Calf, Todtdale Brady Dynamo Joy. Beachy praised this calf for her strength of topline and dairyness. Following most closely the pattern of the Junior Champion, Beachy selected the first place Summer Yearling, Todtdale Prime Gold Katrina, as the Reserve Junior Champion.

In the Jersey competition Katy

Reever took home a fistfull of ribbons, winning three of the four champion titles. Kathy was also selected as the Champion Fitter of the show.

Jersey Senior Champion went to Smokey Hill St. Jeff Jen, the first place Sr. Two Yr. Old. The winning Jr. Two Yr. Old, MP Quick-silver Susys Shine, was the Reserve Senior Champion. Junior Champion went to the first place Junior Calf, KPR Fascinator Shines Sandra. Reever exhibited the three animals.

Reserve Junior Champion

Jersey was shown by Daniel Yingling, Gettysburg. He showed an Intermediate Calf, Dinahs Top Brass Dixie.

In the Brown Swiss competition, Joy Hess Gettysburg won both Junior and Reserve Junior Champion titles with her two Intermediate Yearlings, Quiet Valley King Kathy and Quiet Valley JK Queen respectively.

Winner of the Mini-Showmen competition for members 10 years old and under as of January 1st was Matthew Guise, York Springs.

Northeast Region Fashion Revue

Six 4-H'ers will represent the Northeastern-West Region at the State 4-H Fashion Revue, August 5, on Penn State's University Campus, Eleanor Eleanor K. Yarrison, Extension Home Economist, Lycoming County, announced today. The Event will be held during State 4-H Achievement Days.

The following gold ribbon winners were selected at the Regional Revue, July 21, in Williamsport.

Kim Belshline- Columbia County; Linda Meiser, Snyder County; Christine Hoffman, Northumberland County; James Aten, Columbia County; Joe Kantz, Snyder County; Stacey Hollenback, Bradford County.

At the State Revue, these 4-H'ers will compete with top winners from each of the other regions. The State winner will get an expense paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, December 6-10, 1987.

Six blue ribbons were awarded in addition to the six gold ones.

4-H'ers receiving blue ribbons include:

Joan Gilliland, Bradford County; Amy Fotner, Union County; Terri Packard, Bradford County; Amy Remley, Columbia County; Beth Heverly, Lycoming County; Doug Halady, Columbia County.

A total of 62 4-H'ers in the Northeast-West Region took part in the Revue. Each was a county winner and received a certificate of participation. Simplicity Pattern Company, and White/Elna Sewing Machine Company, sponsors of the National 4-H Fashion Revue program, provide the awards and the Congress trip.

Six junior participants were also recognized for outstanding work. They were:

Malena Moore, Snyder County; Abbey Remaley, Snyder County; Andrea Weaver, Snyder County; Heath Croll, Union County; Tiffany Zyry, Northumberland County; Angela Eberhart, Union County.

DESIGNED FOR TOTAL PERFORMANCE

Designed for total performance

Step up to better performance with the Model 900 forage harvester. The 12 knives of the 21-inch diameter cutterhead deliver uniformly-cut, high-quality forage. Here are just some of the features available that make the "900" a harvester designed for total performance:

- Metalert® II electronic metal detector—protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.
- Electromagnetic clutches—give instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Easy-adjust shearbar—makes adjustment fast and precise.
- Two-speed blower—is energy efficient.
- Hydraulic swing tongue—makes mounting attachments fast and easy.

The New Model 790 with five-year cutterhead protection

When it's time to chop, you want a harvester that keeps on going. And that's what you get with the new Model 790 forage harvester with optional Metalert® II electronic metal detector. Because the Metalert II system works so well, you get a five-year guarantee against cutterhead "blow-ups" caused by ferrous metals. Metalert II looks for trouble before it happens. You avoid costly repairs... downtime... and keep nasty bits of chopped metal out of your livestock feed. The new Model 790 is available with either 540-rpm or 1000-rpm drive. And, the massive 12-knife cutterhead has single-edged hardened alloy knives with tungsten surfaces. Stop in and take a look at the new Model 790 today.

Exclusive - 12-knife cutterhead

High-quality feed is important to you. So you'll like the fine, uniform chop you get from the Model 718 forage harvester. It's the only medium-duty chopper available with a 12-knife cutterhead to give you a controlled, even cut. The uniform length-of-cut makes for easier unloading, blowing, storing and feeding. And you can choose from four crop-saving heads—a one- or two-row cornhead, a windrow pickup or a sicklebar.

No wonder the "718" is the best-selling medium-duty forage harvester in the country.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

In summertime when I see a farmer and his children bending over hoes in a tobacco field, it reminds me of my youth.

As the oldest of seven girls, I felt that I was the number one hired boy. School did not last until the middle of June as it does now, but rather its last days were the end of April. This meant that we were available to pull tobacco plants early in the morning in late May and early June.

As we sat or crouched on a hard plank suspended over the bed of small plants, the sun beat down on us. Sometimes my Grandmother Shreiner brought us a welcome pitcher of lemonade. The tobacco to be transplanted was stacked into a wooden box that leaned against a shade tree at the edge of the garden.

After a hearty meal of potato soup, ham and rice pudding, we started out for a far field. Our land stretched almost a mile in length and some of it bordered the Conestoga Creek (that is what it was called at that time).

A burlap bag was laid over our dresses as my sister and I settled ourselves on the hard metal seat of the planter at ground level. We held the plants on our laps and inserted one into the ground every time a squirt of water came from the barrel on which our father sat to drive. Our horses, Ben and Fred, walked slowly as we went back and forth across the fields until we had 15 acres planted.

LANCASTER — Lancaster County Society of Farm Women #22 has awarded a $500 college scholarship to Lucinda Harnish, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harnish, Willow Street.

A 1987 graduate of Lancaster Mennonite High School, Lucinda will study home economics at Goshen College in Indiana. Her goal is to teach home economics to mentally handicapped persons or design clothing for physically handicapped individuals.

Our break came when the planter was driven into the creek to be filled with water—five-gallon bucketful by five-gallon bucketful. During our bit of free time, we could run through the nearby woods and do some exploring. Although, sometimes we had to do the filling instead of our father. You know, I still enjoy walks in the woods.

Veal Queen, has excelled in her 4-H clothing project, most recently being named a regional winner in the fashion review program. She has helped with the county fashion review program for several years, and has been a participant for seven years.

She served as news reporter, secretary, vice president and secretary of her 4-H Club. She also was a part of the Future Agriculturists of America at Lancaster Mennonite High School, and has played field hockey and sang in the chorus.

This is the third year the Society has awarded a scholarship designated specifically for someone planning to study home economics or agriculture.

Hostetter Wins Lebanon Dairy Show

BY J. EVAN REIFF

Dale Hostetter, Annville, swept the major open Holstein awards by winning champion and reserve female titles and both premier breeder and exhibitor banners at Lebanon Area Fair.

Dale-Pride Specs Paula, a home-bred three-year-old, took the top female honors for Hostetter at the 190 head show. Paula is classified VG-86 and is working on a 21,000 lb. three year production record. Paula was sired by Hostetter's own bull, Dale-Pride Rorae Spectacular. Judge L. Leroy Plance, Wellsboro, found the champion's show winning udder particularly impressive.

"She wasn't terrible big, but is real well balanced cow," commented Plance. "Her width and height of udder is her real strong point."

The reserve champion, Dale-Pride Pete Agatha, stood second to the champion in the three-year-old class. Agatha is classified as an excellent-90 and has 21,000 lb. production record. She was sired by Straight-Pine Elevation Pete.

A father and son operation, the Hostetters milk a 100 head registered Holstein herd and farm 500 acres.

Two young Bomgardners from Ono captured both champion and reserve junior heifer titles. The first place senior heifer calf, owned by Kevin Bomgardner, was chosen for the top junior female honors. Loving-Meadows Rowena was sired by Hanoverhill Counselor-ET. Corwin Bomgardner walked away with the reserve junior female title on his intermediate heifer entry, Loving-Meadows Baby Janelle.

Atlantic Dairy Sponsors Students

SOUTHAMPTON — Atlantic Dairy Cooperative is sponsoring six high school students to attend the National Institute on Cooperative Education Aug. 11-14 in St. Louis, Mo.

The students, all relatives of Atlantic members, were selected to attend the NICE conference based on their participation at the Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives Summer Institute held at Juniata College in July.

Representing Atlantic are: Sue Burkhart, Mohnton; Christine Davidson, Shippensburg; Benjamin Dum, Elliptsburg; Tim Eachus, Elmer, N.J.; Susan Eisenhart, New Park; and Dwight Stoltzfus, Morgantown.

A senior at Twin Valley High School, Sue Burkhart is the daughter of Richard and Nancy Burkhart. She is a member of the Future Farmers of America (FFA), the lacrosse team and the Robinson Lutheran Church.

Christine Davidson, the daughter of Robert and Brenda Davidson, is a junior at Shippensburg Area Senior High School. She participates on the track, cross country and hockey teams and is a member of the 4-H, FFA and church youth group.

The son of Benjamin and Donna Dum, Benjamin Dum Jr. will be a freshman at Penn State University this fall. While in high school, he participated in the FFA and 4-H. He is a member of the Pa. Junior Holstein Association.

Tim Eachus, the son of T. Glen and Ella May Eachus, is a senior at Cumberland Regional High School. His activities include FFA and 4-H.

The daughter of Rodney and Sara Eisenhart, Sue Eisenhart is a senior at Spring Grove High School. She is a member of the field hockey team, 4-H and her church youth group. She is also the reigning Pa. Jersey Cattle Queen.

A senior at Twin Valley High School, Dwight Stoltzfus is the son of Harvey W. and Mary Jane Stoltzfus. His activities include the German Club, FFA, 4-H and his church youth group.

The American Institute of Cooperation, based in Washington, D.C., sponsors the National Institute on Cooperative Education to explain the role of cooperatives in today's business world. The theme for this year's conference is "A New Spirit of Cooperation."

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative represents 4,100 dairy farm families in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Farm Women

Lancaster Society 19

Members of Lancaster Society 19 met at Herr Park, Landisville July 12 for a covered dish picnic. Over 20 members and their husbands attended.

Committee members Alta Miller, Miriam Denlinger and Opal Ruhl served the meal on fern and basket decorated tables.

Past president Lovina Musser conducted the business meeting. The group made final plans for helping with bingo at Conestoga View. The county picnic will be held Aug. 4 at the Hoffman Building, Quarryville.

Betty Saylor led the group in games.

Lancaster Society 28

Members of Lancaster Society 28 met July 23 at the Espenshade Recreation Room for a mother/daughter ice cream social. Hostesses were Helen Rohrer, Evelyn Hess, Dorothy High, Grace Deatine and Buelah Landis.

The group gave $75 to the county project, the Water Street Rescue Mission.

Speaker for the evening was Olive Yoder, who spoke on "Footprints in Life."

The next program will be held Aug. 20, when the group will tour the Conestoga House and gardens.

Buying Bedding

Most of us will spend one-third of our lives in bed, so the bedding we choose should be right for us and right for sleeping, says Maryetta Dorricott, Delaware County Cooperative Extension home economist.

On the other hand, although bedding is important, some advice about it has over-emphasized its role in our lives to the point where some of us find shopping for bedding the most difficult furniture shopping we do.

When should you replace the bedding you already own? Here are some ways to know if you need bedding.

•A lumpy, bumpy mattress is not a good one; a squeaking mattress indicates that the mattress is not supporting you properly.

•If, when you are sleeping in another bed, you find the mattress a good deal more comfortable than the one you have at home, you need a new mattress.

•Finally, don't concentrate only on your own bedding and ignore other beds in your home. Good hosts and hostesses sleep on guest room beds at least once a year as a test.

New Holland "Super Boom" loaders lift the payload forward as the boom rises. So you get more forward dump reach where you need it most. Extra dump reach means you can load the center of a tandem-axle dump truck.

Super Boom loaders also feature a longer wheelbase for increased stability and fast cycle times for more productivity.

Southeastern Region's Top 4-H Seamstresses Model Projects

MECHANICSBURG — The best of the southeastern region's 4-H seamstresses modeled their sewing projects for judges during the Capital Section 4-H Fashion Revue, held July 22 at Cumberland Valley High School.

Gold ribbon winners in the senior division this year were Melanie Kuntz, Adams County; Stacy Reaver, Adams County; Alissa Hooper, Lancaster County; Cindy Harnish, Lancaster County; Judy Rohrer, Lancaster County; Deb Shenk, Lancaster County; and Christie McDonald, Franklin County. These young women will represent the Capital Region at State Fashion Revue, scheduled for Aug. 5 at Eisenhower Auditorium on the University Park Campus of Penn State University.

State revue judges will select 10 honorees whose combined scores from State Revue and submitted 4-H reports will determine Pennsylvania's Fashion Revue representative for 1987.

ter County; Amy Fyock, Lancaster County; and Sonja Smith, Adams County.

Blue ribbon winners in the junior division were Rochelle Baxter, Lancaster County; Dina Smoker, Lancaster County; Lori Miller, Dauphin County; Jenny Gladfelter, York County; and Tanya Petry, Adams County.

In addition to judging, the day-long program also included educational workshops. Pam Steele of Boscov's, Camphill, presented a program titled, "That Something Extra." Lebanon County summer home economist Lori Waltz presented a video look at how fashion happens, and Linda Siegel, former Lebanon County 4-H agent, discussed competition and stress.

The guests' program offered several workshops, including, "Sew What's New," by Sally Miller, master clothing and textiles volunteer from Adams County; and "You be the Judge," by Wendy Hamilton, 4-H youth specialist with Penn State University.

Participants modeled their garments in a fashion show in the afternoon.

Lebanon County 4-H'ers Earn Regional Honors

MECHANICSBURG — Lebanon County 4-H'ers received honors in three regional contests held recently. Six members took top awards during Regional 4-H Night held July 9 at Cumberland Valley High School.

Kelly Lawrence, Stephanie Wolfe, and Dawn Hawryluk received blue ribbons for their demonstrations in the animal science division. Becke Grumbine received a red ribbon for her plant science demonstration entitled "Accent Naturally." Junior demonstrators Jennifer and Michelle Ungemach captured blue ribbons in clothing and textiles and foods and nutrition areas.

Lebanon County 4-H Horse Bowl members earned awards during the Southeast Regional Horse Bowl Competition held July 8 at the Berks County Ag Center. The Junior Horse Bowl Team captured second place in the contest. Members of the team were Michelle Slaybaugh, Rodney Meyer, Amanda Wineski and Jonathan Bixler. Senior Horse Bowl Team members, Rob Kain, Marion Christenson, Niki Nye, and Jennifer Hanshaw captured fourth place honors. The County Horse Bowl Teams are coached by Judy Leroy.

Dairy and Livestock 4-H members competed July 2 in regional competition in York County. Junior Livestock Judging Contestants, Darren Grumbine, Donald Kleinfelter, and Brian Kreider, placed fifth, sixth, and seventh respectively as individuals and second as a team. The Senior Livestock Judging Team placed fifth. Team members were Daryl Grumbine, Alan Auman, and Matt

Bushong. Lebanon County Livestock Judging coaches are Mike States, Kim Horning, and Ken Winebark.

The Junior Dairy Bowl Team captured fourth place honors at the York contest. Members of the team were Craig Sellers, Cory Bomgardner, Ricki Bashore, and Jennifer Bashore. The Senior Dairy Bowl Team placed fifth. Members of the Senior Team were Lynette Shuey, Laura Harding, Sherry Donmoyer, and Judy Mase.

The County Dairy Bowl Teams are coached by Sue Werner.

The three Regional contests are crucial in preparing 4-H'ers for state level competition to be held during Penn State 4-H Week, August 3 to 6, at Penn State University. The week's activities will feature recognition of 4-H'ers demonstrated activities, leadership training, opportunities for cultural and intellectual enrichment, perspective on current concerns of young people, and challenge to 4-H'ers skills and knowledge.

Lebanon 4-H'ers Attend Citizen-Washington Focus

LEBANON — Jennifer Allwein and Eric Funk, Lebanon, attended Citizenship-Washington Focus a week-long experience in citizenship and leadership training at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C., earlier this month.

Jennifer and Eric are two of 46 4-H members from Pennsylvania selected to attend. The program is designed to help young people understand the structure and function of our government, country heritage and the importance of active citizen participation. Nine states were represented.

Using the nation's capital as "classroom," the program included a day on Capitol Hill to meet with members of Congress and see government in action. On the visit to Capitol Hill they met with Rep. Robert Walker. The Pennsylvania delegation also met with Senators Arlen Specter and John Heinz, III.

Field trips to historical and cultural sites as well as to federal agencies and community organizations were among the most informative and exciting parts of the week for the 4-H'ers. Some of the interesting field trips included a night view of Washington, visits to various agencies and organizations, Capitol Hill Day, Kennedy Center, and the United States Navy Yard to view the summer ceremony of pageantry and precision. They also enjoyed an evening at a Washington, D.C. dinner theatre. In workshop sessions at the National 4-H Center, the young people discussed contemporary issues and concerns, and ways in which skills and knowledge gained during the week can be applied to the 4-H program here in Lebanon County.

For Jennifer and Eric, one of the best parts of the experience was the opportunity to share ideas with other 4-H members from across the country.

COMPACT Stake Body

Increased hauling capacity for your down-sized pickup.

Your energy-saving, small pickup, teamed with the versatile Omaha Standard Compak stake body, is a smart combination. Available with wood or steel floors in platform lengths of 7' or 7'6" and widths of 72" or 78"

Corner and rear identification lights are built into the platform. All steel stake racks feature a two-section rear, spring-loaded rack connectors, and automatic spring-loaded rack hold downs.

Underbody steel tool boxes with lockable paddle latch, rear step bumper and steel bulkhead with full-width mesh window are sensible options.

Compak platforms and stake bodies are ideal for delivery services, contractors, electricians, nurseries and other trades.

Real Seal deal: Buy 5 bags of Agway Milk Replacer and get this pitcher free.

Right now, Agway is offering a free Real Seal pitcher when you buy five bags of your choice of Agway White or Blue Label Milk Replacer.

You'll enjoy serving fresh milk from a pitcher that symbolizes all that's wholesome and good about dairy products.

At the same time, you'll be ensuring a healthier start for your calves. Because Agway Milk Replacers are nutritionally balanced to help your calves develop faster. And dollar for dollar, pound for pound, it's more profitable to feed milk replacer and sell the milk in your tank.

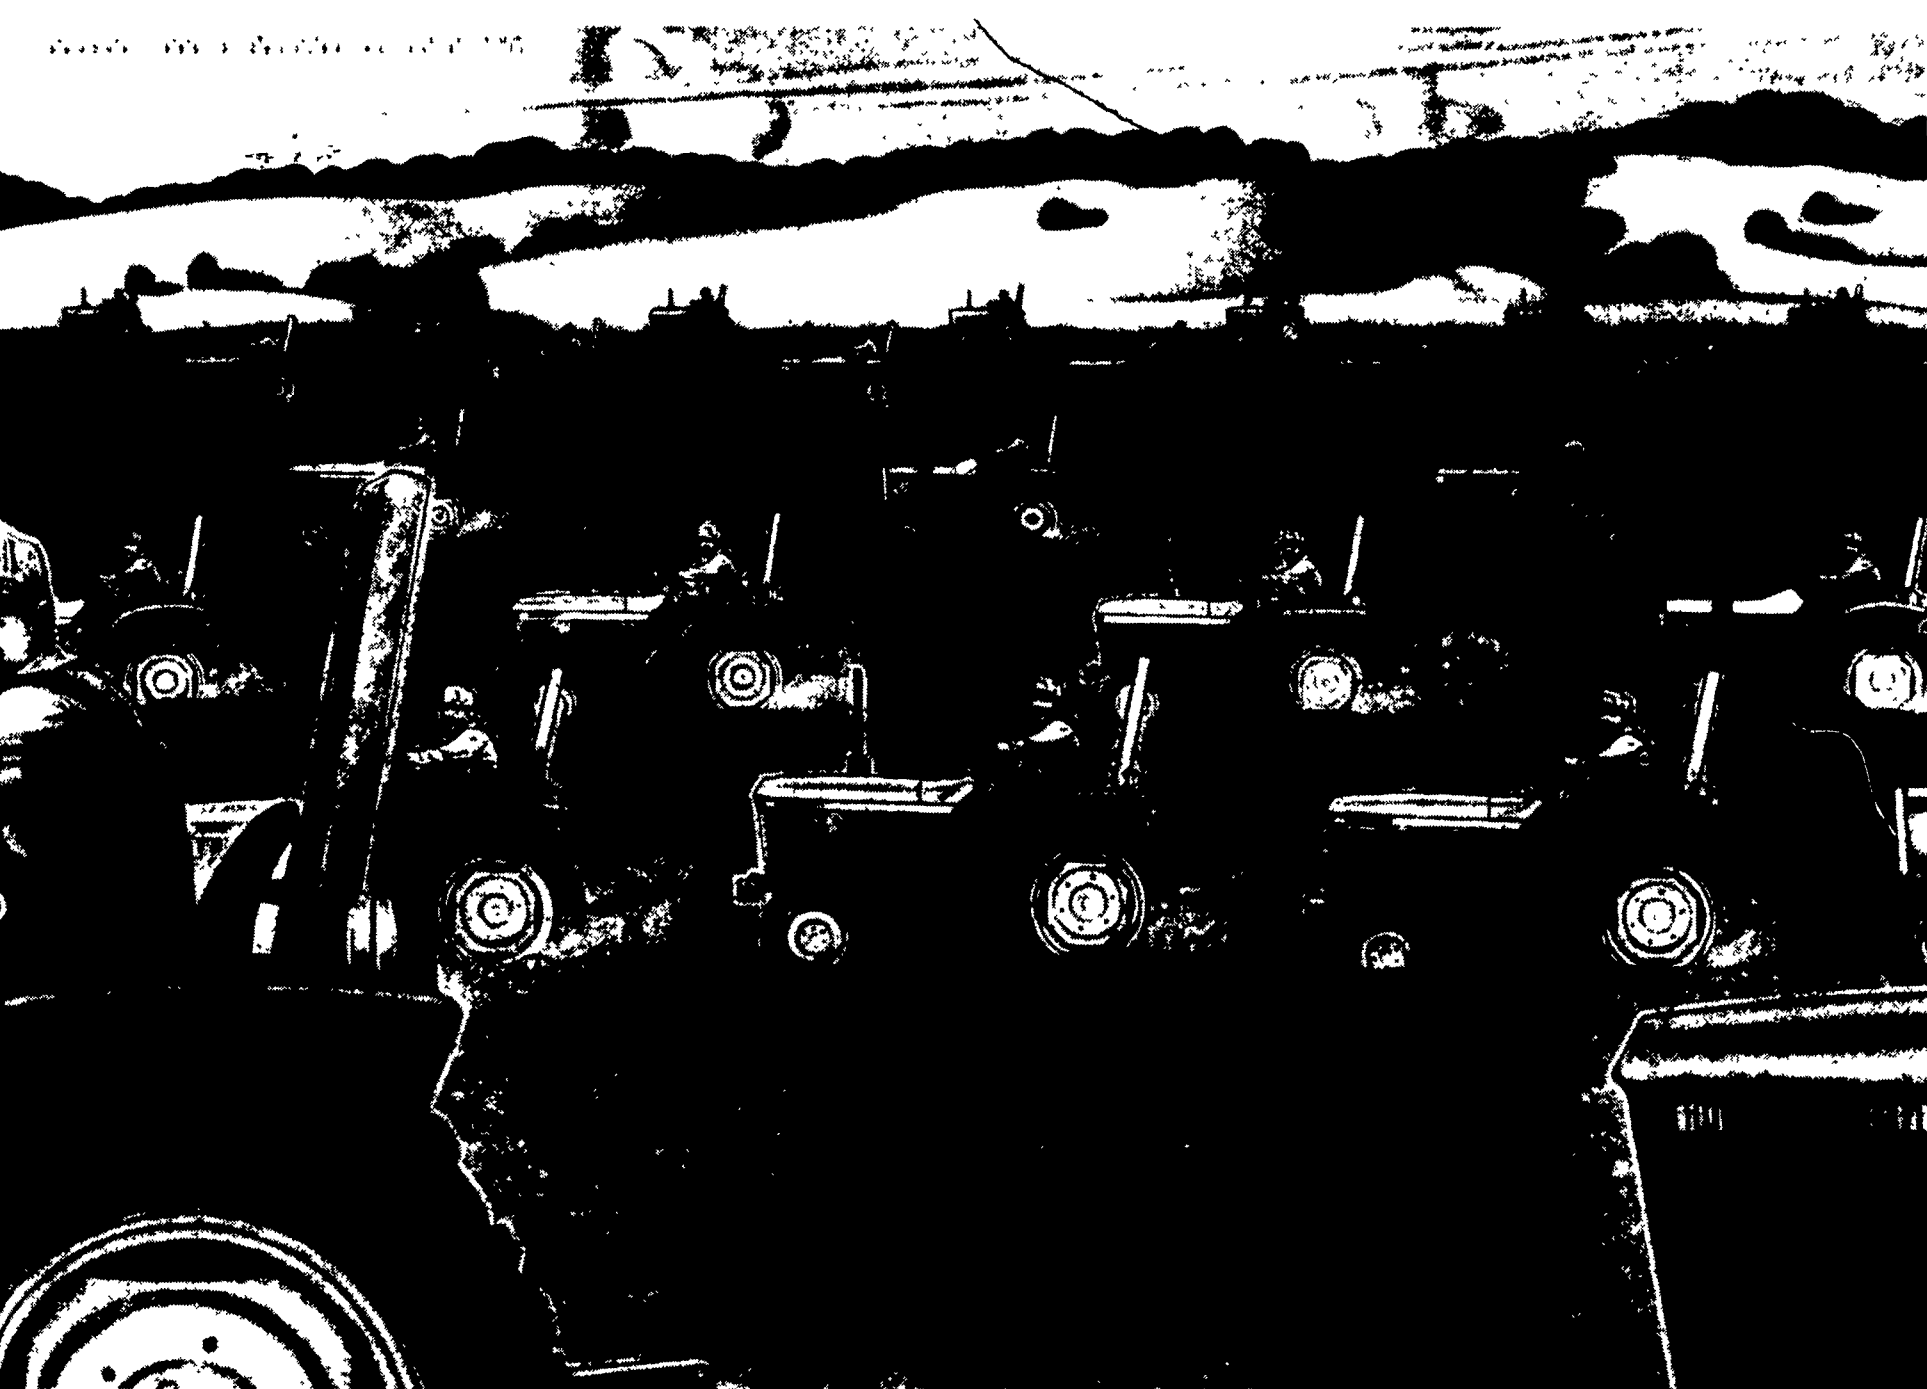

Act now to get your free Real Seal pitcher. This deal is good from August 1 through August 31, 1987.

Working for people who work the land. SM

We Start More Tractors Than John Deere, Kubota And Ford Put Together.

To keep farms running like well-oiled machines, farmers need well-oiled machinery. And, from time to time, that means new machinery.

Farm Credit can help you with a special equipment loan. For a tractor or combine. A baler, harvester or loader. Even a new pick-up truck.

Right now, our rates are as competitive as ever. And our terms won't remind you of a tractor pull.

Farm Credit has been helping farmers start their farms, and keep them running, for 70 years. With loans for land, houses, seed and fertilizer, as well as new equipment.

There's a good reason why we want farmers to prosper. It's because we're farmers, too. Farm Credit is owned and controlled by the same farmers who use its services.

Which probably explains why we've started more John Deeres, Kubotas and Fords than anyone else in the field.

June 1987

Cumberland County Dairy Herd Improvement records show that 6,593 cows in 114 herds were on production testing in June according to Duane G. Duncan, County Agent. Of the 93 official programs, 47 herds had an average fat production of 600 pounds. During the month 102 cows completed their 305 lactation with 650 lbs. of butterfat.

The following are the highest of actual butterfat in 305 days or less in the county during the month. The age listed is her age at the time of freshening.

Ehrlich gets the jump on fleas.

Fleas feed only on blood. Prior to biting humans, they may have fed on skunks, rats, or deer. Fleas don't care.

Adult fleas can go two years without a meal, but prefer to eat often. They usually bite humans on the legs, but will jump onto beds and chairs if given a chance. This can be more than just irritating. Fleas are among the most notorious disease carriers in the world.

Allowed to roam your home, one female flea will lay about 450 eggs. Get the jump on fleas before they jump on you. Call Ehrlich for a free inspection, no obligation.

Dietitian Answers Food Questions

JUST THE FACTS . . . Judy Dodd, a registered dietitian with the Dairy & Nutrition Council, answers some frequently asked questions on food and nutrition.

QUESTION: Should I be concerned about osteoporosis?

ANSWER: Osteoporosis literally means "porous bone." It is estimated 15-20 million people in the U.S. are affected by this condition that increases susceptibility to fracture. This bone-thinning disorder is related to 1.3 million fractures annually. Last year alone, the national medical and social costs of osteoporosis and related fractures were estimated at $7-10 billion.

Caucasian females are in the highest risk group, especially those with a small bone structure. Other groups at risk include persons who smoke, those who consume high protein diets or who have limited exercise, and postmenopausal women. Healthy bone tissue requires years of care. Researchers believe that the years prior to age 35 are most important. These are the years when peak bone mass is developing.

All ages can benefit from the healthy lifestyle recommendations of The National Osteoporosis Foundation. To maintain healthy bone tissue:

- Eat a well-balanced diet rich in calcium.

- Exercise regularly.
- Limit alcohol, caffeine and smoking.

QUESTION: What is all this fuss about fish oil?

ANSWER: Researchers noticed that in spite of a high-cholesterol, high-fat diet, Eskimos had a low rate of heart disease. One contributor appears to be a high intake of cold water fish. Fish contains fat, a nutrient that is composed of fatty acids. These fish were excellent sources of omega-3 fatty acids, a name that refers to their chemical structure.

It is believed that when omega-3 fatty acids are present, blood is likely to be thinner and less likely to clot and jam at the site of an injury. The presence of omega-3 may also keep the blood flowing more smoothly through the arteries with less chance of atherosclerosis.

The safest way to fish for omega-3 is by eating cold water seafood 2-3 times a week. Cold water ocean fish such as mackerel, tuna, salmon, sardines, and herring are excellent sources. Freshwater fish such as rainbow trout are better sources than cod, flounder, or haddock.

And there are some words of warning. Fish oils contain high levels of Vitamins A and D, nutrients toxic to the body in large amounts. Since omega-3 fatty acids thin the blood, there is the concern that clotting time would increase too much. And, the evidence does not support reversal of existing heart conditions.

At the current time there is no recommendation to consume fish oil without the fish!

Executive Chefs Create Philadelphia Sundaes

Earlier this summer the executive chefs of Philadelphia's leading restaurants received an invitation to, "go nuts, create the most outrageous, delectable, aah sundae you can dream of." The invitation came in a sealed box containing an old fashioned ice cream sundae glass which the chefs were requested to fill with their best ice cream creation. Extending the invitation was MAMMA, the Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Area, a regional division of the American Dairy Association. MAMMA held the chefs competition in July as part of the "Everyday Is Sundae" celebration in recognition of National Ice Cream Month and Philadelphia's rich ice cream heritage and tradition. Pennsylvania ranks second among the states in ice cream production.

Finals for the sundae competition were held on July 21 at the Sheraton Society Hill. The top nine competing chefs brought their ingredients to the hotel to prepare their delectable entries for the panel of four judges. The sundaes had such historic names as, The Constitution Sundae by chef Michael Campbell, the William Penn Sundae by chef Gary Mancuso of O'Dwyers, and the 27th Amendment by chef Kenneth J. Keller of Daniel's Riverfront Restaurant. The ingredients used in the sundaes included the distinctively tempting flavors of kiwi puree, white chocolate ice cream, pignolia nuts, and crushed macadamia brittle.

Winning first place in the competition was a sundae recipe by chef Midi Loneran of Apropos Restaurant. She called the sundae, "Philadelphia Berry Extravaganza." Chef Loneran made the sundae from scratch, creating three original ice cream flavors, white chocolate, raspberry and wild black raspberry. Topping these cool creamy concoctions were raspberry and chocolate sauces. Slivers of white chocolate adorned the top.

The judging was based on originality, appearance, taste, ease of preparation, and appropriate use of dairy products. Acting as judges for the contest were, Jim Kinney, general manager of Food World News, Ruth Hirshey, promotion editor of Philadelphia Magazine, Julie Mautner, associate editor of Restaurants & Institutions Magazine, and Sam Gugino, feature writer for the Philadelphia Daily News.

Chef Loneran was awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond for her culinary endeavor. Placing second in the competition was Chef Robert Langkammerer of S.S. Moshulu Restaurant for his entry, "Kiwi Strawberry Sundae." Third place went to chef Scott Geraghty for a sundae he called, "Rum Runner." A $300 savings bond was awarded to Langkammerer, and a $200 bond went to Geraghty.

The winning recipes and other selected recipes will be published in a recipe brochure by MAMMA. The brochure will be distributed at foodservice trade shows and will be available at no charge from the MAMMA office.

Bishop Wins National Corn Contest

MINNEAPOLIS—Tim Bishop of Queenstown, MD, was recently honored as one of the National Corn Growers Association's (NCGA) 1986 Corn Yield Contest Winners.

Along with 329 other contest winners, he was recognized at

1987 4-H Fair Winners

Montgomery County 4-H members are getting ready for their big event of the year — the 4-H Fair. The public is invited to participate in the many planned activities. The fair will be held at the Creamery 4-H center located on Route 113, one mile south of Route 73, near Skippack. It will be open to the public on Thursday, August 13th from 6:00 to 9:30 p.m., Friday, August 14th from 9:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday, August 15th from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Special events for this year include a Frisbee Dog Contest, Flea Market, Chicken Bar-B-Que, Pet Show, Celebrity Goat Milking Contest, and a Presentation of the Outstanding 4-H Boy and Girl. On display will be antique autos, crafts and livestock. New this year will be a Horseshoe Pitching Contest, a Square Dance (open to all) a Horseless Horse Show and pony rides.

Also featured at the Fair are numerous exhibits of 4-H projects which will be on display inside the building. The projects range from clothing, foods and crafts, wood-working, vegetables, photography, rockets, nature, wildlife, and animal science. The public is also invited to enter finished products in our open classes in clothing, crafts, foods and vegetables. Call #489-4315 for a list of classes.

NCGA's 1987 Corn Classic Awards Banquet in Minneapolis, MN, July 19-21.

Bishop placed first in the state No-Till Non-Irrigated Division and used Jacques 8350 to produce a yield of 193.55 bushels/acre. Average yield for the division was 168.03 bu./a.

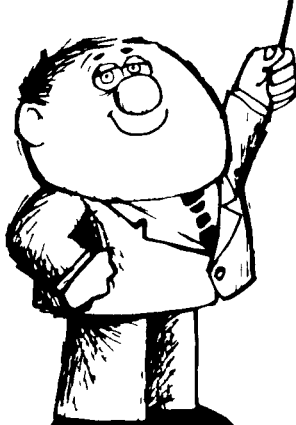

"Both state and national winners should be commended and congratulated for their outstanding capability of producing corn," says NCGA President Harold Cutler. "The recognition these winners receive is only a small token for their contribution to the advancement of the corn industry and agriculture."

Nearly 2,600 corn growers from 45 states entered a 10 acre plot. A total of 1,724 growers complete the test by submitting accurate crop procedure records and harvest reports as required by contest rules.

The NCGA Corn Yield Contest was organized to encourage the development of new and innovative management techniques and to show the importance of using solid cultural practices in U.S. corn production. The contest classes, include Class AA and Class A Non-Irrigated, Irrigated, No-Till Irrigated, No-Till Non-Irrigated and Ridge Till.

Anyone in the continental United States may enter the Irrigated, No-Till Irrigated, No-Till Non-Irrigated and Ridge Till Divisions. The Class AA Non-Irrigated Division is comprised of the following states: Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio and Wisconsin. The Class A Non-Irrigated Division is comprised of the remaining 39 continental United States.

For more information about the Corn Yield Contest call NCGA at 314/275/9915.

UNIQUE PRECISION SEEDER

CUP DISC

For thin-line group or band planting of natural and pelleted seed.
Even for hard-to-handle seed such as dill, cucumber and parsnip.
A wide selection of cup sizes and shapes in combination with a variety of coulters make NIBEX 500 an ideal all-round precision seeder.

The cups gently pick up the seeds and place them directly in the furrow — without the slightest damage!

With the precision-feed system, you avoid heavy costs — especially by using natural seed.

Difficult, costly thinning is eliminated entirely for some crops and reduced considerably for others.

IDEAL FOR PLANTING:

Asparagus	Cucumber-gherkin	Parsley
Beans	Dill	Parsnip
Cantaloupe	Eggplant	Pepper
Carrot	Endive/chicory	Raddish and Blackradish
Celery	Fennel	Redbeet
Chives	Flower Seeds	Spinach
Cole crops*:	Leek	Sugar beet
Broccoli, Brussel	Lettuce	Tomato
Sprouts, Cabbage,	Mustard	Tomato-group planting
Cauliflower, Napa	Rape	Turnip
Cabbage	Onion	Pelleted seed **

Mini-Nibex
* Suitable for cell wheel
 Cell wheel recommended

RICHARDTON MULTI-PURPOSE DUMP WAGON

JUST A MINUTE!

...And Your Richardton Dump Wagon will be unloaded.

MECHANICAL ROOF OPENER

MECHANICAL ROOF OPENER provides positive opening and closing action during the dump cycle, even in windy conditions. The roof is pushed up and out of the way when dumping and pulled down and held down when the wagon is in the travel position. The mechanical roof opener is adaptable to older model Richardton Dump Wagons.

Note! Remove roof for small grain holdings from combine etc.

IF YOU WANT MORE FROM YOUR CROP...CASE INTERNATIONAL IS THE ANSWER

Axial-Flow has always been a clean, simple, efficient system. Now, with the 1600's increased threshing and separating area, it does an even more complete job.

The Axial-Flow system threshes grain several times (not just once) as it moves rearward, spiraling gently around and around the single rotor. Instead of a troublesome system of straw walkers, Axial-Flow uses simple separating grates and the power of centrifugal force.

Threshing and separating are accomplished in one highly efficient operation within the rotor and cage. You'll save a lot of grain that conventional combines miss. And it'll be cleaner grain because Axial-Flow takes the time to be gentle and thorough.

THERE IS AN AXIAL-FLOW FOR YOU

Solid Ways To Improve Your Farm

CONVENTIONAL SILOS

BOTTOM UNLOADING SILOS

On many dairy farms, FORAGE QUALITY is the single most important factor relating to profitability!! The better the forage, the lower the cost for purchased feed, and therefore the higher the profit.

Don't depend upon second-rate storage for your valuable feed crops for your dairy herd!

Nothing stores feed better than a poured concrete SOLLENBERGER silo, and you will appreciate the quality for many years to come. Your cows will appreciate the good feed and you will see their response in the milk tank.

Forage and Grain Silos

- Laidig 43-For High Moisture Shelled Corn - High Moisture Ground Ear Corn - And Other Grains
- Laidig 98 - For Grains And Forages
- Laidig 198 - For Those Big Silos And Tough Unloading Jobs.

"MEASURE YOUR SILO DOORS, THEN COMPARE WITH OUR LARGE 24"x32" REDWOOD DOORS"

- Solid 6" Poured Concrete Walls
- Horizontal and Vertical Reinforcing Steel (Exceeds ISA Standards)
- Concrete Chute - Poured with wall
- Redwood Doors - Large 24"x32"

PRE-CAST BUNKER SILOS "THE ECONOMICAL CHOICE" STORAGE FOR ANY FORAGE

Also Suitable For Grain Storage,
And Practically Any Other Bulk Material.

The Sollenberger Pre-Cast Bunker Silo Panel Is Designed To Be Free-Standing. With The Tongue and Groove Edges, It Can Be Coated With Mastic & Bolted Together To Give An Air-Tight Smooth Wall That's Easy To Pack And "Keeps Feed Good." Delivered And Set On Your Prepared Gravel Base.

- Outside Walls
- Center Walls
- Can Be Moved, Or Added To Later
- 8'6" high
- 5'2" Wide
- 5000 P S I Steel Reinforced Concrete
- Adaptable To Head-gates Or Self-Feeders
- Very Strong
- Can Be Used For Retaining Walls
- Many Industrial Bulk Storage Uses

With the heat stress on the corn crop, harvesting will be earlier than normal in many areas. This will put pressure on our crews as last minute decisions are made. Please let us know as soon as possible if you need a fall silo.

INDUSTRIAL SILOS

Common Uses:

- Wood Chips • Sawdust
- Bark • Sand & Aggregates
- Coal • Grains • Meals
- Plastic • Water & Liquids
- Any Flowable Materials

Advantages:

- Designed according to your specific needs by registered, professional engineers
- Lower construction cost
- Standard 6" steel-reinforced, poured concrete walls
- Smooth, leak proof walls
- Maintenance free
- Concrete wall reduces product freezing in winter and heating in summer
- Lower fire insurance costs

MAY-CO Plastic SILO LINERS

Oxygen is the destroyer of fermented feeds. When installing a MAY-CO SILO LINER inside your silo, you eliminate heating, mold, shrink, and freezing to silo walls without using an additive. Liner must be ordered by Aug. 1, to insure delivery by Sept. 1. For information on prices and installation call or write.

Make Your Next Silo Unloader A Hanson. There is a difference

Yes, we take trade-ins!

Upgrade a worn-out unloader with a Hanson Unloader — your best choice for:

Quality — and the latest technology like the SS 428 Turbo Stainless Steel Blower package

Rugged Dependability — handles even frozen silage with ease

Value — competitively priced built to last, easy to handle low maintenance

Efficient Operation — Hanson understands your needs best — we're the only unloader manufacturer that also makes silos — and has since 1916

MASTER MIX SILO-BOOSTER

Why should you use Master Mix SILO-BOOSTER instead of another product? SILO-BOOSTER has been proven in 20 years of on-farm use, as well as in continuous university research. With each new discovery in silage science, we have improved the original formula. Today's SILO-BOOSTER gives the most effective silage inoculant yet developed.

Laboratory analysis of both treated and untreated silages confirms the increased production of lactic acid by the bacterial cultures in SILO-BOOSTER.

	SILO-BOOSTER TREATED	CONTROL
Lactic acid % (average of 11 measurements from day 1 to day 30)	2.35%	1.83%
pH (average of 11 measurements from day 1 to day 30)	3.98%	3.96%

While both silages showed very similar changes in total pH change; the SILO-BOOSTER treated silage contained more lactic acid. The homofermentive production of lactic acid by SILO-BOOSTER cultures reduces the potential for dry matter losses and the generation of excessive heat of fermentation.

SILO-BOOSTER treated silage was able to generate income per ton of forage feed. With milk valued at $.125 per pound; butterfat at $.17 per point; forage at $.045 per pound of dry matter, and the concentrate portions at $.08 per pound; SILO-BOOSTER silage returned $4.90 for each $1.00 invested in inoculant.

APPLICATION: 1 Lb. of SILO-BOOSTER per ton of Forage.

Auction At Wayne Fair

The 11th annual Wayne County Junior Livestock Sale will be Saturday, Aug. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Wayne County Fairgrounds.

All prospective buyers will be treated to a beef barbecue from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., just prior to the sale.

The sale will serve as a climax for about 85 young people who have been raising livestock project animals in the 4-H program. Members who are raising beef steers have had their animals on a grain feeding program since last October, while the sheep and hog members placed animals on finishing rations early this spring.

It is expected that 20 steers, 83 hogs, and 43 lambs will be offered for sale. All will be of market weight with the steers weighing about 1,000 pounds liveweight, the hogs approximately 200 pounds, and the lambs approximately 100 pounds.

Animals will be weighed Friday morning, the day prior to the sale, for the purpose of determining sale weight. They will receive no feed or water from Thursday midnight until after they are weighed.

The sale will be conducted as an auction, with the animals being sold to the highest bidder. Anyone who does not feel comfortable bidding in an auction can make arrangements to have a 4-H leader do the bidding and act as the buyer. Such persons should contact the Agricultural Extension Office to make the necessary arrangements and to secure information on prevailing market prices.

Buyers will receive duplicate ribbons based on judging con-

Lebanon Fair Records Fall In Livestock Auction

Record bashing was in order at Lebanon Fair's 4-H and FFA livestock auction as bidding for the grand champion steer and lamb topped previous marks.

Lebanon Valley National Bank paid $6.60 a pound for 19-year-old ducted earlier in the week. Special banners will be presented to the buyers of the three grand champion and three reserve grand champion animals.

Jack Bunnell will be the auctioneer.

The sale steering committee is Clyde Eltz, Ellis Dix, John Marshall, and Robert Terrel. Robert Muller serves as treasurer.

Melanie Bow's champion lamb while Corrine and Chris Machmen set a new record with a bid of $2.50 a pound for Kelly Bachman's grand champion market steer. The champion hog owned by Brian Kreider received $6.80 a pound from the People's National Bank of Lebanon.

According to Lebanon County Extension Agent Ken Winebark, this year's sale attracted a large amount of new buyers which helped contribute to above average prices.

"It was one of the best sales on record," stated Winebark. "There were new buyers that challenged some of the regulars."

The sale average for the 35 lambs sold was $2.24, 13 steers averaged $.99 and 114 hogs managed an average $1.41. The champion carcass hog and lamb brought $460 and $375 respectively. Both were donated back to the fair.

Heat Stress — The recent heat wave in Pennsylvania emphasizes the need for proper high temperature management. When environmental temperatures increase above 85°F, heat stress becomes apparent. In general, levels of flock activity change. Chickens will spend more time lying down and standing quietly. Feeding activity decreases but drinking increases so that additional water lost as evaporation through panting can be replenished.

Even relatively brief periods of exposure to high temperatures can cause the release of the stress-related hormone, corticosterone. This hormone may help the bird to adapt to heat stress but if not alleviated, this corticosterone may cause increased susceptibility to disease by suppressing the bird's immune system. Reduction in growth and egg production will also occur during heat. Below are a few suggestions to help minimize heat stress in your birds.

Environmental

1. Air movement over the birds is critical. Air movement can be accomplished by fans that remove the heat and moisture-laden air from around the birds.

2. Evaporative cooling systems should be considered. In-house temperatures can be reduced 5 to 10°F from outside temperatures. Maintenance of the fogging system is an absolute must for evaporative cooling systems to work efficiently. The proper nozzles, filters, and water line pressure are important for optimal evaporative cooling effects.

Evaporative cooling systems are not widely used in Pennsylvania cage layer houses. Where they are used, they have been found to be effective in reducing environmental temperatures.

Feed and Water Quality

1. Drinking water must be provided to help relieve heat stress. The water system must function properly to handle the additional water requirements. On extremely hot days, periodic flushing of water lines provides a cool supply of water.

2. Hot weather increases oxidation (rancidity) of various feed ingredients. Mold growth is stimulated during hot, humid weather, which increases the risk of mold and mycotoxin contamination of feeds.

3. Feed equipment should also be managed to maintain freshness. Common problems include: old feed mixed with new, dust, contaminants and fines that accumulate quickly in automated feeding systems. Adding fat to the feed will not hurt a bit. One-half percent added fat will reduce dustiness, increase palatability, and lubricate the feeding system. Heat stress is economically important to you and traumatic to your layer and pullet flocks. Treat them with TLC at this time.

Cooper Wins FFA Hog Show

Dennis Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cooper of RD Lenhartsville, and a member of the Kutztown FFA Chapter exhibited the Grand Champion market hog at the Berks County FFA Swine Show and Sale. Dennis' 245 pound pig was purchased by Hatfield Packing Company for $3.10 per pound or a total of $713.00. This pig was also the first place heavy heavyweight animal.

Todd Bennicoff of RD Kutztown and a member of the Lehigh County FFA Chapter, showed the reserve champion animal. This animal was the first place 220 pound pig. Tipton Pioneer Grange purchased this animal for $1.65 per pound.

In other weight classes the placings were as follows: Light lightweight class (pigs 190 & 195 pound)- 1st Mike Stoltzfus, Twin Valley Chapter; 2nd Jason Stoudt, Hamburg Chapter; 3rd Todd Bennicoff, Lehigh County Chapter; 4th Scott Lazarus, Lehigh County Chapter; 5th Tim Tothero, Kutztown Chapter; 6th Chris Blatt, Conrad Weiser Chapter.

Heavy Lightweight Class (for pigs 210 pounds)- 1st Mike Stoltzfus; 2nd Brian Beam; 3rd Greg Stricker, Hamburg Area Chapter; 4th and 5th James Manbeck, Tulpehocken Chapter; 6th Jason Stoudt; 7th Robert Adam; 8th Todd Bennicoff; 9th Randy Balthaser, Hamburg Area Chapter; 10th Mike Stoltzfus.

Light Medium Weight Class (for pigs 215 pounds)- 1st Todd Bennicoff; 2nd Greg Stricker; 3rd Scott Lazarus; 4th Tammy Balthaser; 5th Steve Rohrbach, Hamburg Area Chapter; 6th Jason Stoudt; 7th Tammy Balthaser; 8th Jim Blatt, Conrad Weiser Chapter; 9th James Manbeck.

Medium Mediumweight class (for pigs weighing 220 pounds)- 1st Todd Bennicoff; 2nd Jason Stoudt; 3rd Tammy Balthaser; 4th Jimm Burkhardt, Twin Valley Chapter; 5th Tammy Balthaser; 6th Dennis Cooper; 7th Jill Burkhardt.

Heavy Mediumweight class (pigs 225 and 230 pounds)- 1st

Clair "Butch" Clemens, buyer for Hatfield Packing Company and Dennis Cooper, exhibitor of the Grand Champion Hog at the Berks County FFA Hog sale.

Henry Seidel; 2nd Greg Stricker; 3rd Jill Burkhardt; 4th Henry Seidel; 5th Robert Adam; 6th Randy Balthaser; 7th Tim Tothero; 8th Tammy Balthaser; 9th Randy Balthaser; 10th Jason Stoudt.

Light heavyweight class (pigs 235 pounds)- 1st and 2nd Jason Stoudt; 3rd Charles Seidel; 4th and 5th Randy Balthaser; 6th Tammy Balthaser; 7th Randy Balthaser; 8th Dennis Cooper.

Heavy Heavyweight class (pigs 240 & 245 pounds)- 1st Dennis Cooper, 2nd Sue Burkhardt, Twin Valley Chapter; 3rd Greg Stricker; 4th Traci Gelsinger, Conrad Weiser Chapter; 5th Steve Rohrbach; 6th Charles Seidel; 7th Randy Balthaser.

In the senior division fitting class placings were as follows: First- Todd Bennicoff, second- Greg Stricker, third- Steve Rohrbach, fourth- Henry Seidel, fifth- Tammy Balthaser. Senior division showmanship placings were: first- Steve Rohrbach, second- Todd Bennicoff, third- Greg Stricker, fourth- Tammy Balthaser, fifth- Henry Seidel. Senior division fitter trophy was presented by Elton Muth. Elton also presented the senior division showmanship trophy.

In the junior division fitting contest Tim Tothero placed first, Dennis Cooper second, Randy Balthaser third, Jill Burkhardt fourth, and Traci Gelsinger fifth. Junior division showmanship placings were: first Randy Balthaser, second Dennis Cooper, third Traci Gelsinger, fourth Brian Beam, fifth Jill Burkhardt.

Mr. Bruce Lemmon, vocational agriculture teacher and Duroc breeder served as judge for the show. A total of 69 pigs were shown, with 75 sold through the sale. The 75 pigs weighed 16325 pounds and brought in $12,346.45 for the twenty FFA members who showed them.

The Berks County FFA wishes to thank the Leesport Market and Auction, and especially Mr. William Weist and Mr. Daniel 'Woody' Weist, for again hosting the show and sale. Special thanks also to Mr. Ralph Zetlemoyer, auctioneer for the sale. Thanks also to each of the buyers- Hatfield Packing Company, Tipton Pioneer Grange, David Newswanger, Ray Matz, LeRoy Weist, Hazle Packing Company, Ken Emery, Rich Brandt Real Estate, Berks Lehigh Farm Credit, H.D. rams on test, a score of 122.

The spring-born lamb owned by Nix Besser Farm, Narvon, sold to John Bratini, Mt. Pleasant for $950. The Nix Besser ram was sired by Nix Besser 26 and out of Nix Besser 805. A Nix Besser ram was also the highest testing ram last year, and a fall-born Nix Besser Dorset was the second-highest indexing ram in this year's test. This animal was bought by Max Dehart, Milton.

The performance index ranks a ram with other test animals of the same breed. The 84-day test held at the Penn State Meat Animal Evaluation Center considers the average daily gain, weight per day of age, an ultrasonic scan of the loin, an ultrasonic measure of fat and a type evaluation made at delivery time.

The index of 122 of this year's top-ranking ram means that his overall performance was 22 percent better than the average of the other junior Dorsets on test.

Glenn Eberly, Meat Animal Evaluation Center director reported a good group of lambs this year. "It was an exceptional group of Dorsets," says Eberly, "and they sold accordingly. We had a large turnout for the sale and very active bidding."

Three Suffolks were the second-highest selling rams, each going for $550. The highest-indexing Suffolk, Penn State 8724 sold to Bill McClure of Virginia. It scored 118. The two other Suffolks selling for $550 were owned by Double Scott Farm, Princeton, WV, and were bought by Peggy Schott, Lebanon, and the second, by Owen Clark, Troy.

John Nordin, Russell entered the highest-selling Hampshire, Nordin 178A. It sold to Carolair Farm, Knoxville, for $475.

This was the first year that Polypays have been performance-tested at the Center. Victor Decker, Tunkahannock, paid $320 for the highest-indexing Polypay, consigned by Tom and Deb McCafrey, Downingtown.

In addition to these popular breeds, a Columbia, Corridale and Shropshire ram were sold. The Columbia, #8713, was bought by Robert Friday, Felton, for $225. Tom Gibson, Dymond, Ohio, paid $150 for the Corridale ram, Thomas 744 and Earl Vele, Dalton, N.Y. bought the Shropshire, C. Calvert, 8707 for $175.

Suffolk rams appeared in greatest number at the sale. The 14 rams averaged $300. The five junior Dorsets sold at the highest average price, $450. The three fall-born Dorsets averaged $367. The five Hampshires posted at average of $250 and the four Polypays averaged $193. The average price of the 34 rams offered for sale was $298. This average was just $4.00 less than the average price record set at the 1985 sale.

Last Saturday's sale concluded with an auction of 55 purebred and commercial ewes selected by invitation.

USDA Seeks Egg Board Nominations

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has asked certified egg producer groups for nominations to fill nine member and nine alternate positions on the American Egg Board for the 1988-89 term.

H. Connor Kennett, an official with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said 54 producer groups are certified to submit nominations under the egg research and promotion order. Nine members of the current 18-member board will continue serving through 1988, he said.

Nominations are sought for: one member and one alternate each from Area 1 (North Atlantic), Area 3 (East North Central), and Area 4 (West North Central); and two members and two alternates each from Area 2 (South Atlantic), Area 5 (South Central), and Area 6 (Western).

A nominee for a vacant alternate position in Area 3 for the remainder of the 1987-88 term also is being sought.

The egg research and promotion order provides that certified egg producer organizations within each geographic area can meet jointly to nominate members and alternates. The caucus chairperson in each of the six areas should submit nominations to USDA by Sept. 25.

Individuals who wish to submit their names, or names of any other person may do so through their area certified organizations. To be eligible, nominees must be producers or representatives of producers.

The 18-member board administers the producer-sponsored national research, consumer education, and promotion program designed to strengthen the egg industry's position in the marketplace. Egg board activities are carried out under the program authorized by the Egg Research and Consumer Information Act of 1974, is amended.

Plans Set For Boar Sale

STATE COLLEGE — The 10th annual Performance Tested Boar Sale, conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Meat Animal Evaluation Center, will be held here Wednesday, Aug. 19.

The sale, scheduled to coincide with Ag Progress Days, will get underway at 6 p.m. in the Ag Arena Complex on Fox Hollow Road.

The top 45 to 50 boars will be selected from the group currently on test, according to Glenn Eberly, director of the center. Included are 36 Yorkshires, 19 Durocs, 12 Hampshires, four Landrace, four Spots and three Berkshires.

With 17 of the 20 pens already completing the test period, the average daily gain is 2.02 pounds per day, Eberly said.

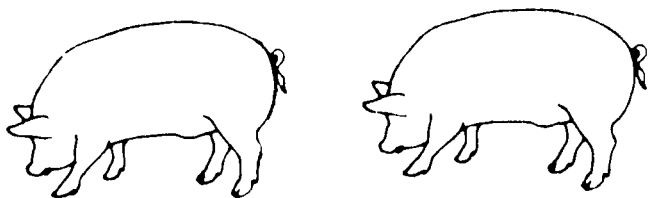

The entire group will be screened by a committee of producers and technical staff for structural soundness and underline, then scanned ultrasonically to determine backfat and loin eye area. The measurements will be used to calculate a percent lean cuts value.

The final daily gain and ratio on test will be published and a days to 230 pounds will be calculated, then a final index will be computed for each boar and for the pens of boars. The University Veterinarian will give each animal a physical examination, and the boars will be bled and have health papers.

Eberly said those placed on sale will be one of the top groups of performance-tested boars to be offered through Pennsylvania's Boar Testing Program.

Additional information and catalogs are available by writing to the Meat Animal Evaluation Center at 651 Fox Hollow Road, State College 16803 or by calling (814) 238-2527.

Turkey Environmental Management Pays

CHICAGO, IL. — Careful management of environmental conditions will increase net returns from the production of four flocks of meat turkeys per year by $21,922, according to a study conducted at the North Carolina State University School of Veterinary Medicine, Raleigh.

Results of the study were reported July 22, 1987, at the 124th annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) by Hector M. Cervantes, DVM, MS, Athens, Georgia; H. John Barnes, DVM, PhD, and Dennis P. Wages, DVM, both of Kansas City, KS.

The field trial on which study results are based involved 12,450 large white Nicholas turkeys in three flocks. Two flocks were raised by a contract grower for a large North Carolina integrated turkey company. The third flock was raised at the Teaching Animal Unit of the NC State School of Veterinary Medicine.

Similar diets, housing, and equipment were used in all flocks; however, management programs were different. The commercial flocks depended primarily on vaccination and medication for disease prevention. For the NC State flock, near optimum environmental conditions were maintained. The flock depended primarily on strict isolation, cleaning, and disinfection for disease prevention.

Growth rate, disease incidence, and mortality were monitored on a weekly basis. Mortality was identical, the NC State flock performed much better in both growth rate and disease incidence. Significant differences between the flocks in disease incidence were reported at the age of only two weeks.

Final mean body weights at 16 weeks for the three flocks were: Commercial #1: 10.3 kilograms, Commercial #2: 10.6 kilograms, NC State: 12.0 kilograms.

"Final production performance and processing plant data were used in conjunction with the medication cost figures to determine cost effectiveness of each management system," Dr. Cervantes said.

The AVMA, based in the Chicago suburb of Schaumburg, is the professional association of the nation's 44,000 veterinarians. Over 300 scientific presentations were made at the July annual meeting, the largest gathering of veterinarians in North America.

Kohl Named Conservation Farmer

A Point Township man has been named Pennsylvania's Outstanding Conservation Farmer for 1987.

K. James Kohl has been cited by the Pennsylvania Association of Conservation District Directors, Inc. for outstanding achievements in soil and water conservation, according to Pat Devlin, executive director of the association.

Kohl will receive his award at PACDD's annual conference, October 8-10, in Trevese, Bucks County.

Kohl owns and operates a 119-acre farm in Point Township. A cooperator with the Northumberland County Conservation District since 1954, Kohl has established a comprehensive soil conservation program on his farm that keeps soil erosion to a minimum. Kohl has installed five cropland terraces totaling 6650 feet and three diversions totaling 1750 feet. He also practices no-till planting and cover cropping.

Besides his accomplishments on his home farm, Kohl has been responsible for the construction of 25,000 feet of cropland terraces and four waterways on land farmed by his family-owned business, Furman Farms.

Kohl's interest in soil conservation has grown over the years. "I don't know why it is, but the older I get, the more I hate to see my soil washing away," said Kohl.

"We're really excited about the award," said Robert Pardoe, Jr., chairman of the Northumberland County Conservation District. "There are over 58,000 farmers in the state, so it's a real honor to be selected. But it's an honor Jim deserves. He's been involved in the construction of more permanent conservation practices than anyone else in the 45-year history of the conservation district."

Kohl was honored in March as Conservation Farmer of the Year by the Northumberland County Conservation District.

Kohl is the second straight Northumberland County farmer to receive the state award. Joseph Gross of Rush Township was named Pennsylvania's Outstanding Conservation Farmer for 1986.

Other winners from the county were: Donald Cotner, Rush Township, 1983; Harry Ernest, Herndon, 1972; Raymond Shaffer, Dalmatia, 1958; and the late Mark Witmer, Dalmatia, 1951.

The automatic KT-100 Kar-Tote handles vehicles with up to 76 1/2" tread width, which includes trucks, vans and full-size autos, and features heavy-duty construction throughout for heavy-duty performance. No other car tow dolly can match it according to Jay Hesse, Director of Marketing. The KT-100 offers standard Kar-Tote features such as self-contained, self cleaning ramps, tilt-bed loading, swivel bed operation, rally wheels with chrome lug nuts and fully enclosed wrap-around fenders. In addition it features reinforced construction at stress points and white side wall F78-14C tires to handle up to 3500 lbs. loaded weight. Optional features include towed vehicle light bar, surge brakes, electric brakes, loading winch, spare tire with mount and cover and Kargo-Tote conversion

Westfalia Introduces PC Dairy System

ELK GROVE VILLAGE, IL. — A new PC Dairy Control System featuring management software for feed, breed and milk programs, is now available from Westfalia Systemat, Elk Grove Village, Illinois.

The Westfalia "PC Dairy Control System" is a complete, easy to install and operate system featuring direct control of feed stations, milk meters and parlor I.D., with concurrent processing available. Linked directly to dairy operations, the system has been designed for greater effectiveness and efficiency in herd management. Each cow is monitored individually, with automatic reports available every 24 hours.

When connected to the Westfalia Metatron Milk Meter, the system provides information needed for total milk yield, maximum milk flow, average milk flow and milking time.

The Metatron also features built-in automatic cluster removal and a cow side control box which signals for observation of the cow for heat, "do not milk" or health code needs.

With Westfalia's Computerized Feed System, rations can be delivered to cows depending on their individual needs and production cycles. Since each cow is computer-identified through a coded collar system, reports on consumption, feed supply/ration and automatic exception (to detect cows off feed) are available at the

For further details contact the manufacturer, Automatic Equipment Manufacturing Company, Department NR, P. O. Box P, Pender, Nebraska 68047, 402-385-3054.

The third phase of Westfalia's Dairy Plan consists of a total program for breed management. With connection to the Westfalia PC control system, each cow has her own calendar which signals heat and breed times, pregnancy check and automatic warmup prior to calving.

The Westfalia Dairy Plan provides the most advanced, effective program available for every phase of herd management. Linked with feed, breed and milk functions, it's guaranteed to simplify and increase profit margins of any size dairy operation.

For further information contact: Westfalia Systemat, 1862 Brummel Drive, Elk Grove Village, Illinois 60007.

Raytec Introduces Waypig Scale

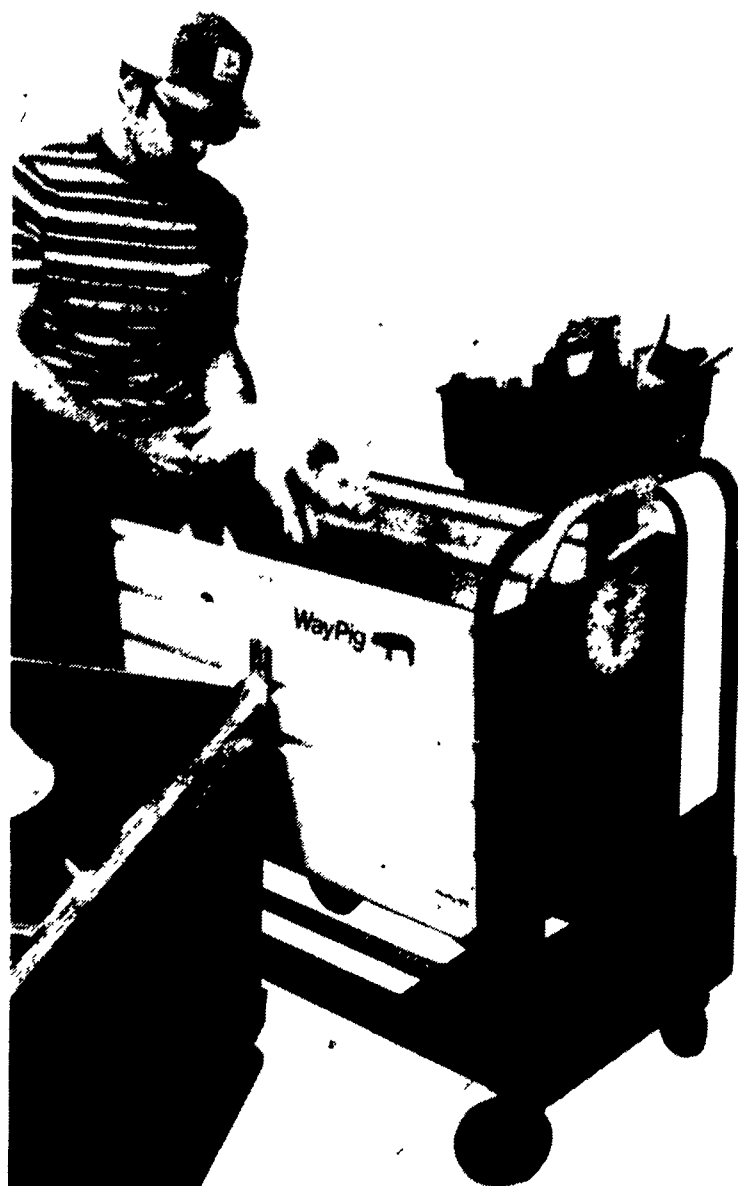

EPHRATA, PA—Raytec Manufacturing, developer and manufacturer of the WayPig litter scale, has introduced a new, improved model. Incorporating convenience-engineered features, the new WayPig makes it easier for hog farmers to weigh and transport pig litters.

Included in the redesign is a completely new, portable Vet-Tray attachment. Manufactured of tough, durable plastic, the new tray is completely washable. Designed to hold veterinary supplies, medicines and other essential tools, Vet-Tray attaches and detaches easily from the WayPig frame.

The new WayPig also features a new, easy-to-read scale. Specially designed for WayPig, the scale has an oversized white face and an improved self-locking mechanism to help maintain accuracy. Scale reads weight in both pounds and kilograms.

For more information contact Raytec Manufacturing, RD 3, Ephrata, PA 17522. Telephone: 1-800-233-0198 (in PA dial 1-717-354-4301).

McMillan Promoted By Farm Credit Banks

The Farm Credit Banks of Baltimore are pleased to announce the promotion of Nelson L. McMillan, Jr., to the position of Regional Vice President.

Holder of a Masters Degree from Marshall University at Huntington, West Virginia, McMillan completed the requirements for an "Advanced Professional Certificate in Agriculture" from the University of Maryland in 1975. He taught Vocational Agriculture in Baltimore County before joining the Banks in 1981. He has enhanced his education by completing various management, accounting and credit related courses.

In his new capacity, McMillan will work with local Association Boards of Directors to maintain efficient operations and continue dependable credit services to agribusiness borrowers in Virginia. He will assume a supervisory liaison role for the eight Production Credit Associations and Federal Land Bank Associations headquartered there.

The Farm Credit Banks of Baltimore and related Virginia Farm Credit Associations are the dominant lender in Virginia. As of December 31, 1986, total loan volume exceeded $986 million.

Currently, the Farm Credit Banks of Baltimore lend more than $2.5 billion to farmers, farm cooperatives and rural home owners in the states of Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

McMillan is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity and a former member of Bluefield, West Virginia, Masonic Lodge #3. He and his wife Melba Banner McMillan reside in Lutherville, Maryland.

Grape Growers Day At PSU

University Park — August 13 is Grape Growers Day at Penn State's Erie County Field Research Laboratory in North East. Come and see how research at the lab is helping the grape industry.

Tours of field research plots and a variety of demonstrations will begin at 1 p.m. Demonstrations will include a new computer-based expert system for grapes. An expert system is a computer program that works like a human expert by organizing information and narrowing options to identify problems and make recommendations -- and the Erie County lab is the first to develop such a system for a specific crop.

Visitors will also see demonstrations of new herbicides, new plant growth regulators for Concord grapes, effects of cultivation and noncultivation on vineyard insect populations and a research plot for the study of downy mildew control on grapes.

Researchers will be on hand to talk about several new seedless table varieties of grapes, and studies with plant growth regulators to increase fruit size.

In addition to research tours and demonstrations, several exhibitors of vineyard equipment, supplies and chemicals will be at the lab.

Growers and other visitors are invited to attend a twilight meeting beginning at 6:30. Information for growers, including a review of the season, problems and concerns, marketing and disease control, will be discussed.

The Erie County Field Research Laboratory is one of three field research laboratories operated by Penn State's College of Agriculture. This year Penn State is celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Hatch Act, legislation that set aside federal funds to support agricultural research in all states.

Research at North East is one result of this funding.

The laboratory is located at the intersection of Route 5 and Cemetery Road in North East, one-quarter mile east of Penn Shore Winery. Parking and admission are free.

For more information about the Grape Growers Day at North East, contact Carl Haeseler, professor of promology, at (814) 725-4601.

Control worms and bots and Save $15.00 each year.

Many veterinarians recommend deworming your horse every two or three months, and treating for bots at least twice a year

While some dewormers control both worms and bots, they're very expensive and may offer more control than you need every couple of months.

Here is an Economical Alternative Recommended by Many Veterinarians

Jan	Mar.	May	July	Sept.	Nov.
Safe-Guard™ (fenbendazole)	Zimecterin® (ivermectin)	Safe-Guard™ (fenbendazole)	Zimecterin® (ivermectin)	Safe-Guard™ (fenbendazole)	Zimecterin® (ivermectin)
at	or	at	or	at	or
$5	Negabot®-Plus (febantel and trichlorfon)	$5	Negabot®-Plus (febantel and trichlorfon)	$5	Negabot®-Plus (febantel and trichlorfon)
	at		at		at
	$10		$10		$10

The program is an economical alternative. It lets you control the major worms using Safe-Guard™ (fenbendazole) three times a year. And control bots with Zimecterin® (ivermectin) or Negabot®-Plus (febantel and trichlorfon) when needed. Many scientists feel by rotating dewormers you can extend the life of each by decreasing the chance of resistance buildup, while at the same time, controlling a very broad spectrum of internal parasites.

If you were to use either Zimecterin® (ivermectin) or Negabot®-Plus (febantel and trichlorfon) six times a year, you'd pay about $60 per horse, for what could be more control than you really need. With the Safe-Guard program, though, you can get the best of both types of dewormers for only $45* a savings of approximately $15.00

Why Safe-Guard? Because of all these benefits:

- Effective — Controls the economically important worms
- Safe — No known side effects Safe for all horses
- Convenient — Easy to give Horses love its unique apple-cinnamon flavor
- Economical — One tube, with a suggested retail price of $5, treats 1,100 lbs body weight.

Summer Interns At PDA Use Education

HARRISBURG — Six Pennsylvania college students are drawing on their education and acquiring new skills as summer interns with the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Sherry Asberry of Middletown, a student at Harrisburg Area Community College, is developing her talents in communications by writing news releases and compiling a departmental slide program for the Press Office.

Asberry plans to use her education and experience in a public relations career after college. "I'm learning how to work effectively under pressure and deal with deadlines," she said. "You have to learn to concentrate even though the office phones are ringing off the hook."

Jeff Chillot of Pottstown and Barbara Durso of Susquehanna are interns in the Bureau of Administrative Services. They are seniors in college, Chillot attending Shippensburg University and Durso at King's College in Wilkes-Barre. Chillot is pursuing his major in Mathematics with Computer Science by updating data files and computerizing phone bills. Durso's major is Computer Science and she devises programs for legal cases involving the Horse Racing Commission and installs software. "The relaxed atmosphere provides a good opportunity to learn," she said.

There are two interns in the Data Processing Department, Scott Kister of Marysville and Natalie Musci of Carlisle. Kister is following his major in Computer Science by converting and revising systems such as the Laboratory Disease Diagnostic System (LDD). Musci's major is Accounting and she works with a licensing system for nurserymen. Kister and Musci, both are seniors and will attend Shippensburg and Indiana University of Pennsylvania, respectively, in the fall.

Liz Rice who, is majoring in business, is an intern in Marketing Development. Her projects include the Lamb and Wool Festival and the Pork Fest Recipe Contest. A Harrisburg resident, she will be a sophomore at King's College in the fall.

Two other students are working at the Department under additional intern programs.

Huynh Quang Le of Harrisburg is an intern under Pennsylvania State University and the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency. He is majoring in Electrical Engineering with a minor in Communications. He is an intern in the Bureau of Administrative Services.

Kevin Keane of Harrisburg is a pre-veterinarian intern under Cornell University and PHEAA. His internship takes place in the Department's Diagnostic Laboratory in Summerdale, Cumberland County.

LIMESTONE

Liming is one of the most important factors in keeping your soil in the highest productive range. A good pasture with a pH of 6.5 or higher, for example, will make 300 to 400 lbs of beef per acre and produce up to $100 gross income per acre. This means with the help of lime, profits from pastures can compare favorably with feed or grain crops.

Adams Co. 4-H Hog-Sheep Show Report

The fourth Annual Adams County 4-H/FFA Market Swine and Sheep Show and Sale was held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds. It was a successful conclusion for 38 members of both organizations who have worked hard this spring and summer getting their animals ready for show.

The Grand Champion Hog was shown by Dave Seymore, Gettysburg. The 229 pound animal was bought by Hatfield Packing Co. for $3.10 a pound. A permanent trophy was presented by Harrison Farms Pork Roll, Littlestown, and a rotating trophy by Wayne Feed Supply, Dillsburg.

Maryland Farmers Are Good Conservationists

Maryland's farmers received warm praise from Soil Conservation Service (SCS) Chief Wilson Scaling at the Maryland Association of Conservation Districts meeting in Ocean City.

"Maryland's concern for the health of the Chesapeake Bay and the state's surface and groundwaters has brought conservation districts a lot of support," said Scaling. "Staff provided to your districts by the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) are a part of a tremendous state and local initiative," he continued.

"Maryland's program is setting a nationwide example, and I salute Secretary Wayne Cawley for his leadership. Maryland is lucky to have him," Scaling continued.

Urging better participation in the conservation provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill by Maryland and other states in the Chesapeake Bay watershed, Scaling praised Maryland's soil conservation districts, their supervisors and staff for their first-class efforts in getting conservation on the ground.

Scaling went on to tell his audience that USDA should have a bigger role in establishing national water quality policy, and he hopes this will be the case.

"I am confident of SCS's ability to address the technical concerns of today and tomorrow," said Scaling. Stressing the successful team effort created by the districts, SCS, and the state, Scaling went on to say that he is confident that soil conservation and water quality goals called for by state and federal programs will be met.

Gehl answers your haycutting needs

Self-propelled, swing-frame, pull-type or disc—you're sure to find the mower conditioner that's just right for your crops and field conditions in Gehl's full line. And because a Gehl® is designed simply yet efficiently you'll get higher production for less cost.

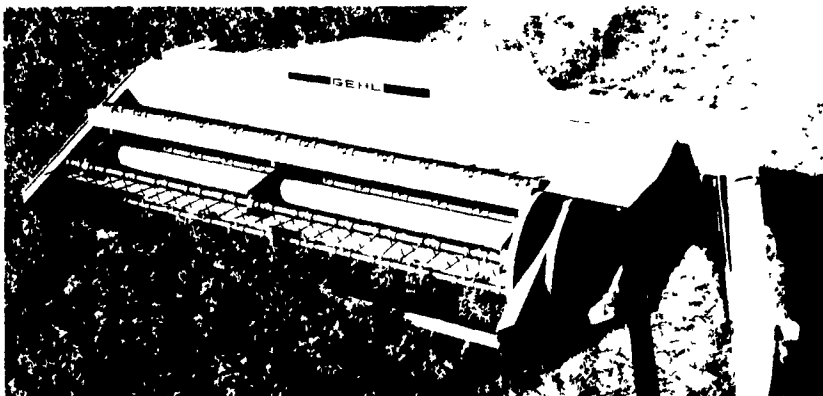

Innovation pays off

Take a look at the newest addition to the Gehl line—the 2170 with a cutting width of 9 ft. 3 in. This pull type mower conditioner is built for fast cutting, fast drying and worry-free performance. The wide intermeshing ribbed rubber rolls with intermittent ribs give you 35% more working edges than continuous ribbed rolls for more thorough conditioning. That means shorter drying time with less leaf damage. Gehl also has a model 2140 with a 7 ft. cutting width.

Cost savings add up

You'll save with the built-in efficiency of a Gehl. The simple pivot arm sickle drive on the 2170 is virtually maintenance free—no costly wobble box to maintain. And the header hugs the ground thanks to the 3 point flotation systems.

Gehl's full line includes two pull type, two swing frame, a self-propelled and three disc mower conditioners. Ask your Gehl dealer for a demonstration and find out why Gehl mower conditioners are today's performance leaders. Gehl Company, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095.

Center-pivot swing-frame mower conditioners deliver big capacity with outstanding maneuverability. Choose from 12 or 14 ft. cutting widths.

Disc mower conditioners feature non-stop cutting and conditioning in the toughest hay crops. Three models range from 7 ft. 9 in. up to 10 ft. 6 in. cutting widths.

Ruth Shows Bucks-Montgomery Hog Champ

4-H members from Bucks and Montgomery counties showed their 4-H pigs to complete their market swine projects at the Bucks and Montgomery County 4-H Swine Show and Sale. It was held at the Quakertown Livestock Auction on July 22, 1987. The show was judged by Bob Mikesell, State College.

Jesse Ruth of Pineville, showed the Grand Champion 4-H Pig, which was also the Bucks County Champion. At the sale, Hatfield

Tom Leidy of Leidy's Meats in Souderton, was the buyer of the Montgomery County Champion shown by Kacy Fisher of Green Lane. Leidy's paid $2.20 per pound for the animal which was also named Reserve Grand Champion overall at the recent Bucks-Montgomery 4-H Swine Show. Kacy is a member of the Montgomery County 4-H Livestock Club.

Southeast Farm Credit of Silverdale, represented by Dean Shollenberger, purchased the Montgomery County Reserve Champion at the recent Bucks-Montgomery 4-H Swine Show and Sale. Shown by Conrad Fisher of Green Lane, the animal bought $1.25 per pound.

Landis Supermarket of Telford, Pa. represented by Ronald Brothers bought the Bucks County Reserve Champion 4-H pig for $1.40/lb. Jenny Ruth, Pineville, showed her pig to win this honor at the Bucks and Montgomery County 4-H Swine Show and Sale.

Hatfield Packing represented by Doug Clemens of Hatfield outbid all contenders to bring home the Grand Champion of the Bucks-Montgomery 4-H Swine Show and Sale held recently at the Quakertown Livestock Auction. Jesse Ruth of Bucks County showed the animal to top honors and received $4.00 per pound.

Packing Co., Hatfield, bought Jesse's pig for the high price of $4 per pound. The Reserve Champion and Montgomery County Champion 4-H pig was shown by Kacy Fisher of Green Lane. It was sold for $2.20 per pound to Leidy's Inc., Souderton. The Bucks County Reserve Champion was shown by Jenny Ruth, Pineville, and Montgomery County Champion was owned by Conrad Fisher, Green Lane. In the Pen of Three competition, Dan Cochran, Trappe, won the Champion and Reserve Champion was awarded to Bill Scott, Pineville.

Livestock buyers were present to buy the 63 4-H pigs sold by 24 4-H members. Ten of these members were from Montgomery County and fourteen from Bucks. The average price of the pigs sold was $.87/lb. Bucks and Montgomery counties have been having their swine show and sale at Quakertown Livestock Auction for over ten years.

Northumberland Twilight Meeting Set

The Northumberland County Conservation District and the Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor a twilight meeting on Tuesday, August 11, from 6:30 to 9:00 PM.

The meeting will begin with an inspection of no-till soybeans and no-till corn demonstration plots from 6:30 to 7:00 PM. The plots were planted by Harold Martz and are located at the Martz Game Farm, two miles west of Pillow. Directional signs leading to the Martz farmstead are posted from Route 225, south of the Line Mountain High School.

Starting at 7:00 PM, the rest of the meeting will be held indoors at the Martz Farm. Presentations will be made by chemical company and agency representatives on a variety of topics.

Mark Boughman, ICI, will speak on controlling problem weeds and Steve Fisher, FMC, will discuss insect control. Workshop participants are encouraged to bring specimens of problem insects to the meeting for identification and discussion of control measures.

Vernon Brose, County Agent, will speak on farm chemical safety. Mark Deibler, Bureau of Forestry, will discuss timber harvesting and woodlot management. George Phillips of the conservation district staff will present a slide program on the results of the conservation district's no-till demonstration plot program. Robert Jacobs of the conservation district staff will speak on the Chesapeake Bay cost-share program.

The meeting has been approved by the Pa. Department of Agriculture as an update training session.

Summertime Tips For Wilting Trees

With the arrival of hot, dry weather, ornamentals with poor root systems may begin to wilt or die back.

"Many mature — and even young — trees and shrubs in this area are showing the effects of extended dry periods and lower than normal winter temperatures over the last five to seven years," says Bob Mulrooney, University of Delaware extension plant pathologist. "These conditions, especially the dry periods, can cause root loss and result in less vigorous trees and shrubs that are more susceptible to disease and insect problems."

If a plant's roots are at the bottom of the problem, Mulrooney has several suggestions on how to correct the situation.

for pesticide certification renewal for private applicators. Private applicators will receive three credits (one core and two subject matter) toward certification renewal.

Refreshments will be provided by the Northumberland County Conservation District. More information on the meeting can be obtained by calling the conservation district office at 988-4224.

"Obviously, deep watering during dry periods is important, as is having a good root environment," he says.

A good root environment includes aerated soil, proper pH and adequate nutrients.

"Compacted soil does not allow for good air exchange between the soil and roots. Roots respire so they need oxygen. Deep core aeration and eliminating heavy use by traffic or parked cars may be needed," he says.

Soil testing is a good idea to help provide the right fertilizer and the correct levels of lime needed to adjust the pH of the soil. Now is not a good time to fertilize — wait until buds begin to break next spring.

Eastern Shore Championship Holstein Winners Named

This year's Eastern Shore Championship Show had more than 90 animals exhibited under the watchful eye of judge Dennis Patrick from western Maryland. The open show held some stiff competition as exhibitors from the 4 county area brought their best winners from their respective county shows, Caroline, Cecil, Kent and Queen Anne's.

Grand Champion of the open show was a very close placing according to judge Patrick. "The reserve grand has the best udder of the show, but the 5 year old cow just has more of what we like to see in a dairy cow," said Patrick. The Steinhaues Pete Sunset owned by Dan and Marlene Vosburg took the top placing of the show. She is sired by Straight-Pine Elevation Pete and was placed over the 3 year old owned by Marion Andrew, Gelland Cyrus Stephanie. These two animals were also the Senior and Reserve Senior champion respectively.

Brett Dulin's Senior Heifer Calf, DU-Hope Sammy Clara, was the Junior Champion of the show

as well as the Junior Champion of the 4-H show and Reserve Grand of the 4-H show. His stylish calf had the strength and potential to be an outstanding cow, said Patrick. She is a Brooks-Twain Valiant Sammy ET daughter. The Reserve Junior Champion of the open show went to the second place Senior calf owned by Pintail Point Farm. Md-Maple-Dell SWD Peppery-ET is a S-W-D Valiant daughter.

The Senior and Grand Champion of the 4-H show went to Sam Davis. Chestnuts Bootsie, a Browndale Sir Christopher daughter, placed over the 5 year old cow owned by Kenny Myers which took the Reserve Senior Champion Rosette. The Reserve Junior champion of the 4-H show went to Audra Debnam from Kent County with her Summer Yearling.

The high production award went to Pintail Point Farm with their Wapa Arlinda Conductor daughter, Modik Conductor Kelda. In 4 years 11 months she had a top record of 29,290M 4.3% 1257F in 305 days.

In the fitting and show classes Laurie Carrion won for first year showman, Brian Schrader for the Juniors, in the Intermediates it was Brett Dulin and Dawn Skinner won for the Seniors. Dawn, from Queen Anne's County, also won the champion showman of the show. As in the past, the show had incorporated a pee-wee showman class with T-Shirts donated from MAMA for prizes. Everyone was a winner as the pint size future farmers proudly paraded their animals around the ring.

STEAM & GAS ENGINE SHOW

August 12, 13, 14, 15, 1987

39th OLD THRESHERMEN'S REUNION

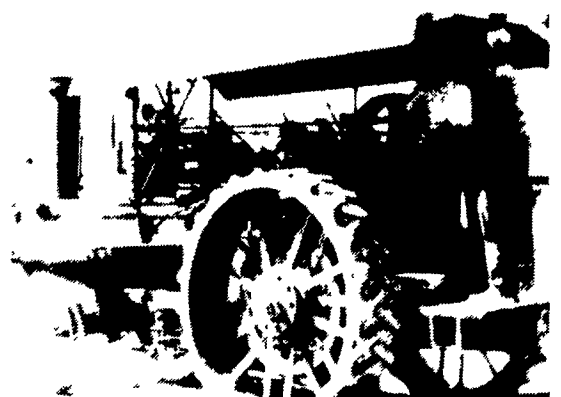

*The Most Complete Show
East Of The Mississippi*

OPEN DAILY: 9 AM - 9 PM

PHONE: (717) 442-4249

ADMISSION: Adults - $3.00

Children 6 to 10 - $1.50

Rough and Tumble is a museum dedicated to preserving equipment powered by several sources and used for everyday tasks in industry and on the farm. During the Threshermen's Reunion everything that will run is demonstrated.

This year's special engine exhibit will highlight the Minneapolis-Moline line of farm machines.

The Parade of Power, a daily event at R & T's reunions, features many early gas-powered engines plus a collection of steam-powered machinery matched nowhere east of the Mississippi River.

A whole building will be devoted to model machinery, running on steam power, and miniature railroad enthusiasts may run their own Guage #1-3/4 " 45 mm steam locomotives on an outside track.

NEW FEATURE

A new feature of this year's reunion will be a children's pedal tractor pull on Thursday evening. Rough and Tumble provides the pedal tractor and the skid, just to keep things even for all participants.

There is an operating saw mill, a shingle mill, and a stone crusher operating on the grounds - all steam powered. Two steam powered trains also operate, one an amusement park miniature, the other a Shay logging locomotive with an added "passenger car". The larger train circles the grounds, going past time-honored craftsmen like the chair caner and the broom maker, past a vast flea market area of homemade items, farm specialties and machinery parts.

EVENING PROGRAMS

WEDNESDAY: Threshing Demonstration And Fiddlin'

THURSDAY: Children's Pedal Tractor Pull And Square Dancing

FRIDAY: Steam And Gas Games And Competition

SATURDAY: Hymn Sing-Along

WE BALANCE RATIONS

I'll bet that every feed salesman who pulls into your farm says that. Most any feed company will send you a feeding schedule. BUT IS IT RIGHT? ? ? Some companies send forages to a central lab which sends back a feeding program. The person doing the program hasn't even seen your farm. Some companies "balance" your program by putting more of their high priced "special" ingredients in your feed. With Purina Mills' feeds there are no gimmicks, just solid nutritional principles. Protein, energy and fiber make milk and butterfat. Minerals and vitamins play a supporting role. To work you a good program the Purina salesman digs for all the facts to balance your program for your farm.

Purina nutrition considers:

- Quality of your forages
- Palatability of your forages
- Feeding sequence
- Number of times grains are fed
- Coarseness of grind
- Total fiber at each level of milk
- Rumen pH
- Condition of your cows
- Butterfat
- Facility limitations
- Moisture in program
- Grouping systems
- Amount of starch carbohydrates
- Minerals and vitamins

Only someone trained in dairy nutrition can uncover all of these facts and help your operation be more successful. Your Purina Dairy Representative is Certified by Purina to have been trained in ways to help you. Let Purina experience work for you in your dairy operation today.

Here is a dairyman who's been willing to change his feeding program with the changing needs of his herd. From 1980 through 1984 he fed a 16% ration using his grain and dairy chow B-38. In early 1985 he started using half Hi-Octaine B-36 and half Dairy Chow B-38 with his grain because of energy demand.

Later in 1985 he then started top dressing Hi-Octaine B-36 to select high producing cows to again meet their energy and protein needs.

In 3 years, the RHA increased 5942# of milk and 143# of fat. Rodger and Dianne follow the Purina program for their heifers also. In March 1987, their 1st calf heifers averaged 17,795# milk while the RHA was 20,004# milk.

The Kennedy's plan to continue making progress with improved genetics and proper nutrition.

According to Rodger, the changes in his program have been well worth the investment. "You don't need records to tell the difference, you can see it from milking the cows."

Dairy of Distinction Supplement to Lancaster Farming, Saturday, August 8, 1987

Congratulations PA Dairy of Distinction Award-Winning Farms

Here's Lancaster Farming's tribute to this grassroots milk promotion and the hundreds of volunteers who made it possible.

Governor Robert P. Casey signed a proclamation declaring August 16-22, 1987, as Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction Week at ceremonies held in Harrisburg Wednesday.

The Pennsylvania dairy industry has joined with the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program to honor the most attractive dairy farms in the state. A national semi-finalist in the federal "Take Pride In America Campaign," the Dairy of Distinction program's goal is to encourage farms that add to the countryside's natural beauty.

Each year the program recognizes no more than 10 dairies from each of the ten designated districts in the state. To receive the honor a farm must apply and satisfy the scrutiny of a panel of judges making a roadside inspection. Each winner will be identified by a roadsign at the entrance stating that the property is a "Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction." In its first year in the state 339 farms have applied for the award.

HARRISBURG

PROCLAMATION

PENNSYLVANIA DAIRY OF DISTINCTION WEEK
AUGUST 16 - 22, 1987

Pennsylvania's beautiful countryside is blessed with thousands of attractive dairy farms. Few sights are more picturesque than the view of a neat home, white barns and tall gleaming silos, complemented by a spacious herd grazing peacefully in an adjoining pasture. Such are the trademarks of a typical Pennsylvania dairy farm, but they are never attained without a great deal of effort.

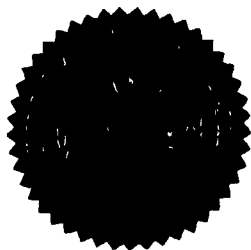

The Commonwealth's 15,000 dairy farmers and their families share an uncommon pride in their industry. They work diligently and put in long hours. Together, they produce milk valued at $1.3 billion annually, ranking Pennsylvania among the nation's leading dairy states.

Another measure of a Pennsylvania dairy farmer's pride is reflected in the appearance of his farm. The Pennsylvania dairy industry has joined the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program, to honor the most attractive dairy farms in the northeastern United States with the Dairy of Distinction Award. An exceptionally large group, 339 farms, have applied for recognition in this, the program's first year in Pennsylvania. No more than 10 dairies from each of the 10 designated districts in the state may be honored in a given year and all farms must satisfy the scrutiny of the judges panel making roadside inspections in each district. Each winner will be identified by a road sign at the entrance identifying the property as a "Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction."

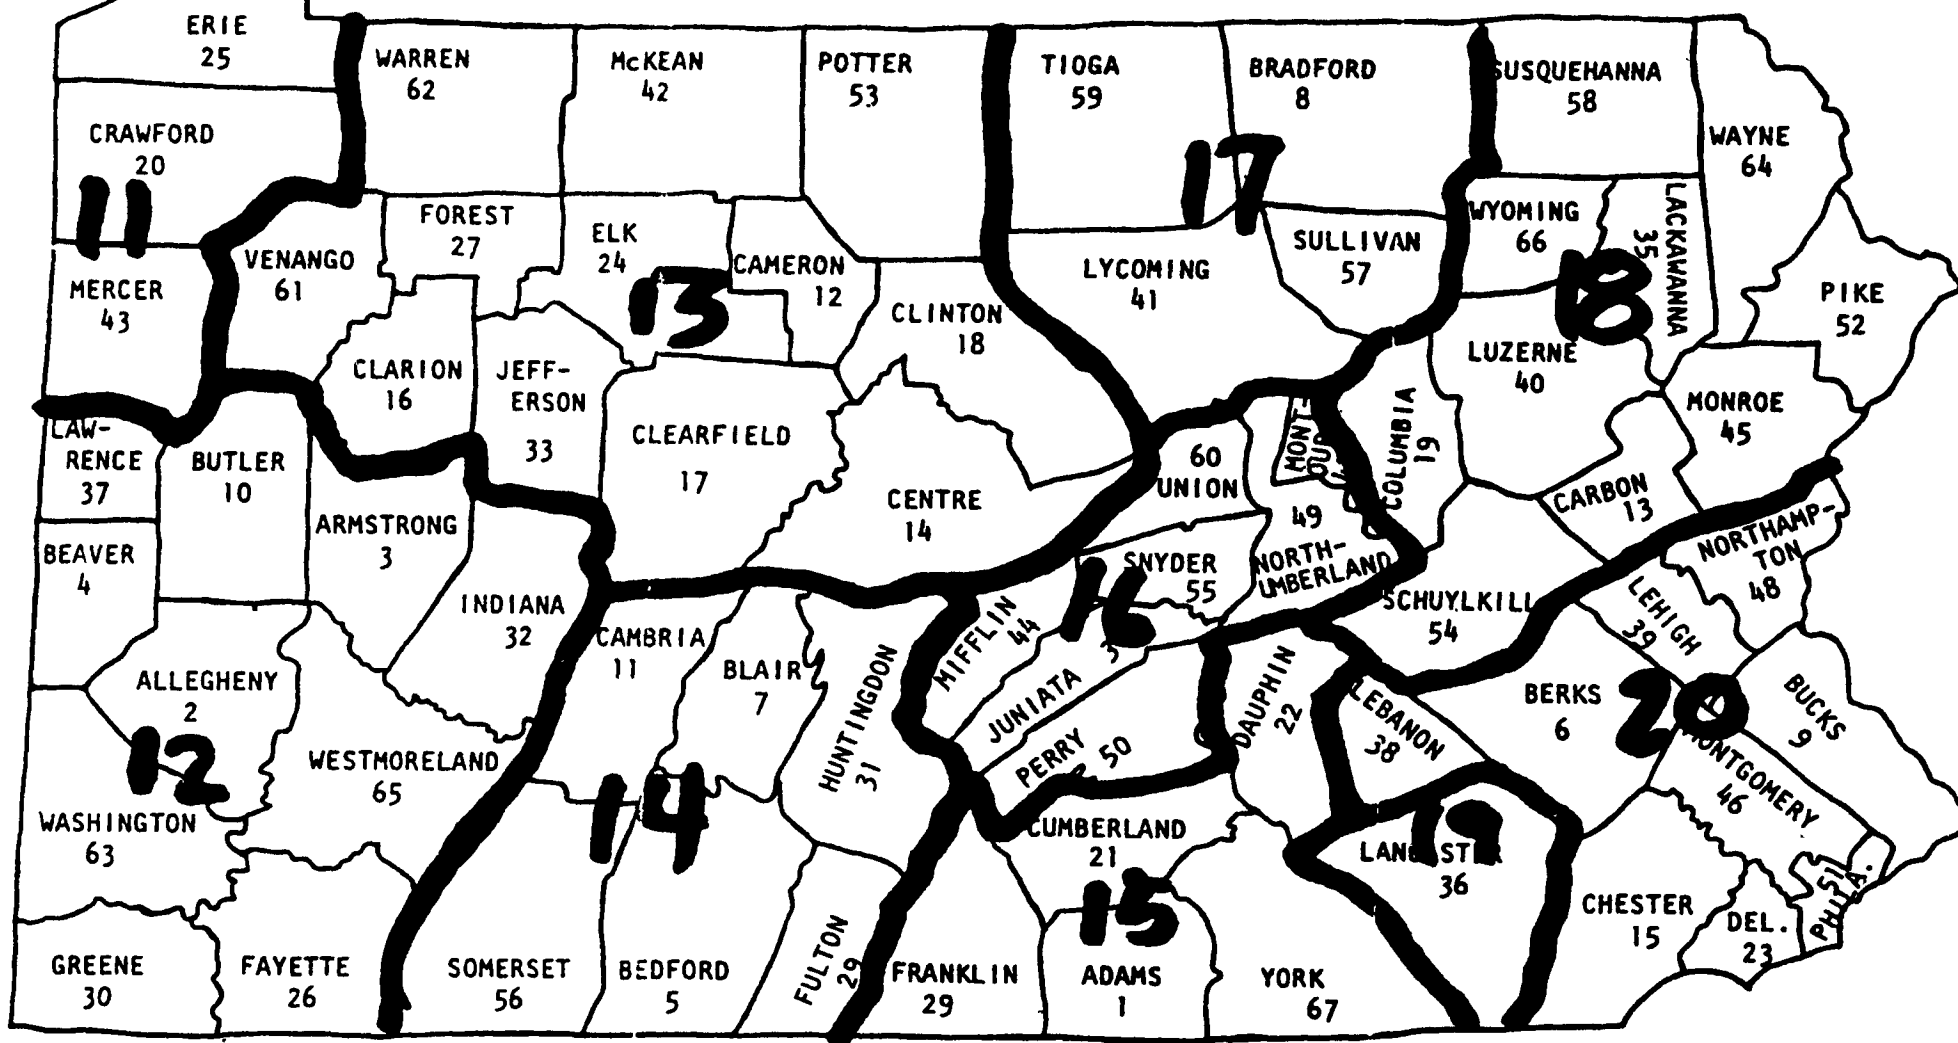

We all take pride in Pennsylvania's scenic countryside. Because the goal of this enterprising program is to add to that natural beauty, it is worthy of support from all Pennsylvanians. In recognition of the need for this support, I, Robert P. Casey, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim August 16-22, 1987 as PENNSYLVANIA DAIRY OF DISTINCTION WEEK. I urge all citizens to take note of our beautiful dairy farms and to strengthen those bonds that unite all farmers and their urban neighbors as citizens of our great state.

GIVEN under my hand and the Seal of the Governor, at the City of Harrisburg, this twenty-second day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Commonwealth the two hundred and eleventh.

NEW

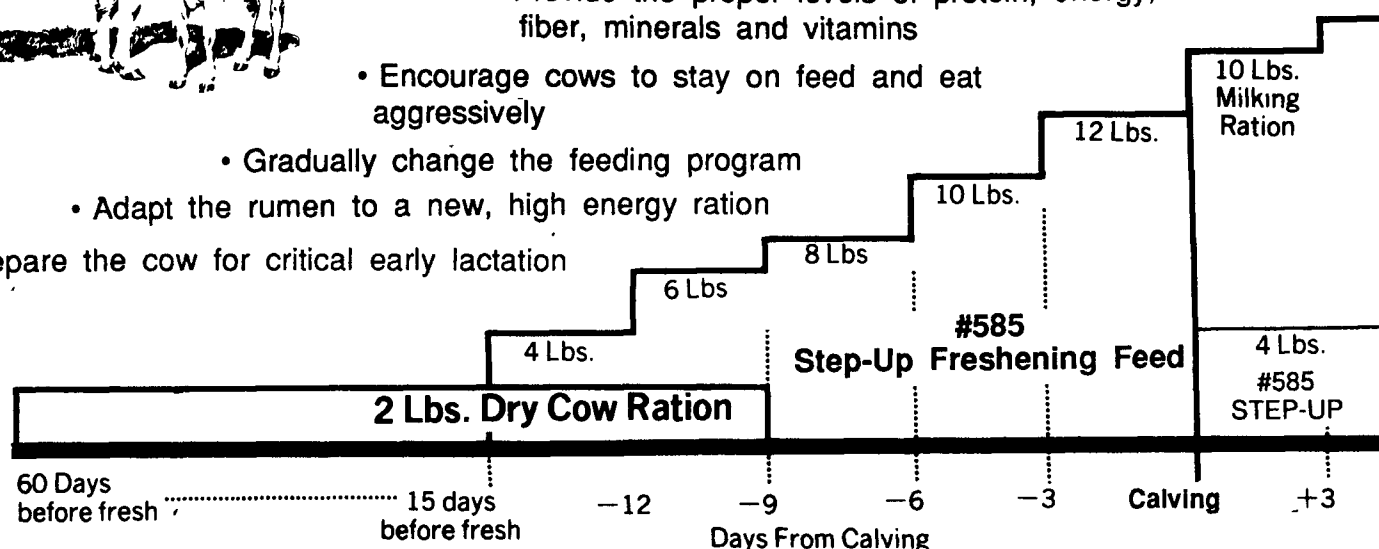

#585 STEP-UP FRESHENING FEED

Pennfield Has Created A New Feed To Accurately And Conveniently Fit Into The Feeding And Management Of The Freshening Dairy Cow...

GOALS

- Reduce stress, minimize health problems before and after freshening
- Provide the proper levels of protein, energy, fiber, minerals and vitamins
- Encourage cows to stay on feed and eat aggressively
- Gradually change the feeding program
- Adapt the rumen to a new, high energy ration
- Prepare the cow for critical early lactation

Whenever possible, a gradual increase in feeding rates is recommended. Follow the feed rates above.

FEATURES

- 12% Protein level
- Gradually degraded fiber from multiple sources
- Controlled Phosphorus & Calcium level
- Concentrated Trace Minerals
- NEW, higher Selenium & Vitamin E amounts
- Added Niacin
- Added B Vitamins & Electrolytes
- Optimum Vitamin A & D levels
- Added Buffers
- Available Zinc from Zinpro (Zinc Methionine)
- Flaked Grains & Molasses
- Protein/Mineral/Vitamins Pelleted Together

BENEFITS

- Provides needed protein without becoming excessive on haylage diets
- Provides energy while reducing acidosis
- Meets needs and avoids excess calcium & milk fever
- Higher levels of important trace minerals ensure proper supply
- NEW, higher maximum Selenium and recommended Vitamin E levels enhance immune system to fight stress (reduce retained placenta and mastitis)
- Amount added has been shown to reduce incidence of subclinical ketosis and keep cows on feed
- Help cattle cope with stresses of feeding program changes and calving
- Maintains healthy body tissues to optimize reproduction, minimize mastitis, improve calcium usage
- Help the transition to the milking ration, reduce acidosis and keep cows on feed
- Active stress fighter reduces foot problems, mastitis and aids immune response
- Improves palatability, encourages cow to keep eating
- Prevents separation and assure cows get uniform amounts of important ingredients

Congratulations to Dairy of Distinction Winners!

For 70 Years We've Helped Farm Families Succeed.

Many families took their first step to successful farming when they stepped into their local Farm Credit office.

They came to us for a loan to buy the land and build the house and raise the barn.

As farms are passed on from generation to generation, many of them grow into family corporations.

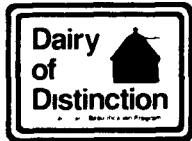

And Farm Credit remains a part of the picture. With loans to help plant the seeds and harvest the crops. Or buy more land for future generations.

There's a very good reason why we want farmers to prosper. It's because we're farmers, too. The Farm Credit System is owned and controlled by the farmers who use it.

So the next time you need a loan, look up the family member who isn't in the photographs you see here.

DAIRY OF DISTINCTION...

Dan "Dairy of Distinction! That's a neat sign you have there."

Dale "Yes, we dairy farmers have to do what we can to get people to drink more milk."

Dan "Is that sign supposed to help?"

Dale "Well, it's part of the Dairy Farm Beautification Program. The goal is to have every dairy farm try to have a good appearance."

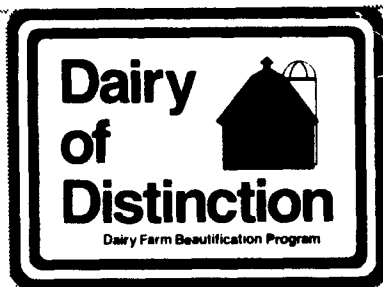

Dan "You mean like planting roses at the mailbox and pansies at the downspout?"

Dale "Well, that all helps. The idea is that when people drive down the highway and see a pretty dairy farm, it will encourage them to have a good, cold glass of milk with their next meal."

Dan "I guess that's better than seeing a tumbled down place with barn doors falling off, broken window panes and cows standing knee deep in a mudhole."

Dale "I would think so! If every dairy farmer tries to make his farmstead and cows look clean and attractive, he is helping to encourage everybody to drink more milk!"

PROTEK™
The new technology in protein efficiency.

When you can reduce protein in the milking ration by 15 to 20 percent while maintaining milk production, that's efficiency! And that's exactly what new ProTek™ feeding is all about.

This new technology of protein treatment can greatly improve protein utilization by dairy cows. And do it consistently. That's because ProTek is a unique new process rather than just another reformulation of protein sources. It's an exclusive process developed by Central Soya Research.

Your Beautiful Farms are a Credit to the Dairy Industry.
Thanks and Congratulations on Your Achievement.

We offer a choice selection of grade and purebred heifers and cows from the finest herds available. Both our farms welcome private sales daily. Our sale date at Lancaster is the first Thursday of every month. The Woodsboro, Md. farm sells the third Thursday of every month. Our speciality is fancy springing grade heifers. We conduct dispersals and will sell your herd privately or on your farm.
